The Bluesheet Begins 15th Year

Sight-Unseen Market Very Selective

The certified rare coin market escaped the Y2K bug without a hitch. For coin dealers, Y2K is just another date to collect. There appears to be greater expectations by dealers about the future of electronic trading. The Internet and improving communications capabilities are changing how we buy and sell rare coins. More and more independent dealers are now online with their own websites and access to a whole new batch of sophisticated collector/investors. The website inventory listings are generally dominated by certified rare coins. Collectors gain an advantage. They are able to find the dates they need without traveling to far away coin shows.

There is very strong demand for General Services Administration Morgan Dollars as we begin the new year. This demand is a continuation of what took place during the latter half of 1999. Dealers are offering bold Bids for the scarce Carson City GSA Dollars. The interest is especially noticeable for 1879-CC, 1890-CC and 1891-CC. Dealers are trying to buy quantities of these rare "CC" Mints and are willing to pay sharp increases above the previously high Bids in order to be successful. Consequently, the 1890-CC increased $125 to $950 while the 1891-CC jumped to $925 from $775. Interest continues for the high-priced 1879-CC issue. Dealers are willing to pay $2,650 for any example. However, those 1879-CC Dollars grading MS63 or better in GSA holders can command an even greater amount. Dates such as 1878-CC, 1880-CC, 1881-CC and 1885-CC are stable to slightly increasing in value. The only weakness noted this period is among the most common GSA Dollars. The 1882-CC thru 1884-CC's are a bit sluggish with sufficient quantities available for sale. Therefore, we see some of these issues declining, although the spread is narrowing.

ANACS issues are relatively quiet this week after strong gains during our last update. There are some plus signs in the Proof Type category. Flying Eagle Cents benefited the most as dealers increased Bid for PR63 thru PR65 issues. Increases were also evident among Liberty Nickels and No Motto Liberty Seated Quarters. However, there was some weakness seen with ANACS and PCI Gold Type. This softness is directly and indirectly related to the weak Gold bullion spot prices on the world markets. Gold and Silver bullion are floundering at low levels and have not lived up to many analysts' expectations.

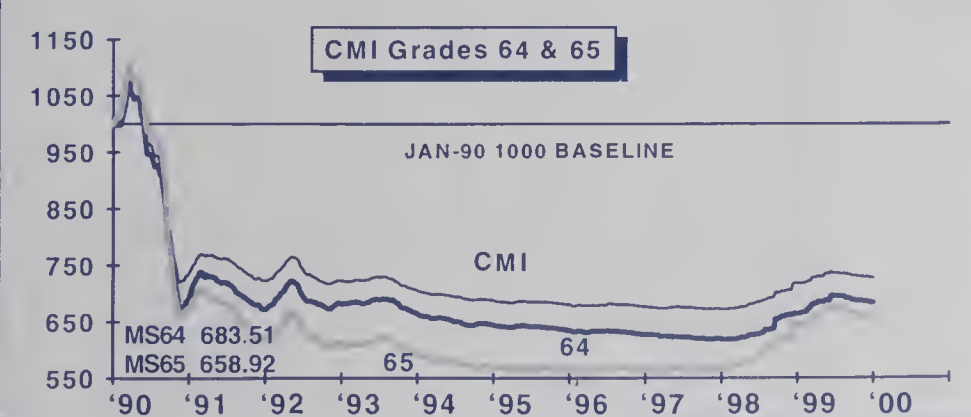

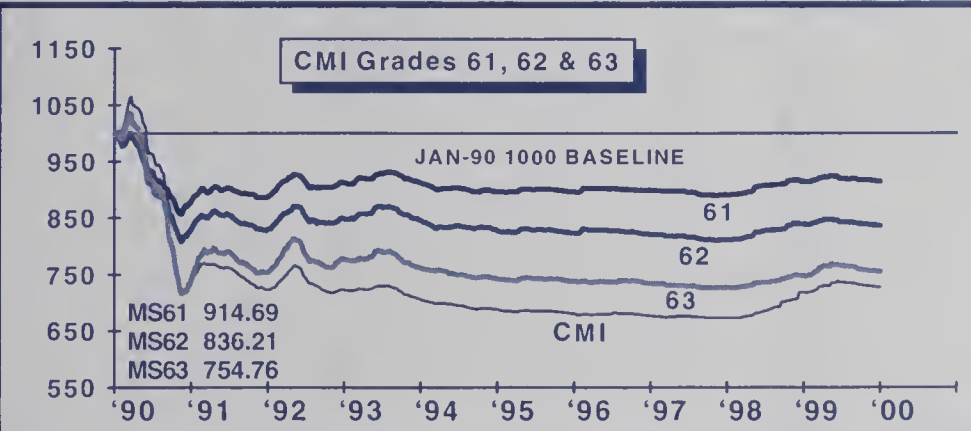

Silver Commemoratives are beginning the new year in the minus. There are several minus signs sprinkled throughout the long Commemorative series. The grades that are suffering the most include MS65 and MS66. There are a few plus signs, but those are the exceptions. However, the Isabella Quarter continues to attract Bidders at the lower Mint State grades. Plus signs are present in MS61, MS62 and MS63 for PCGS and NGC certified rare coins. Morgan Dollars are mixed. We see a number of plus and minus signs. Common dates seem to have stabilized with some plus signs creeping back in select MS64 and MS66 issues. Key and semi-key dates are still holding their own at current levels. Dealers still report that they have a number of customers working on complete sets of Morgan Dollars. Peace Dollars are mixed. Scattered minus signs are seen among some PCGS dates while a few plus signs are occurring on the NGC side of the Peace series. PCGS Peace Dollar common dates are lower in MS66 but higher for NGC MS66. The gap appears to be narrowing.

Gold is a mixed bag. Weak Gold bullion prices may have helped to suppress some of the enthusiasm for select coins. Minus signs are appearing in several issues. Still, select dates and denominations are holding their own with a few plus signs scattered about.

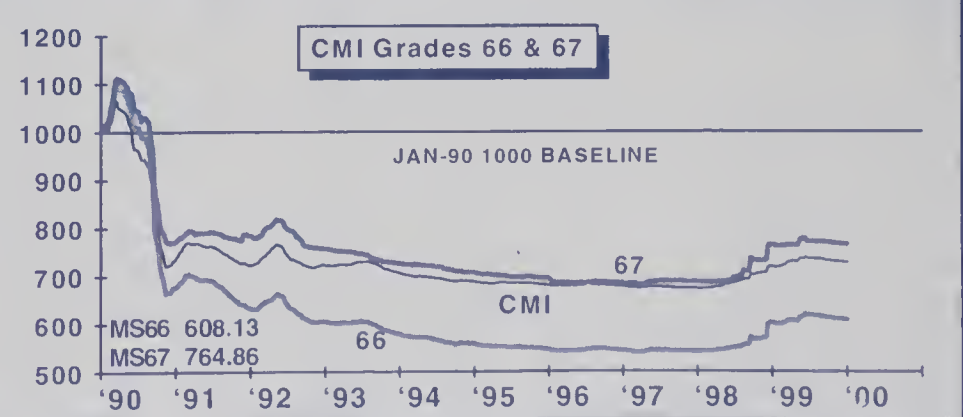

As the year 2000 began with celebrations taking place around the world, the Bluesheet has begun its own milestone. The Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter begins its 15th year. Throughout its existence, the Bluesheet has reported sight-unseen Bids of certified rare coins. The sight-unseen market is growing as the past year produced some record sight-unseen transactions. Looking back depicts just how much population numbers have changed the market.

2000 Begins With Auctions And FUN Sight-Unseen Market Mixed

The Fun show, held January 5-9, was the first major rare coin show of 2000. According to several dealers in attendance, coins were readily selling. Collectors who pursued selected items from dealers' showcases on Thursday and Friday were eager to commit on Saturday. The activity level and buying increased by Saturday to complete a very successful Florida United Numismatists show in Orlando. Most dealers' only complaint was that there just was not enough fresh material to meet the demand. Dealers buy coins to satisfy their customer want lists as well as their inventory needs. Bust coinage and coins with exceptional eye appeal of all denominations were the main target of this selective demand. Dealers unable to fill all their needs for their customers and inventories, return to other avenues to buy coins. The electronic dealer trading networks, Internet auctions, and store fronts are a few of the avenues that dealers use to buy and sell rare coins.

The sight-unseen market is beginning the year mixed. There is a fair amount of activity taking place, and dealers are generally encouraged with the results of their transactions. This is activity that has been seen during the first two weeks of January. The usual "nuts and bolts" of rare coins are trading. Mint State Type, Proof Type, Mercury Dimes, Morgan Dollars; Peace Dollars and Gold tend to dominate the trades. Sight-unseen trades of note include a PCGS MS65 Barber Half Dollar at $1,800; a PCGS PR65 Shield Nickel for $480; an NGC MS63 1861 Gold Dollar for $600; and a PCGS MS65 Type 2 3-Cent Silver for $2,400.

Beyond these transactions, many dealers are posting a good number of supporting Bids for coins. The need for coins seems to be increasing as the demand stays strong. However, there are areas of weakness. As was the case at the FUN show, some Morgan Dollars are being discounted. Lower auction prices have forced down some prices. It is important to keep in mind that Dollars that are above average for the grade are realizing strong Bids. Still, the number of minus signs seen across the chart is clearly evident. Better date MS65 examples as well as some MS64 DMPL issues are declining. Peace Dollars are losing ground as well.

The better date Washington Quarters chart is sporting some plus signs. Interest has been strong for Washington Quarters leading up to, and since the release of the Circulating State Quarter series. Brilliant Uncirculated Roll Bid is up throughout the Washington Quarter series. Dealers were facing strong collector demand for Quarters throughout 1999, and now in 2000, this trend is continuing. Consequently, they are looking to buy certified Quarters in the sight-unseen market.

Proof Gold weakened in early January. Proof Gold is usually found at public auctions, and two early January public auctions had their fair share. Amazingly, $4 Stellas were found in abundance, that is for Stellas. This was true of the Flowing Hair variety as well as the much scarcer Coiled Hair example of 1879 and 1880. Minus signs scattered about in our Proof Gold section reflect the general weakness in this segment of the market.

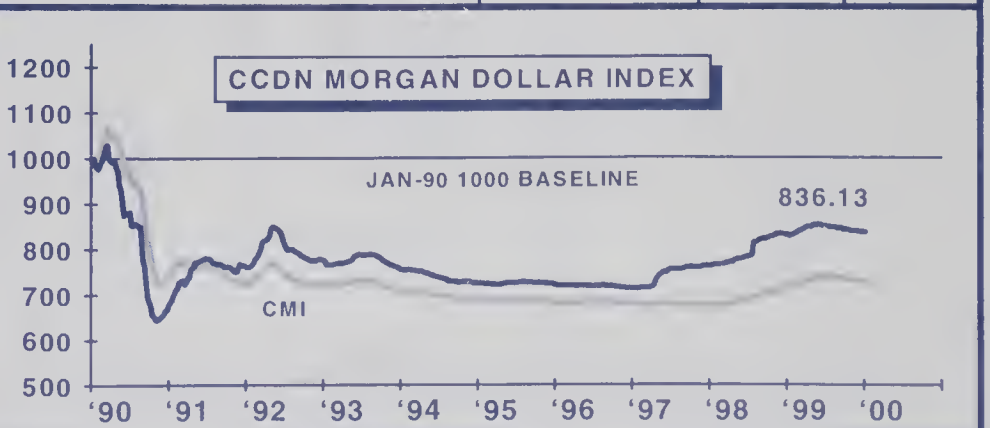

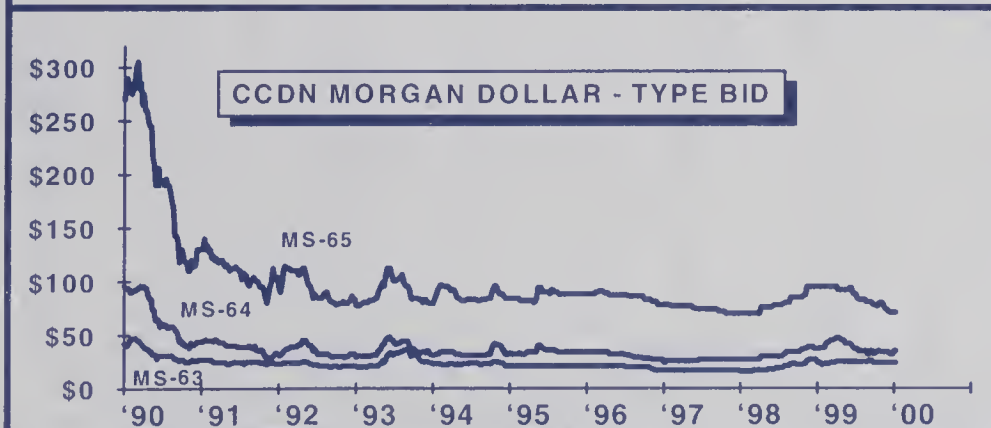

The Rarities Sale, conducted by Bowers and Merena, featured 500 lots and realized more than $2.47 million. The January 4 sale in Orlando is the first major rare coin auction of the new year. We have included a few of the many certified highlights from that auction.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest national reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER

Isabella, Lewis & Clark Commems Active Saint-Gaudens Strong In January

The market for sight-unseen coins is steady to fairly active. We see strong, supporting Bids for many coins of all dates and denominations. Activity is certainly evident in the $20 Saint-Gaudens series. Remember, "activity" can represent increased Bids, lowered asks, and completed transactions taking place at unchanged levels. An increase is seen for MS62 common date Saints. The increase in MS62 is very slight, and is seen in PCGS and NGC certified dates. Another slight increase may be found for NGC MS63 common dates. High Relief Saints are also realizing continued sight-unseen Bidding. There is a small increase for a PCGS MS65 High Relief this week. We still see a powerful sight-unseen Bid of $77,000 for an MS67 High Relief. There are also some minus signs sprinkled in the Saint chart. Declines are among select common date PCGS MS65 issues. The highest Bid we see is at $750, down from $780. We do see that NGC MS65 common date issues are up to the same level as PCGS. However, NGC MS64 common dates declined slightly in MS64 to $500. Besides those common dates, a few decreases are found with 1907; 1908 No Motto; 1909-S; 1910-D; 1923-D; and 1925-D. Overall, strong Bidding by dealers continues to chase these popular and expensive Saints.

Weakness is appearing among select Standing Liberty Quarters. Common date issues are slightly down in MS65 Full Head. Demand for Standing Liberty Quarters is generally stable at current levels. We know that select outstanding specimens are realizing strong prices. Some declines are seen this week for a few common MS65FH and better dates. Since the new year, several dates in high grade have traded at public auction at discounted levels.

For example, a Type 1 favorite, 1917 in MS67 traded at $4,400, down from a previously high sight-unseen Bid of $4,800. Otherwise, Bids have been steady for most dates and grades throughout the relatively short series.

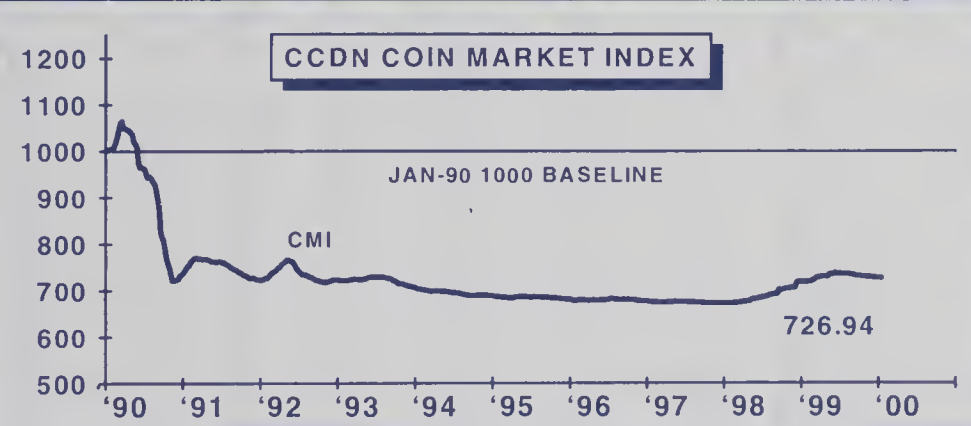

Promotions are very much a part of the rare coin business, and usually affect the values of rare coins. Promotions can be the catalyst for sharp increases. Currently, the popularity and publicity surrounding the Circulating Commemorative State Quarter program has given dealers new promotional ideas. The initial United States official Commemorative, the 1893 Isabella Quarter, is a nice addition to any new collector of the state Washington Quarters. It is reasonably priced and available in quantities sufficient enough for marketing purposes. Consequently, dealers have been actively pursuing the Isabella Quarter. Sight-Unseen Bids have increased over the past year for Isabella Quarters in nearly all grades from MS61 thru MS64. However, at the MS65 and above level, prices have remained the same or even declined. It is becoming obvious that dealers want to market a coin at or below $1,000, and hesitate to put together packages above the $2,000 level. The chart depicts the dramatic changes in sight-unseen Bids in only a single year.

A similar promotion has targeted the 1904 and 1905 Lewis & Clark Exposition $1 Gold Commemoratives. However, the chart shows that more financially secure collector/investors are being targeted. This has occurred because of the anticipated release of the 2000 Sacagawea Dollar at the end of this month. The golden colored coin is anticipated to be a popular one. Consequently, dealers are putting together sets of the Gold Lewis & Clark Exposition Commem Dollars with the new Sacagawea Dollar. Our chart indicates how prices changed since January 22, 1999, for the 1904 and 1905 Lewis & Clark Commem Dollar.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The virtue of toned coins

While the debate over the value of toned coins is a perennial one, it is one that is often misunderstood. The value of a coin is not determined by its color, but by its condition. A coin that is well-preserved and has a natural patina is more valuable than a coin that is heavily worn and has a dark, uneven patina. The value of a coin is also determined by its rarity and its historical significance. A coin that is rare and has a significant historical background is more valuable than a common coin, regardless of its condition.

Coins of Toned Coins

Mark Goldberg

The most basic debate in the coin world is the debate over the value of toned coins. The value of a coin is not determined by its color, but by its condition. A coin that is well-preserved and has a natural patina is more valuable than a coin that is heavily worn and has a dark, uneven patina. The value of a coin is also determined by its rarity and its historical significance. A coin that is rare and has a significant historical background is more valuable than a common coin, regardless of its condition.

In other areas of collectibles, the value of natural toning is widely understood. In fact, experts in antique furniture frequently value the patina of such objects. Even collectors of toy trains or model airplanes will agree that the original surfaces of a collectible item, no matter what its condition, are more desirable than any that attempt to replicate its appearance when new.

It is not surprising that persons who collect coins will consider a shiny example to be more appealing than one that appears aged. I suppose we all buy our first coin acquisitions before placing them in our Whitman folders, but time and experience soon teach us that this is not the thing to do with coins. So then why do collectors still resist toned coins, even when such pieces are so revered by experienced numismatists?

I believe the answer lies in the fact that some collectors and dealers perceive toning as a form of damage. Also many are unable to distinguish original toning from so-called artificial toning, and that induces both suspicion and fear. Yes, people do create toning on otherwise white coins for a variety of reasons. Sometimes, it is simply to make the piece more attractive. It is simply to also times when it is done to conceal harsh cleaning or flaws in the coin such as hairline scratches or repairs. The fear of unknowingly acquiring these deceptive pieces seems to be behind the resistance many collectors and dealers have toward toned coins.

That is where certification makes the difference. While the originality of a coin's color can be subjective, the experts at the various grading services usually know the difference between a naturally toned, original coin and one that has been altered in any way. Believe me, when it comes to doctored coins, we've seen nearly everything, and that has only reinforced our appreciation of vice-original pieces. While encapsulated coins may not appeal to all collectors, no one is saying you can't buy such coins for the assurance they offer, and simply remove them from their holders. It is certainly better to have to rely on limited experience to determine whether a coin has a shady past.

While a coin that has very dark or otherwise unattractive toning may actually be improved by a skillful, honest dipping to remove the unsightly tarnish, many pieces are harmed through improper dipping. This is especially true when the work is being

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general.

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm. You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service. Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Certified Coin Exchange is now on the Internet

<http://www.certifiedcoinexchange.com/>

Since 1990, The Certified Coin Exchange (CCE) has been a key intermediary in US certified rare coin trading between major coin dealers in the United States. Until recently, the only way to trade on CCE was to have a satellite dish and a dedicated PC. This is now changed.

CCE is now introducing an Internet based trading system, CCE-Internet. Now, Member Firms may place bid and ask prices, execute trades and do all other functions via an Internet browser (MSIE or Netscape 3.0 or above) from their office, a hotel room; or a show.

Currently there are over 45,000 bid and ask prices on CCE, and live trading occurs electronically between 12:00 and 5:00 Eastern Time. Bids/Asks are posted for PCGS, NGC, ANACS and IGC certified graded coins. There are over 90 Member Firms who have the capability to place bid/ask prices and to execute trades against these prices. Over 150 more Associate Members subscribe to view CCE prices and either trade based on these prices with other dealers, or propose transactions to the Member Firms who are posting these prices

You can be a part of this exciting marketplace and buy coins at your bid price. Also, when you are buying from the public, you can do so with confidence that you can sell to other bidding CCE Member Firms on the Certified Coin Exchange.

Why be a CCE Member firm?

1. You can make a market in coins by bidding on the Exchange
2. You can buy coins at your bid
3. You can sell to other CCE Member Firms under CCE rules
4. You can buy and sell on the open FACTS message traffic system
5. You can view or make a competitive bullion market
6. Just one trade can pay for the service for the whole month!

You can join National Gold Exchange, U.S. Coins, Heritage Rare Coin Galleries, Superior Stamp and Coin, Wayne Miller and over 300 of the top dealers in the United States on the Certified Coin Exchange.

Strong Demand For Dollars

Finest Bronze 1943-S Lincoln Cent On Auction Block

Strong interest for Morgan Dollars is evident this week in the sight-unseen market. Dealers are increasing their Bids for a variety of dates throughout the series. The activity is especially noticeable for NGC Morgan Dollars, though the increases in many cases are slight. We know the Morgan Dollar series continues to be very popular with collectors. Dealers tell us many of their customers are working on various sets of Dollars of one kind or another. Some look to complete the Carson City run while others choose the challenge of the entire set by date and Mint. The key to completing any set is contingent on the grade level of the coins, the financial health of the collector and the amount of patience he or she exercises.

A number of increases are seen among the Carson City dates, from 1878 thru 1893. (Only the elusive key dates — 1879, 1879 Capped Die and 1889 — remained relatively quiet.) Along with this demand is a strong number of supporting Bids for these coins. Even though Bids have increased, dealers are finding it difficult to acquire coins. Still, they are hopeful that they will be successful in their efforts. Carson City Dollars are relatively available in Uncirculated condition, but there are many collectors from the existing and growing collector base that are chasing these Cartwheels.

Increases for NGC Dollars are seen in all the Mint State grades. A particularly strong concentration is easily observed in the MS61 thru MS64 grades. Besides Carson City, advances are taking place for select Philadelphia, San Francisco and New Orleans Mint Dollars. Also, common date NGC Morgan Dollars gained ground this week. Increases are seen for MS66 and MS67 examples. The common dates are mixed for PCGS graded coins. There are increases for MS66, but some decreases for MS63, MS65 and MS67 examples.

Peace Dollars are comparatively quiet compared to Morgans. You may notice that some common date Philadelphia Mint issues dropped a bit in MS66. However, a couple of MS65 dates display increases. Overall, there is strong support for both Dollar series.

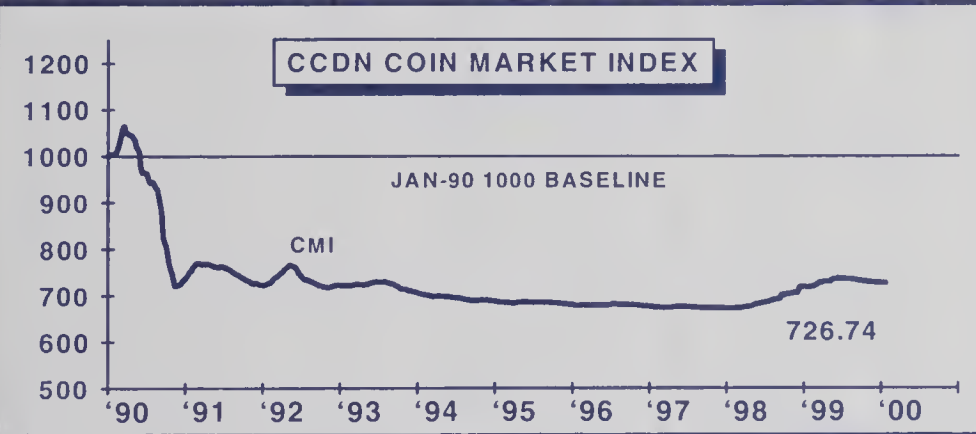

Silver and Gold Commemoratives are fairly active this week. Among the Silver issues, the Isabella Quarter continues to gain ground in MS61 thru MS63, though we do see some discounting taking place for other issues in MS65 and better grades. Gold Commems are mostly stable with a few Lewis & Clark issues increasing. Gold Type is weaker this week. Mint State Type has some discounting taking place, but many issues are realizing supporting Bids at current levels.

On February 6-8, a public auction featuring U.S. coins and currency will take place in Los Angeles. This is part I of a sale featuring the Dr. Jon Kardatzke collection. The auction is being conducted by Ira and Larry Goldberg Coins and Collectibles. We have included some of the many certified highlights from that auction. Among them is the finest of an estimated 6 known 1943-S Bronze Lincoln Cent. This specimen is the only known Uncirculated example of this famous 20th century error. It is the highest graded by any professional grading service.

It has been a long-standing objective with many dealers to find coins for their customers that represent good value. They believe it is not necessary to buy the most expensive coin to achieve this goal. Since numerous variables are considered to determine whether or not a coin represents an excellent value, the coins that grade less than Gem can also qualify. Price, condition, popularity and future demand are all important ingredients of this equation. Dealers have been buying Dollars, Silver and Gold Commemoratives, Type, and Gold in the sight-unseen market. These coins are in strong demand with collector/investors, and therefore trade regularly on a sight-unseen basis. Dealers are usually satisfied with their purchases. Mostly, the coins that trade do so in a range from $25-$5,000. We do see five-figure transactions, but that is definitely the exception.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or benefit that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

Treasure On Display At Long Beach GSA and Peace Dollars Trading Up

The Long Beach Coin and Collectibles Expo will be the main focus for many dealers in February, since it is usually the most active of the three Long Beach Shows held each year. This is definitely one of the most significant rare coin shows in the country. This year's expo, held at the Long Beach Convention Center in Southern California, begins with dealer set-up February 9. The public will be in attendance February 10-13. Dealers mainly attend this show for the opportunity to buy fresh material for customers and inventories. It is also common to see dealers selling coins that have been stagnant. Dealers like to keep their inventories fresh, so they want to turn over their material as often as possible. One of the best places to buy rare coins is at auction. Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc. will conduct the Long Beach, February 2000 Signature Auction on February 10-11, and the Bullet Auction February 12.

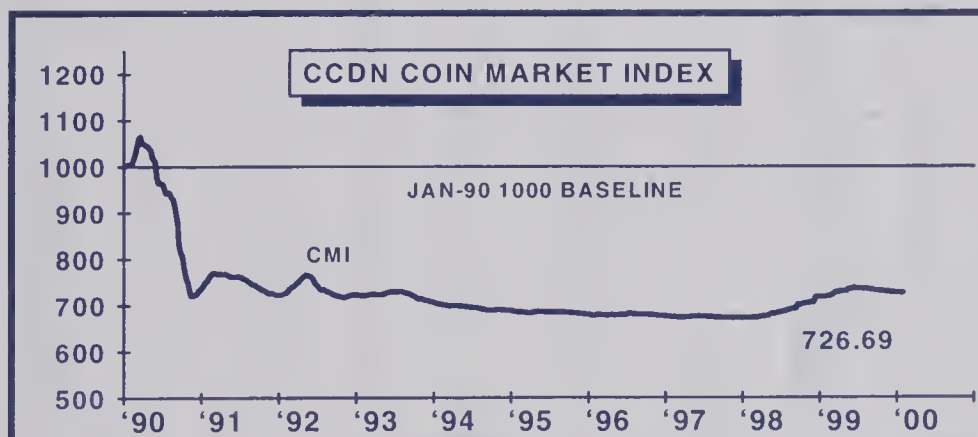

This Long Beach Expo will also allow dealers to view, many for the first time, the treasure coins recovered from the shipwreck of the SS Central America. A hurricane in the late summer of 1857 caused the ship to sink in the Atlantic Ocean off the Carolina coast. Most, or 92.4 percent, of the gold treasure has been bought by majority owners John Albanese and Dwight Manley, who have teamed up with other owners Ira Goldberg, Larry Goldberg and Q. David Bowers to form the California Gold Group. They plan to display a portion of the treasure in an elaborate replica of the ship's hull. Dealers will be interested in the quality of the Liberty Double Eagles as well as the rarity of the coins and the numismatically important pioneer gold bars.

As well as viewing the recovered Gold at the Long Beach Expo, dealers and the general public will have a chance to bid on the first graded coin from the treasure — a PCGS MS65 1857-S Double Eagle. This bidding will not be taking place on an auction floor, though; it will happen on eBay, February 11. Internet auctions are becoming more and more popular in the field of numismatics, so it is no wonder that eBay would somehow be involved in the sale of this most notable discovery of Gold.

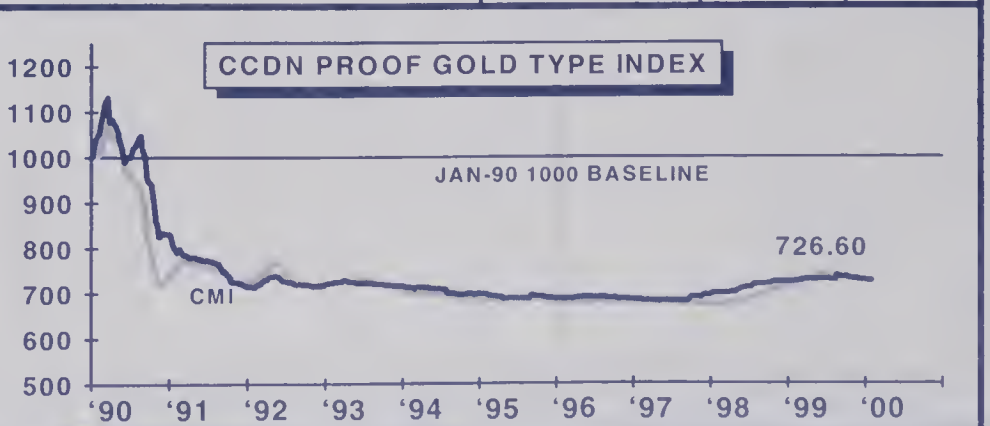

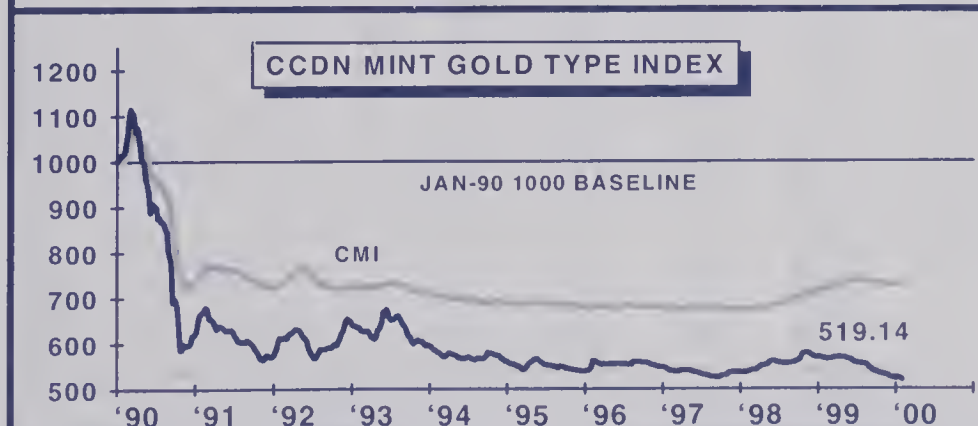

Demand and collector interest continue to be very strong for the General Services Administration Carson City Morgan Dollars. The demand is especially strong for the key dates found in GSA holders. The GSA 1879-CC Morgan Dollar is now receiving a sight-unseen Bid of $2,800. This date has been climbing nearly every month. Dealers tell us that it is still in short supply and unable to satisfy the demand at current levels. If possible, dealers are even willing to buy small quantities of this elusive date. Unfortunately, even small quantities seem to be unavailable. Interest is equally strong for the last two Carson City dates issued in GSA holders, 1890-CC and 1891-CC. Both of these dates are badly needed by dealers, and both are trading at approximately the same level. We even see one dealer willing to pay $1,000 each for MS63 plus examples, of course in their GSA holders. Other GSA dates, such as 1878-CC, 1880-CC, 1881-CC and 1885-CC, are realizing steady demand. There are many dealers posting supporting Bids for these GSA dates. The only weakness that we can detect is with the common 1882-CC thru 1884-CC issues. Although these are not increasing, Bidders are consistently out there looking for these GSA Morgans. It is also important to note that the spread between the Bid and Ask has narrowed for many of the GSA issues. Activity is taking place.

Elsewhere in the sight-unseen market, Silver Commemoratives are relatively quiet. However, interest and demand for State Quarters are partly responsible for the increases we see in the 1893 Isabella Quarter in MS61 thru MS63. Gold Commemoratives are generally stable at current levels. Morgan and Peace Dollars continue to be one of the most active segments of the sight-unseen market. There are many plus signs for NGC Morgan Dollars for select dates after 1898. Peace Dollars are also generating many plus signs this week. Mint State and Proof Type are realizing steady Bids at current levels. Weakness is especially noticeable among Gold Type with several minus signs appearing. However, select Gold in MS65 and better condition are stronger this week. The $2.50, $5, $10 and $20 denominations are sporting the plus signs. Buffalo Nickels, Mercury Dimes and Walking Liberty Half Dollars are receiving supporting Bids in quiet trading. Dealers are interested in buying select dates for inventory when they are presented with opportunities.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Treasure Coins Surface At Long Beach Beverly Hills Auction Companies Bring In $5.4 Million

The rare coin market has had an interesting beginning for the first six weeks of the year 2000. Most of the series and categories we track are hovering near their 1999 closing figures. There is great potential for the future. Interest in and public awareness of coins and the hobby of collecting have received a boost from the Mint's 50 State Quarter program. In turn, this popularity has translated into children filling albums specially created for the new Quarters. This increased interest also has some new collectors building complete sets of Washington Quarters, and it does not end there. The price of Gold and Silver bullion is trading at attractive levels, even after the most recent jump. Meanwhile, the country is still enjoying a booming economy, making it easy for new collectors and longtime idle collectors to take advantage of the bargain prices in coins.

Double Eagles dated 1857-S from the S.S. Central America shipwreck are beginning to enter the market. PCGS has graded and encapsulated the coins in special holders bearing a gold foil label and pedigree. Approximately 5,000 to 5,200 1857-S $20 Liberties were recovered from the ocean depths. The grades of these coins range from XF to Gem, according to Dwight Manley of the California Gold Group. Some of this recovered treasure is on display now at the Long Beach Expo.

Increased collector demand translates to added pressure to satisfy this demand. Dealers are finding it more difficult to maintain an inventory that is considered to be desirable. Meeting the current demands means doing whatever it takes to locate and buy the right coins. It is in this kind of atmosphere that the sight-unseen market for certified rare coins really seems to thrive. Bids for specific dates and denominations are becoming more and more aggressive.

There are many more supporting Bids as well as increased Bids for a wide range and variety of rare coins. Looking at this week's Morgan Dollar market, Bids are both numerous and higher. The chart indicates many plus signs for both PCGS and NGC Dollars. Carson City Dollars is one area that has received tremendous Bidding and support. Dealers know that many collectors are interested in this short-lived Branch Mint. We see quite a bit of activity for MS63 thru MS65 graded Morgans. Prooflike Morgans are also realizing steady, sight-unseen Bidding at current levels, and we are seeing some plus signs for select PL Carson City dates.

The market for Washington Quarters is realizing strong demand at current levels. Plus signs are appearing in the lower Mint State grades. A similar comparison can be made for Matte Proof Lincoln Cents. Dealers seem content to post supporting Bids for most dates in Proof 61 thru Proof 67. There is strong collector demand for Matte Proof Lincoln Cents and also strong dealer demand for these dates slated for date sets. Demand for Matte Proof Buffalo Nickels is present, but not as strong as we see for Lincoln Cents.

The Pre-Long Beach Sale of U.S. Coinage, conducted by Superior Galleries, realized more than $3.159 million. The February 7-8 auction was held in Beverly Hills, CA. It featured the March Wells collection of Middle Date Large Cents along with the DAN collection of American Classical Rarities. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights from that sale.

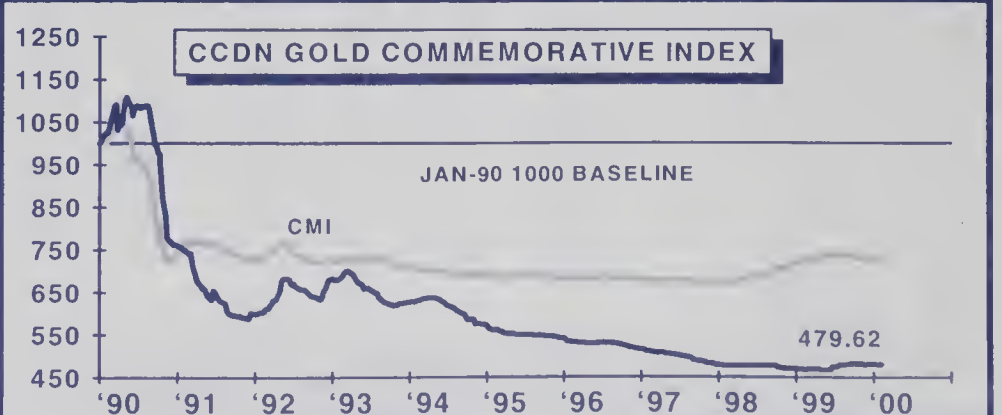

The Dr. Jon Kardatzke collection was featured during the February 6-8 auction by Ira and Larry Goldberg Coins and Collectibles. The sale realized more than $2.242 million. The sale took place in Los Angeles, CA. We have listed some of the many certified highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

COMMEMORATIVES															Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

MORGAN DOLLARS

PCGS DMPL and NGC DPL Bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. Bids for PCGS PL and NGC PL dollars will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet) Bids have always represented fully, deep mirror prooflike specimens.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963) newsletter

Vol. XV No. 7 February 18, 2000 Single copy price $4.00

Sight-Unseen Market Mixed Full Head Quarters Auctioned

The sight-unseen market has begun to show some weakness. Overall, Bids have softened with price declines taking place throughout many series and denominations, especially for the Standing Liberty Quarter series. In large part, this discounting has come about from the huge "East Coast Collection" of Standing Liberty Quarters that hit the market via public auction. Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc. conducted the sale, held February 11 in conjunction with the Long Beach Expo. Coins of similar quality to those from the collection trade rather infrequently, so it is not unusual to see prices change dramatically when such examples are sold. Several specimens traded below the last known sight-unseen Bids; consequently, Bids have decreased. We saw several dates certified in MS65 or better condition. Numerous examples were offered with the Full Head designation. Some of them, including the 1927-S, are extremely rare in Full Head. Examples of the issues that have been discounted since the last known sight-unseen Bid include 1917-S Type 1; 1917 Type 2; 1918/17-S; 1918-S; 1919-S; 1920-S; 1924-S; 1926-D; 1927-S; and 1928.

Collectors and investors are actively trading $20 Saint-Gaudens. This has always been a very popular series as many consider the coin's design to be among the most attractive in all of numismatics. The series is relatively short, but offers many serious challenges. Individuals need to be financially secure if they intend to build a complete set. Even a Type Set is formidable when tackling the $20 Saint-Gaudens series. Many dates are sensitive to the price of Gold bullion (as common date Circulated and Brilliant Uncirculated Saints contain nearly one full ounce of the precious metal), but it is still the very rare dates that keep collectors on their toes. Such dates grading MS64 and better have a price tag of five figures. At least six PCGS examples and four NGC specimens have sight-unseen, five-figure Bids, even at the MS61 grade level. This week, Bids have increased for common date Saints grading MS62, MS64 and MS65, while PCGS common dates in MS66 have suffered a slight decline. High Relief issues remain mostly steady with a number of supporting Bids as high as the MS67 grade level. A few scarce dates have been discounted. These better dates have been selling at lower levels as they hit the recent auction block, where the price realized is often below the last known sight-unseen Bid.

Elsewhere, Morgan Dollars continue to be the target of dealer interest. Common dates in MS67 are up for PCGS and NGC slabbed examples. Increases are also noted for select common date MS65 Morgans. Peace Dollars are displaying a number of minus signs, with slight weakness for common dates in MS66. Occasionally, a key date considered less than average for the grade trades at much lower levels. This is a normal occurrence in the volatile rare coin market. Minus signs are found among Silver and Gold Commemoratives. Declines are readily seen for MS64 and better Silver Commems, with weakness mostly concentrated in MS65. Some issues dropping include several of the Oregon Trail examples. Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes have also been somewhat discounted. Several dates have been auctioned at lower levels than the sight-unseen market, though key dates from both these popular 20th century series always seem to be in demand. Collectors need these dates and are nearly always looking to upgrade the keys. Therefore, dealers always stock plenty of key dates in their inventories.

As you can see, the sight-unseen market is indeed mixed. The CCDN Certified Coin Market Index Graph we have provided indicates the recent overall decline from February 1999 to present.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100 44-COIN HOT LIST ♦ 44-COIN BLACKLIST

Foreword by Q. David Bowers

"Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100 is potentially enriching, educational and enlightening. It provides market-oriented information against a rich backdrop of the history and lore of coins. Top 88 is far more than just an investment book - it's a landmark work that opens the world of coinage to the reader!

♦ R.W. Julian, numismatic researcher and scholar

♦ from the introduction by Ed Reiter, former numismatics columnist, The New York Times

Buying and selling rare coins can be a hit-or-miss proposition - unless you get expert directions. This book by well-known New York City coin dealer Scott A. Travers, with a foreword by Q. David Bowers, is a perfect guide.

In The Top 88, Travers draws a road map detailing both the hits and the misses - the coins that in his opinion represent good value at current market levels and those in his opinion you should steer clear of. He identifies 44 winners and 44 losers, puts them in historical perspective and vividly describes why each could be your best or worst coin buy. The list runs the gamut from classic U.S. coinage of the nation's early years to such modern-day issues as the Susan B. Anthony dollar.

You'll learn that winners and losers can exist side by side within the very same series. And you'll see how a given coin can sometimes be a winner in one grade, or level of preservation, and yet be a loser in a grade just a little bit higher or lower.

This book, like a piano, provides you with 88 keys that will help you make beautiful music - only this time, according to Travers, you'll be singing all the way to the bank if you play the right "notes" in buying coins.

You'll learn about:

- The elements of value
- Independent third-party grading
- The age of type coins
- Opinions relating to what coins are "losers"
- A list of coins that are "winners"
- Why every coin listed has something to like and something to dislike
- One-year type coins
- Generic Morgan dollars
- Commemorative coins
- Mint-error coins
- Uncirculated late-date coins
- Late-date proof sets from 1968 to date
- Marketplace data and expert opinions on every listed coin
- Meticulously researched historical information

Sight-Unseen Market Woes Continue Silver Dollars Still Shine

Some discounting is currently taking place in the sight-unseen market. Indications that this market is sluggish are evident as "ugly" coins trade for discounted prices at public auctions. When an above average coin is bought at Bluesheet Bid, it is considered a bonus. Yet, when a glut of rare coins perceived to be below average for the grade is offered by several auction companies in a short period of time, it can often overwhelm the current demand. Temporary downward pressure on prices can occur as a result.

There is weakness in the Gold and Silver Commemorative series. The Silver Commem chart shows many minus signs in the MS65, MS66 and MS67 grade categories. Recently, public auctions offered many Commems in grades MS65-MS67, and this supply had to be absorbed at lower prices. Some of the issues declining in MS66 include the 1922 Grant Memorial with Star; 1936 Bridgeport, Connecticut Centennial; 1921 Missouri Centennial; 1933D Oregon Trail Memorial; and 1920 and 1921 Pilgrim Tercentenary. Gold Commemoratives are also under pressure, though the MS67 category is the only one affected. We see minus signs for most Gold Commems in this grade. Many of these coins trade infrequently at such a high level of preservation. Scarce issues such as the 1915-S Panama-Pacific Exposition $2.50 and the 1917 McKinley Memorial $1 are down in MS67 near the $10,000 level. A not often seen transaction took place involving the 1926 Sesquicentennial $2.50, in MS67; the new current Bid is $41,400.

Uncirculated Gold Type continues its weakness. There are scattered minus signs for NGC and PCGS graded coins. The decreases are most prevalent in the MS65 and MS66 grades, though weakness is appearing in all Mint State grades except MS67. Mint State Type is steady to lower in active trading. Demand for Type continues to support many examples at current levels, but there is also some discounting occurring in this segment of the rare coin market. Proof Type is equally as soft as Mint State

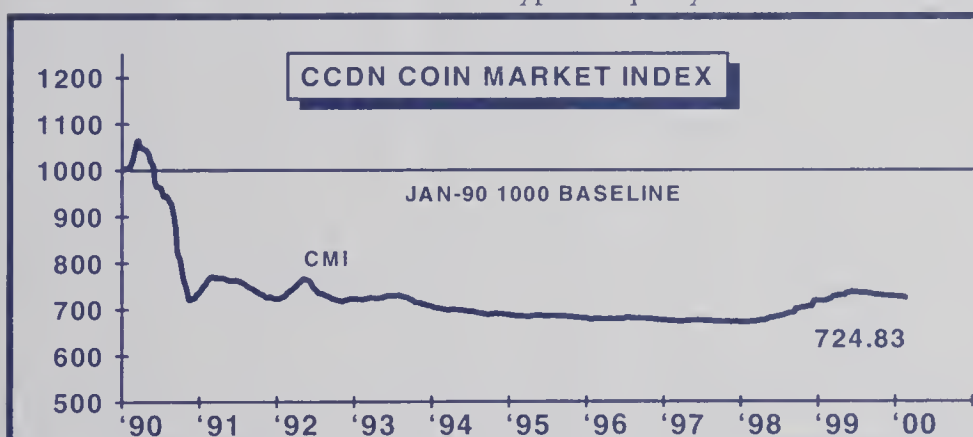

Type. Minus signs are occurring in PR65 and PR66 for both PCGS and NGC certified coins. Liberty Seated Half Dimes, Dimes and Quarters are being targeted.

Proof Gold is trading lower as well. Select denominations are losing ground in PR64 and better condition. Buffalo Nickels are relatively quiet this week. The Mercury Dime chart displays only a few minus signs. Walking Liberty Half Dollars are mixed this week; plus signs are most often seen for late date MS65 examples. Proof Singles are also weaker with several minus signs appearing in several denominations.

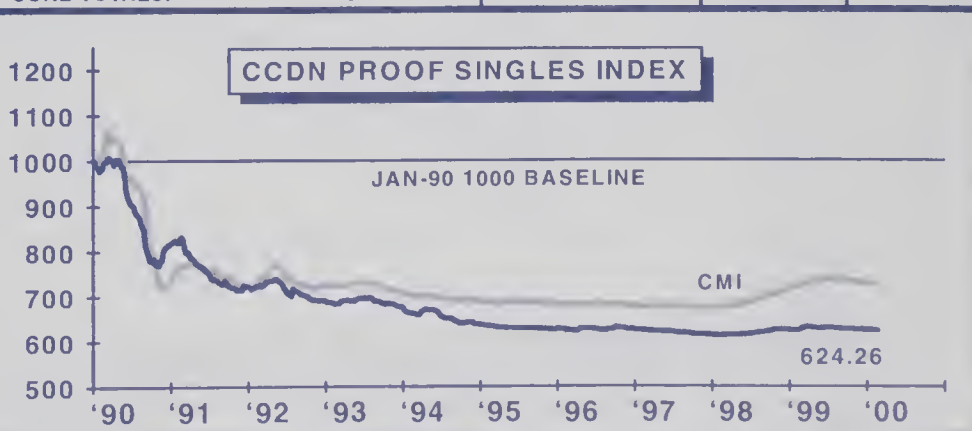

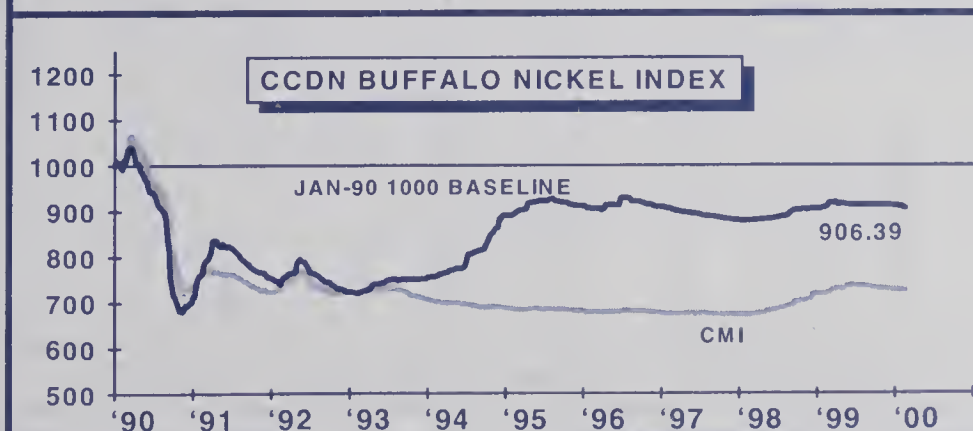

There are select areas of the sight-unseen market still realizing increasing demand. This is best observed by noting all the supporting Bids taking place at current levels. Such Bids are continually being posted week after week for specific dates. In this respect, the sight-unseen market provides an important avenue to maintain a presence. The quick turnaround time of sight-unseen transactions makes this medium an attractive one.

A few bright spots in an otherwise weak sight-unseen market do exist. For example, this week, Morgan and Peace Dollars continue to receive a great deal of attention. Supporting Bids were plentiful for common date Morgans certified NGC and PCGS. These Dollars are in demand at these levels in quantity. There was a slight increase in MS65 Morgans slabbed by NGC. At $72 Bid, NGC has pulled even with the sight-unseen Bid for PCGS Morgans. Carson City Morgan Dollars continue to attract Bidders. Slight increases are taking place for NGC MS64 and MS65 1880-CC Reverse of 1878 examples.

Stable and strong supporting Bids are evident among Peace Dollars. We see strong demand for PCGS MS65 and MS66 common dates. The strong MS66 Bid translates to a nearly seven percent increase. Small increases are also noticeable among NGC MS64 examples.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. All bids are from wholesale and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

Morgan, Peace, GSA Dollars Strong $157,000 Bid, Sight-Unseen For Stella

Even though many dealers are in Ft. Lauderdale, Fl., attending the March 3-5 American Numismatic Association's National Money Show, the sight-unseen market is showing signs of picking-up. The activity and strong demand that we have seen in the Morgan Dollar sight-seen market as reported in the Greysheet has carried over to the sight-unseen market. Bids for PCGS and NGC Morgan Dollars are higher this week, demonstrating an attempt to accumulate these coins to meet the current increasing demand. As the collector base expands, increases are occurring in a wide range of dates and grades. In many cases, the Bid is slowly inching higher trying to shake loose some coins. In other cases, Bids are jumping impressively in a more determined effort.

Traditionally, Silver Dollars have been among the favorites of collectors. In particular, the Morgan Dollar series provides collectors with a variety of challenges. Of course there are many directions a collector can take when building a set of Dollars. Dealers have assisted collectors through the years, helping them set attainable goals according to their budgets and time constraints.

This week, increases seem to be omnipresent on the Dollar charts, as increases are occurring in grades ranging from Good through MS67. Plus signs are especially prominent in the MS63 and MS64 grades for both NGC and PCGS certified coins.

The Peace Dollar market for sight-unseen coins is also increasing. Bids are higher for select dates throughout the relatively short series. Some examples doing well include 1922-D, 1924-S, 1925-S, 1926, 1926-D, 1926-S, 1934-D, 1934-S and 1935-S.

There is another segment of the Morgan Dollar market that has been, and still is capturing much attention. The General Services Administration Dollars in their original government holders are continuing to increase in value and demand. Known simply as GSA Dollars, Bids have continued to climb over the past several months for these government released issues. GSA Carson City Dollars are realizing the strongest demand. We are aware that non-“CC” Mint GSA Dollars exist in limited quantities. These non-“CC” examples were struck at the Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco Mints. These GSA Dollars are also very hot, with Bid climbing to $70 for the Philadelphia and New Orleans Mints. San Francisco Mint GSA Dollars are now Bid at $75.

Let us look at the “CC” Mint GSA Dollars in this week's Bluesheet. The 1878-CC is now above $190. Increases are also taking place for the key 1879-CC, now standing at $2,855 Bid. Other dates displaying increases include 1882-CC, 1885-CC, 1890-CC and 1891-CC. Bid has passed $1,000 for GSA 1890-CC Morgan Dollars. Strong supporting Bids are readily seen for the balance of the “CC” GSA issues. New collectors are becoming interested in GSA Dollars all the time. These are people who have generally been on the sidelines watching the prices increase and looking for an opening to enter the market. Growing more impatient, they now want to climb on board and take part in the action.

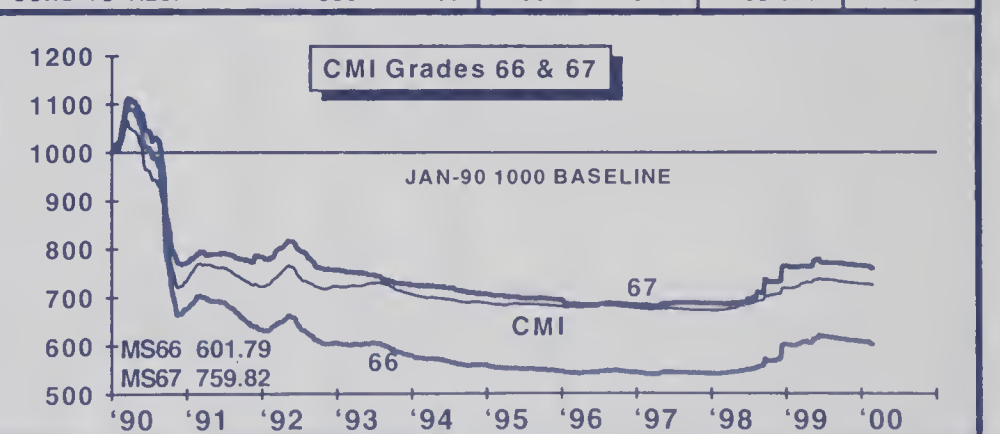

Renewed interest for GSA Dollars received a boost in April 1999, when a hoard of 8,261 Uncirculated GSA Dollars became available. It is interesting to note that even after most of these coins have been placed with collectors, the market continues to be hot.

The Mint State Type market for sight-unseen coins is showing a few signs of strengthening. We are seeing more supporting Bids for coins at current levels, as well as a few increases. In particular, Standing Liberty Quarters are up. Many customers are collecting rare coins by Type. Upgrading is almost an everyday occurrence as collectors strive to improve the quality of their collections.

Turning to Gold, Bids have been selectively strong. The popular Proof $4 Stella has been in demand throughout 1999. Now in 2000, this demand is still evident. One dealer is currently willing to pay $157,000, sight-unseen, for a PCGS PR67 1879 $4 Flowing Hair Stella. This is a coin that is destined to be in a major collection or high-powered investor's portfolio.

SLQ Brings $100K At Superior ANA Sale March Maryland Show On Tap

The Spring Suburban Washington-Baltimore Coin & Currency Convention — scheduled for March 23-26 in Baltimore — should attract many coin dealers as well as collectors. In connection with this show, Bowers and Merena will host the Lindesmith Auction on March 23-24. Dealers will use this opportunity to load-up on coins they need to fill customer want lists.

The sight-unseen market continues to gain ground. The strength is seen more from supporting Bids than actual plus signs, though there are some plus signs occurring in this market. It is apparent that demand is coming from customers looking for specific dates and grades for their collections in progress. We also know that dealers are constantly freshening their inventories by selling so called "tired coins." We have seen the sight-unseen market battle back from recent weakness. This week represents another important hurdle as this market attempts to move higher.

One area that has Bidders interested is the Washington Quarter series. This series has been revived from the dead since the government decided to offer the State Quarters. These Circulating Commemoratives have proved to be very popular. They have certainly received much press and promotion time. Importantly, children have taken an interest as they fill holes in their United States maps with these Quarters. In turn, this Quarter mania has spread to the entire Washington Quarter series. We have seen Brilliant Uncirculated Rolls of Washington Quarters increase. Also, BU Quarter sets are increasing. In the sight-unseen market, supporting Bids are becoming more numerous for early Washington Quarters from 1932-1940-D. Besides the increasing number of supporting Bids, increases are occurring as well. These increases are taking place for a wide range of dates and grades in the early series. The grades sought after range from MS61 thru MS66.

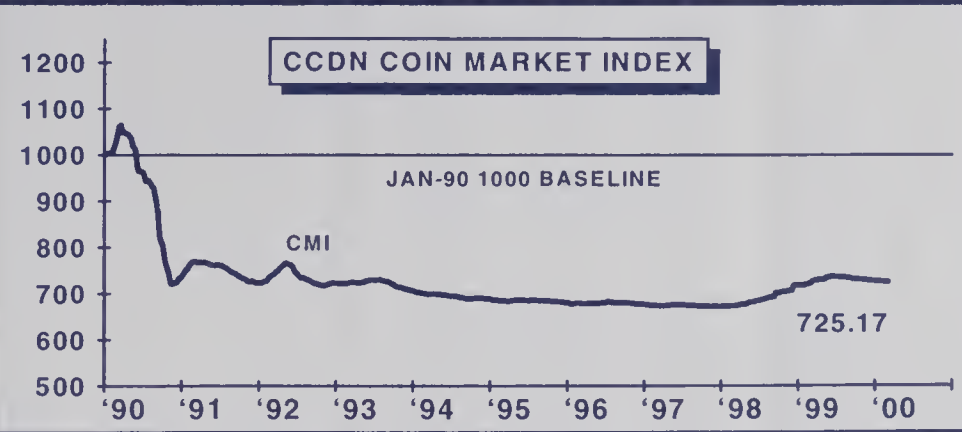

The sight-unseen market is not all positive. We do see continued pockets of weakness. Mint State Type continues to be mixed. Auction prices realized reveal select issues that are trading below current levels. Several high-grade examples that are sold to the highest Bidder with no reserve can trade down. Often, these are coins that appear very infrequently and consequently sell for hundreds of dollars below the last known highest sight-unseen Bid. This week, the 1838 No Drapery Liberty Seated Half Dime fits that category. Three examples traded at public auction. Two graded NGC MS66 while the third graded NGC MS67. Even a small number of high-grade Type coins can be tough for the market to absorb because it is so thin. As a result, Bid can drop more than it would otherwise if less were sold at the same time. Keep in mind that this weakness is not necessarily pervasive to all Mint State Type coins. Specific coins that enter the market, even in quantity, can be a welcome sight for dealers who have multiple requests for them.

A similar situation is taking place among Proof Type. Generally, Proof Type is receiving strong supporting Bids, but we are seeing some discounting for select issues in PR65 and better grades. Some of the issues with minus signs this week include Barber Dimes, 20-Cent Pieces, No Motto Liberty Seated Quarters, With Motto Liberty Seated Half Dollars, Morgan Dollars and Trade Dollars.

Superior realized more than $4.45 million in the ANA 2000 National Money Show Auction with eight coins passing the $100,000 mark. The March 2-3 auction had many highlights, and we have included some of them.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

Tells why more people

are turning to PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

Standing Liberty Quarters Hit Auction Block Saints Mixed In Active Trading

The sight-unseen rare coin market is mixed this week, almost as if it cannot decide which direction it should take. Indications of a mixed market are everywhere, the most obvious being the number of plus and minus signs seen throughout our charts.

Dealers are still actively pursuing coins they so desperately need. Bidding is selectively targeted to the coins that customers are willing to buy, which may be only one or two pieces. Many coins currently in demand are difficult to find at the moment. This is very frustrating for Bidders because they believe the current price levels for many coins represent an absolute bargain. If their Bids are not hit, they may try to raise the prices in order to be successful. Often, it is just not that easy.

Sometimes, one has to change the recipe for success at a moment's notice. Knowledge of the market and rarity understanding can provide the proper ingredients for a completed transaction with a happy customer. Sometimes, coins trade unresponsive to a small change in price. When specific dates are unresponsive to an even larger change in price due to a thinly traded market, frustration becomes exacerbated. A thinly traded market also means that price changes, those that occur rather infrequently, can be more violent in nature when they do occur.

This condition can be seen when looking at a small segment of any series, specifically, Standing Liberty Quarters in very high grades. The number of MS66 Full Head and MS67 Full Head Standing Liberty Quarters is small by anyone's measure. Surely, PCGS, NGC and ANACS have the statistics to bear this out in their published population reports. That is why when a collection of high grade Quarters is offered on the market, via public auction, dramatic swings, up or down, may take place.

We have seen many high quality Standing Liberty Quarters hit the auction block over the past few months. It takes a large sum of money for a collector to buy even one common date MS67FH Standing Liberty Quarter, let alone a scarce date. A number of rare date MS65FH and better Quarters recently became available. Consequently, some prices have been discounted as the market is having trouble absorbing this amount of high grade coins. This does not necessarily mean that the market is weak for high quality SL Quarters.

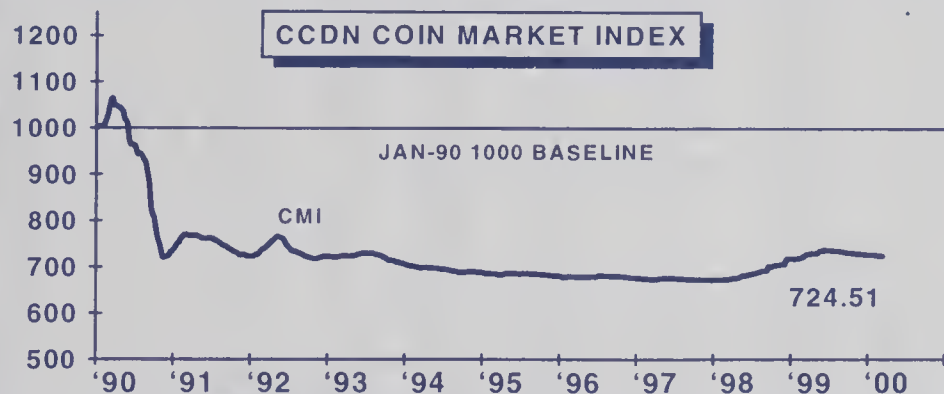

Dealers are always interested in buying rare dates in quality grades, but they must be prudent with their purchases. Sometimes, a rare date may sit in inventory for an unknown length of time waiting for the right customer. If the coin was purchased right, then the luxury of more time exists. Let us look at how some of the sight-unseen Bids have changed over the past four months. You will notice that many dates suffered steep declines in only three months. It is easy to see that volatility is very much a part of the rare coin market.

The sight-unseen market for $20 Saint-Gaudens is a perfect example of the mixed nature of the coin market. There are quite a few minus signs occurring this week. However, many of the declines are slight. Common date Saints did decline in MS67 for both PCGS and NGC coins. On the other hand, a slight increase took place in common date MS66 examples graded by PCGS. Increases are also seen for both PCGS and NGC 1908 No Motto Saints. Dealers are very much aware of Gold bullion prices when it comes to common date Saints in MS61 and MS62. Rare dates, by contrast, are not directly affected by changes in bullion, but are more susceptible to changes in collector and investor habits.

Gold Commemoratives are hot this week. Plus signs are appearing for select issues. Demand appears strongest for MS64 and MS65 1922 Grant and Grant with Star Gold Commems

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

SEPTEMBER 1997

BULL MARKET CONTINUES IRISH AUCTION PRODUCES STRONG PRICES

across the market

by Kevin Foley

The Market for collectible paper money continued its pattern of broad strength. The Knight recent offering of the 1863 10c high collection at auction in conjunction with an associated paper money source can be regarded as a success. The 1863 10c was one of no less than five paper money shows which have or will be held this year.

The ability of the marketplace to support a growing number of dedicated specialty events demonstrates the growing breadth of the collector dealer base. A prediction made a decade ago that 1997 would see five successful paper money shows might have been greeted with laughter. Yet that is precisely what we will have this year.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

A collectible continues to be very much focused in this area. This growing demand continues to exert upward pressure on prices. Buyers also continue their emphasis on eye appeal, focusing on how generally attractive a note looks regardless of its technical grade. This results in an overlapping of prices from good to grade. An especially nice example is a lower grade commanding a higher price than a piece of a technically superior grade.

The upper end of the quality spectrum, Choice and Gem Notes, are experiencing more demand than existing supplies are able to support. The result is a continuing pattern of price increases. Collectors seeking Gem Notes soon learn that once they get beyond the half dozen or so most common notes their quest can be quite a challenge.

This recognition results in some unexpectedly high prices at auction. When multiple bidders focus on the same notes and realize it may be months or even much longer before another sample is offered, the price guides tend to be abandoned as a bidding aid.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Small type continues to grow in popularity. Early Federal Reserve Notes are especially prominent on collector want lists. These once scarce 1 notes amply demonstrate the growing breadth of the market.

A decade ago they could typically be acquired for the most modest premiums over face. Whatever difficulty collectors faced in finding such notes was generally limited to the fact that they were less responsive to warrant a better effort to acquire them. Today the growing demand has resulted in both greater numbers and early bid sales offer the soundest indication of an active market.

The Irish market continues to be the focus of intense collector interest. Prices in this specialty area are especially strong. The most unusual and spectacular of the 1868 the high 10c 1868 10c seems that no matter how many errors are noted at an auction, bidders wait on more.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

Fractional continues to be the spotlight of the collector's attention. While very scarce and the highest quality Choice and Gem material enjoy strong demand, common and lower quality grades are in demand.

There is simply more fractional available than collectors want to have. The result is that while the collector dealer sometimes can move quite slowly. When offered at auction, prices can sometimes be rather spotty.

For buyers this represents repeated opportunities to acquire notes at relatively attractive levels. Until more people want to buy fractional this overall pattern can be expected to continue.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

National Bank Notes continue to enjoy considerable collector interest. "Type" National Bank Notes, strong in larger quantities and sought after representative of their general design type rather than for their issuing bank, are much in demand at the higher quality levels.

Buyers of such material can be quite frustrated at their inability to find what they are looking for. Too many buyers and not enough available material can only translate to higher prices. The limited demand for National Bank Notes is predicated on the scarcity of the issuing bank remains at historically high levels. Since collectors continue to specialize geographically, prices are also very much dependent on where a note is from in addition to its rarity. Some states are very much in demand while others enjoy few vigorous buyer interest.

Dealers who fail to keep informed of the many individual state markets can easily find themselves "burned" in a scarce note from a state with limited collector interest.

MISCELLANEOUS

The market for Confederate Notes remains quite strong but continues to move toward the type of geographical specialization which characterizes the National market. Thus, regional origin can be just as important as the general scarcity.

Confederate Notes continue to be very popular as do Stocks and Bonds.

The Greensheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

...the most hotly debated topic in numismatics is the issue of toning. It seems that every collector has a strong opinion on the matter. Some believe that toning is a natural process that should be left alone, while others believe that it is an artificial process that should be avoided. The truth is, toning is a complex issue that has been debated for centuries. In this article, we will explore the virtues of toned coins and why they are so highly valued by collectors.

...the fact that it is natural for old coins to develop a patina. This patina is a result of the chemical reactions that occur between the metal of the coin and the environment. It is a process that has been going on since the first coins were minted. The patina that develops on a coin is a natural part of its history and is one of the things that makes it so valuable to collectors.

The truth is, toning is a complex issue that has been debated for centuries. In this article, we will explore the virtues of toned coins and why they are so highly valued by collectors.

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general.

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm. You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service. Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Baltimore Attracts Dealers, Public Stack's Sale Realizes $1.712 Million

Dealers are in Baltimore this week attending the Annual Spring Suburban Washington-Baltimore Coin & Currency Convention. The March 23-26 Show usually draws a strong number of collectors. The heavily populated east coast city is centrally located which makes it easy for visitors to schedule a trip to Baltimore, departing anywhere from Atlanta to Boston. This year's spring show opens with a rare coin market that is very selective, as collectors and investors are trying to meet very specific needs. The collectors working on 19th and 20th century sets are looking to fill some of the many holes remaining in their books. They are also looking to upgrade specific dates with a higher graded specimen. Generally, collectors are trying to buy the best quality they can afford. Today, they are more willing to wait for a choice example rather than buy a filler. Barber Dimes, Quarters and Half Dollars continue to be popular with collectors. These series offer many challenges, even for Fine and Very Fine examples. Nice Very Fine and Extremely Fine Barber coins are easily placed. Buying these coins is a difficult proposition because of their scarcity, and dealers hope to find some for their customers at the show or auction.

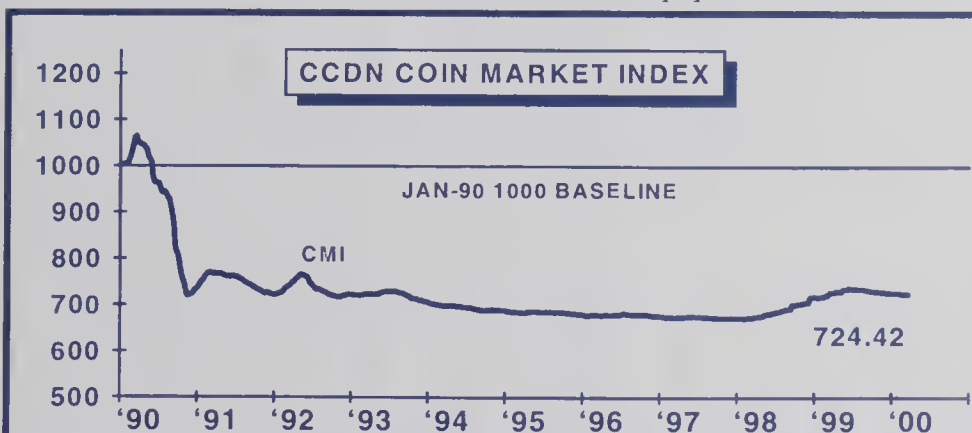

Morgan Dollars have higher Bids this week. Plus signs are appearing on the PCGS and NGC charts for Carson City Mint Morgans. Most of this interest is for dates from 1880 thru 1884. Other dates are realizing strong supporting Bids. Increases for "CC" Mint Dollars are occurring for most Mint State grades from MS61 thru MS66. Collector demand has been strong for much of 2000, and it appears this interest is continuing. Activity has increased for select dates as well. One of the series' key dates — 1883-S — is realizing increasing Bids for NGC and PCGS Mint State examples. Everyone is aware of the strong demand for and notoriety of the 1884-S. That may be why the 1883-S is sometimes overlooked, but the 1883-S is a very difficult coin to find in Mint State; many collectors need an example for their collections. Consequently, dealers have numerous want lists sporting this tough Morgan. The Peace Dollar series is relatively quiet this week.

Mercury Dimes have gained popularity with collectors. More financially heeled collectors are now working on sets. Therefore, it may be wise to stock up on a few key dates. This week, there are increases in MS64 and in MS64 with Full Split Bands for 1916-D specimens, as well as many supporting Bids for several dates throughout this series.

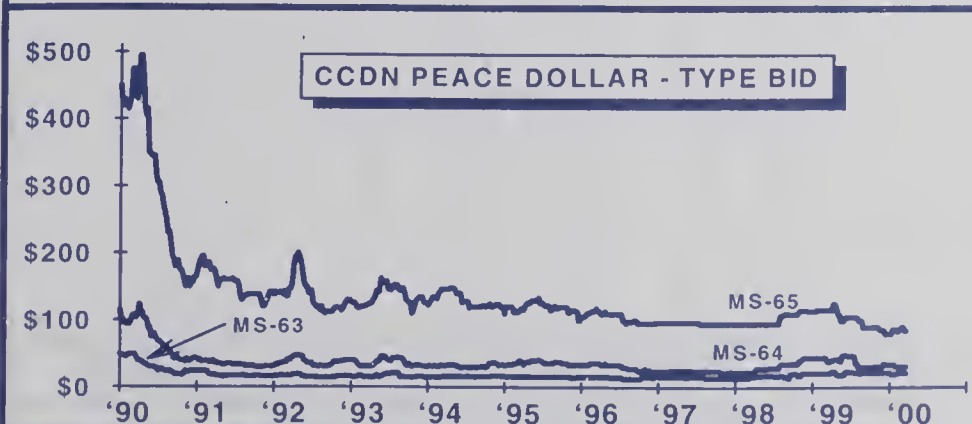

Proof Gold is realizing fairly steady support at current levels. Most denominations are still prized by collectors and considered necessary to investors. It is important to have ready access to Proof Gold. Stellas remain hot! Increases are still taking place for the $4 1879 Flowing Hair Stella. Bid is up in PR65 and over the $100,000 mark to $103,000 in PR66.

The United States Coins And Paper Money auction realized more than $1.712 million in New York City. The March 15-16 sale, conducted by Stack's, featured the Southern Collection of Dahlonga and Charlotte Mint Gold Coins formed by E. George Elliott. The auction produced many highlights, and we have included a few certified examples.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

ACCUGRADE'S FIVE $99 SERVICES

TIRED OF PAYING TOO MUCH FOR CERTIFICATION ?
WE ARE 50% TO 84% LESS THAN THE COMPETITION.
SLAB 3 COINS-CARDS FOR $49 AT SHOWS WE ATTEND.

3,446 COINS SUBMITTED AT LONG BEACH SHOW A RECORD !

ACCUGRADE has graded coins since 1984 when Mr. Hager invented slab certification for coins and went on to establish the standards by which all coin grading services operate to this day. PCGS-PSA-David Hall paid Licensing Fees for Mr. Hager's Patent & Inventions. ACCUGRADE has set up 11 other certification services since 1986. ACCUGRADE slab holders are compact, stackable, scratch resistant and fit in 2 x 2 boxes. They are twice as strong as the competitions', 30% to 50% lighter in weight and 1/3 to 1/2 smaller in size.

ACCUGRADE uses individual dies for each coin size we certify, this guarantees over the long term that no coin will be contaminated by a PVC film. We do not use RUBBER INSERTS or SOFT COIN RINGS. Mr. Hager, the founder, Patented the Card & Beanie Slab holders, and has also written five books on coins and sportscards. We offer the lowest fees in the industry, from $3.96 to $16.33 a coin.

To date, ASA has graded and authenticated over 370,000 individual items valued at over 325 million dollars.

ACCUGRADE™ INTRODUCES NEW TRADEMARKED SERVICES:

Wanted: Fresh, Rare Coins Lindesmith Gold Rarities Sell

The rare coin market is in a flux. On the one hand, demand from an expanding collector base is very welcome, but this demand has created a need for specific rare coins that has been difficult to fulfill. Dealers are back from the Suburban Washington-Baltimore show and are disappointed that they were not able to buy all the coins that were on their customer want lists. Obviously, they did not expect to buy all the coins on their lists, but they had hoped to find more and buy more than they were able to at the show and auction. One dealer said they only found about 10 percent of their lists. If coins are not available at the current prices, then an increase in price may not be too far away. The sight-unseen market is becoming more active as dealers use this medium to try to buy the coins they need. We see the activity level increasing both by the number of Bidders and the number of increased Bids. A few players have recently returned to placing several sight-unseen Bids.

This week, increases are taking place in the Morgan Dollar market. This segment of the market has been quite active in the Coin Dealer Newsletter, the Greysheet, and this activity is carrying over to the sight-unseen market. Dealers are willing to pay more for the coins that they need right away. Completed transactions are much more satisfying than unfulfilled Bids. Consequently, we find a number of plus signs appearing in the Dollar market for PCGS and NGC certified rare coins. The heaviest concentration of Bids and plus signs can be seen among the lower Mint State grades from MS61 thru MS64. Some plus signs are finding their way to the higher Uncirculated grades as well.

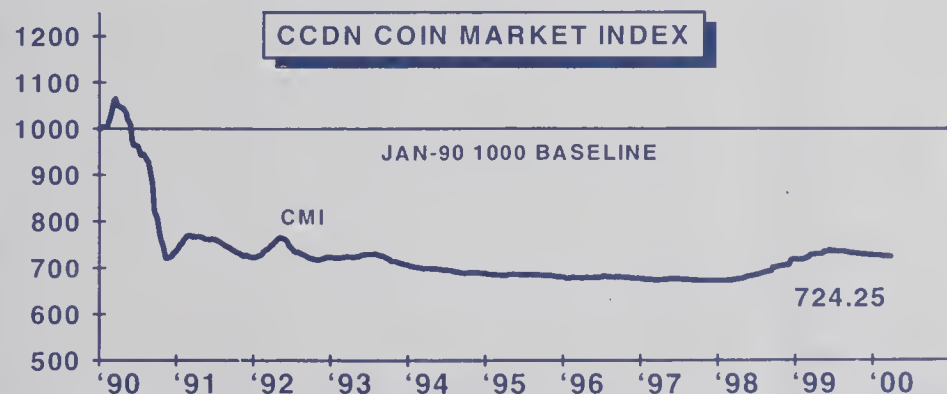

There is also much more activity taking place in the Deep Mirror Prooflike Morgan Dollar market for sight-unseen coins. Common date DMPL's are realizing increased Bids for NGC examples, which are up in MS64 and MS65. It is difficult to find these brilliant Cartwheels, and collectors cannot seem to get enough.

Mercury Dimes are active this week, helped by the March 22-28 auction sale of the Dan Miller collection. All coins auctioned from this collection were certified, and most sold. Apart from a few dates declining, sight-unseen Bids for Mercs held firm at current levels.

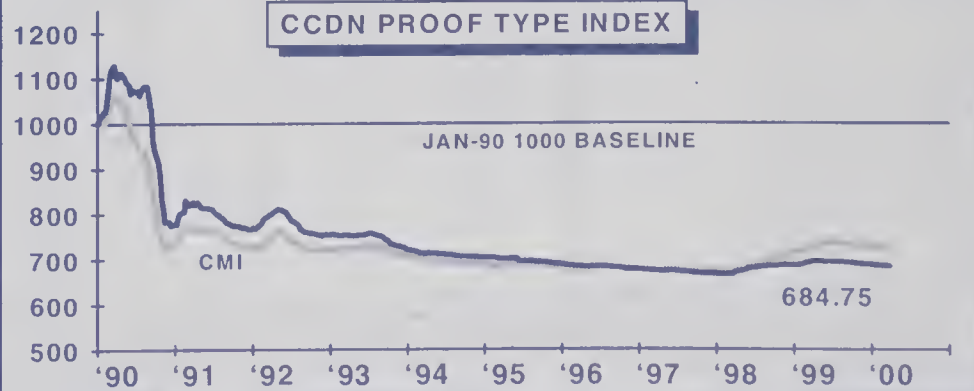

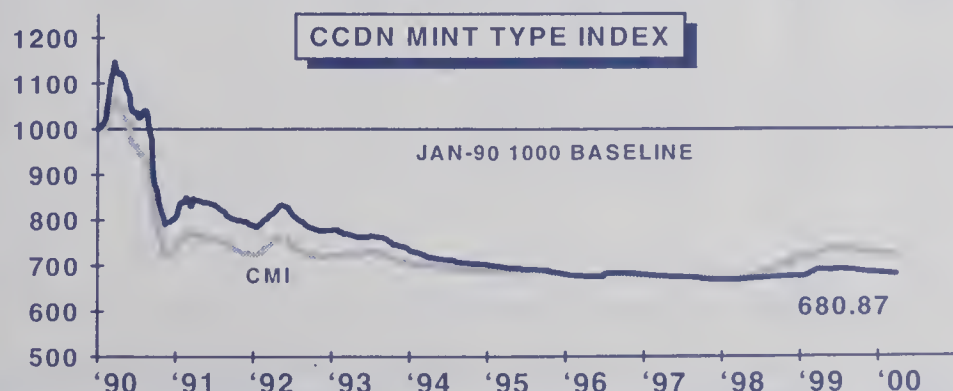

Walking Liberty Half Dollars are displaying several increases this week. Mainly, the latter dates of the series in MS66 are stronger, including issues from 1941 thru 1945. Generally, the remainder of the series is realizing strong supporting Bids. There is less activity with the early scarce dates due to rarity. Collectors are interested in the early dates, but the availability is insufficient to fill all customer want lists.

The Lindesmith collection realized more than $2 million, March 23-24. The sale was held in conjunction with the Suburban Washington-Baltimore Coin & Currency Convention in Baltimore. Bidders in the Bowers and Merena sale were "enthusiastic" and competed energetically for success. We have listed a few of the sale's certified highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers and are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MORGAN DOLLARS

PCGS DMPL and NGC DPL Bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. Bids for PCGS PL and NGC PL dollars will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet) Bids have always represented fully, deep mirror prooflike specimens.

Gold Commems Command Attention GSA, Morgan Dollars Stand Tall

Gold Commemoratives are the stellar performers this week. Sight-unseen Bids are increasing for a whole host of dates and grades, for PCGS and NGC certified coins. The strong demand begins at MS64 and runs right through to MS67. Issues increasing include both Louisiana Purchase Dollars, both Lewis & Clark Exposition Dollars, both the $1 and $2.50 Panama-Pacific Exposition issues, both McKinley Memorial Dollars and both Grant Memorial Dollars. Numerous other issues are realizing strong supporting Bids. Many Gold Commems are difficult to find in high grade because the available supply is very thin. Therefore, it does not take much demand to push prices up.

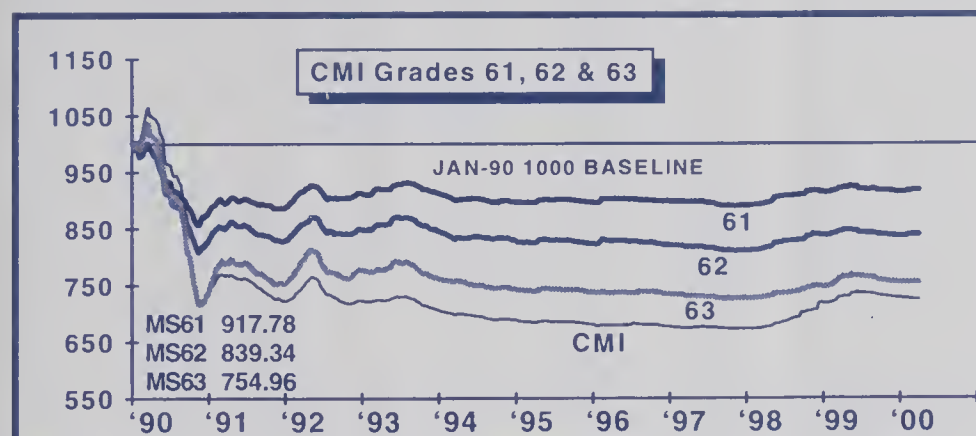

There is still no slowdown in demand for Morgan Dollars in the sight-unseen market. Bidders are confident and determined to buy coins and increase their Bids for Dollars — a condition which has been going on for several weeks. As well as trying to buy coins for customers, dealers want to add some dates to their depleted inventories, which have dwindled as coins have been placed with collectors. Since it is becoming increasingly difficult to replace inventory, plus signs are appearing throughout the Morgan series. Higher Bids are not necessarily successful transactions, but they do entice holders to at least consider selling. Increases are appearing for MS61 thru MS64 Dollars in the 1890s. Many dates in this category are high on collectors' lists since they are considered some of the better and more desirable dates of the long series.

Another aspect of the Morgan Dollar Market that remains hot is the General Services Administration Dollars. GSA Dollars have been very popular in recent months, specifically, Carson City issues. Even this market has cooled a bit from the sharp upward prices that we have seen in the past. Most noticeably, the 1878-CC and 1879-CC dates are depicting minus signs this week. These are still two very desirable dates, and the declines are very modest, especially for the 1879-CC. This is one of the most sought-after GSA Dollars along with the 1890-CC and the 1891-CC. The middle rarity dates, 1880-CC, 1881-CC and 1885-CC are virtually unchanged this week. Bidders are actively pursuing these dates with sellers not looking to release their coins for less than $240 for 1881-CC and 1882-CC. The 1885-CC is being offered at $250. The most common GSA Dollars, 1882 thru 1884 Carson City issues, are steady at current levels. We do note that the Bid and Ask for these issues have narrowed considerably with trading activity picking up. The strongest demand for GSA Dollars is seen for the 1890-CC and 1891-CC. Some dealers are requesting to be called for quotes while others are more bold, listing higher Bids. We do not see many dealers offering these dates for sale at any price.

The Mint State and Proof Type markets are realizing select activity. Type is a market that seems to be growing, and the expanding collector base is an important reason for this growth. Interest by new collectors coupled with renewed interest by individuals that once collected rare coins have helped demand remain strong.

ANACS certified coins are trading steady, mostly at current levels. Interest is increasing among Morgan and Peace Dollars. Special attention appears to be targeting the Carson City Mint ANACS Dollars. These dates are receiving the bulk of the Bidding action. Silver Commemoratives are trading quietly at current levels. Mint State Gold Type is weaker; this market has been under pressure this year.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

Tells why more people

are turning to PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

Prooflike Morgan Dollars Active

Washington Quarters, Proof Singles Increasing

Select areas of the sight-unseen market are very strong. We see that demand for Prooflike Morgan Dollars is fueling increases throughout our chart, but it is not the semi-key and key dates leading the enthusiasm. Rather, it is the most common dates of the Morgan series that are increasing; Bids are up in MS63 PL, MS64 PL and MS65 PL for both PCGS and NGC certified coins. The increases are small in MS63 PL, but the majority of strength is in MS64 PL, where Bid has increased significantly.

The Prooflike Morgan Dollar chart below depicts the volatility for this segment of the market for the first quarter of 2000. The movements are rather substantial for only three month's time. A few issues have actually declined. Surprisingly, some of these declines are among the keys and semi-keys of the series, like the 1889-CC, which is usually one of the most sought-after dates of all the Carson City Mint issues. Dealers still say there is strong customer demand for key and semi-key date Morgan Dollars, and they know that many collectors are working on upgrading and completing Dollar sets. Below, we have provided the top five performing and five weakest performing Prooflike Morgans since the beginning of the year. Take note that a total of 83 issues have increased, while only 17 have decreased, leaving the remaining 518 issues steady. This information certainly demonstrates the overall strength of this area of the market.

The remainder of the Prooflike Morgan Dollar dates are realizing steady demand at current levels, especially for Carson City Morgans. The "CC" Dollars are receiving many supporting Bids from dealers for coins grading MS63 PL and better, and some issues are advancing. For example, Carson City dates such as the 1880 and 1885 are increasing in MS63 PL. Demand for higher grades of these middle range "CC" rarities is also strong. Non-Prooflike "CC" Dollars have been noticeably strong for GSA Dollars. It is no wonder that this demand has carried over to the non-GSA Prooflike Dollars in the sight-unseen market.

We have seen strength throughout the year in the Washington Quarter market. Now, we are beginning to see strong support for these coins in the sight-unseen market. There are numerous plus signs appearing throughout the PCGS portion of our Quarter chart for MS66 coins. Many early dates from 1932 through 1940-D are receiving increasing Bids. There are also plus signs appearing for select key and semi-key dates in Uncirculated grades. Strong supporting Bids exist for many NGC Washington Quarters. These Bids are omnipresent for the MS62 through MS66 grading categories. Many collectors are trying to upgrade their Washington Quarter sets since the issuance of the State Quarters program.

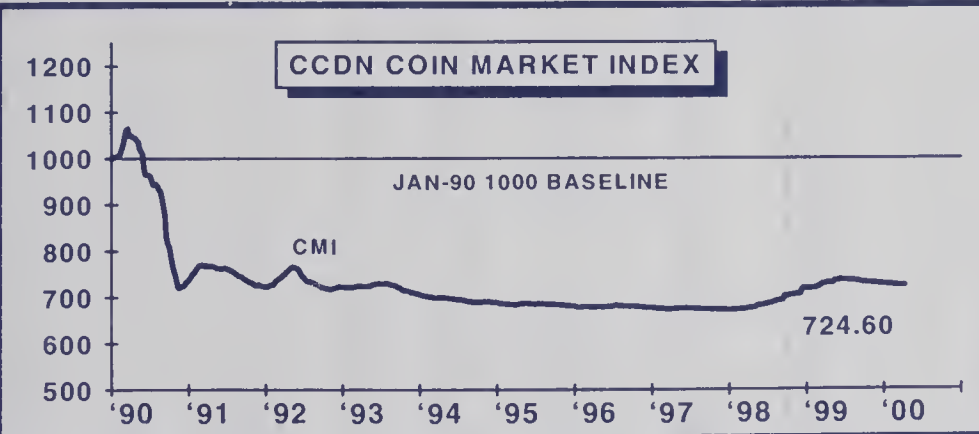

Proof Singles are receiving strong Bids, and that is translating into plus signs for Mercury Dimes and Walking Liberty Half Dollars. Bidding is most noticeable for NGC certified Dimes and Halves. Plus signs are appearing for PR65 and better examples. These 20th century Proof coins have been a favorite of collectors for many years.

Interest is noticeable for Matte Proof Lincoln Cents in the form of many supporting Bids for these 20th century Proof coins. Demand is heavy for PR61 through the PR64 grades. Dealers want no-problem coins for their customers. They are looking for Brown coins to be light or chocolate Brown. Knowledgeable collectors are fussy and willing to buy these Cents if they are attractive and have some degree of eye appeal.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The Coin Collector's Survival Manual – Revised Third Edition by Scott A. Travers

BEFORE YOU MAKE YOUR NEXT COIN PURCHASE, TAKE A COMPLETE COURSE IN COIN BUYING AND SELLING FOR AS LITTLE AS $14.95.

"This is the book about the coin business you can't afford to be without." -Hank Gilman, business editor, NEWSWEEK

"One of the most important coin books ever written." -The New York Times

"Should be read before a single coin is bought - and read again and again!" -Coin World

UNPRECEDENTED FIVE-TIME NUMISMATIC LITERARY GUILD AWARD WINNER

Traditionally, learning a lesson in the rare coin market has been very expensive. You would buy a coin for $500, find out later that it was worth only $50, and, thus, you would have to pay $450 to learn just one lesson. But now, thanks to the revised third edition of The Coin Collector's Survival Manual, by Scott A. Travers, you no longer have to pay a fortune to learn about how to buy and sell coins profitably.

This thoroughly revised edition examines the coin field from an insider's perspective and continues to break new ground in revealing the ins and outs of coin collecting and investing. Excellent photographs and detailed charts amplify the encyclopedic, clearly written, meticulously organized text. You'll learn about the following:

- How to look at coins the way the professionals do
- How to determine what a coin is worth and what grade the leading certification services would assign to it
- How to spot slight friction on otherwise "Gem" coins
- How to tell the difference between proof and prooflike
- How lighting affects appearance
- Altered and counterfeit detection techniques
- How to judge price guide accuracy
- Selecting and testing a coin dealer
- How not to get ripped of if you buy coins through the mail
- Profitable - and not-so-profitable - liquidation techniques
- How to buy and sell at conventions like the pros do
- How to spot a cleaned and artificially toned coin
- How to choose a non-destructive coin holder and the storage method right for you.

SPECIAL SECTIONS ON:

- Doctored coins, how to detect them, and the case of the doctored hoard of gold rarities that got slabbed
- The real truth about slab services and "fixed grading standard" claims
- Premium quality coins (then and now)
- Startling revelations from a leading coin trader
- A grading service founder's bombshell admission of modified standards
- The newest tax laws

NEW information in the revised edition covers:

- Cool coin internet web sites
- Requirements of the new FTC telemarketing act
- The real facts behind the toning corrosion controversy

and much, much more!

Order your copy of The Coin Collector's Survival Manual - Third Edition. 220 pages, dozens of sharp illustrations. For the price of $14.95, you can make a mint.

Common Date Dollars Under Pressure Gold Type In Doldrums

The sight-unseen market is fairly active with many players tendering Bids for certified rare coins. However, this market has suffered some declines. Dealers are becoming more impatient and concerned with the lack of much needed material. Though the right coin can fetch big bucks, declines are seen for coins that are relatively common.

There are pockets of strength in this market. Buffalo Nickels, a longtime collector favorite, are displaying many plus signs. The need to replace inventory levels for many dates, and collector interest appear to account for the rest of the demand. Common dates and rare dates are sought-after in grades up to MS66. Availability is the problem, and increased Bids have been posted in the hopes of uncovering some coins. Meanwhile, the usually quiet Peace Dollar series has sprung to life. Plus signs are numerous, but the increases are small. Speaking of increases, Gold Commems are up again. We have seen this activity week after week.

A flat to lethargic Gold bullion spot has not helped common date Gold coins gain any momentum. Investors are still not looking to participate in the Gold market with any kind of vigor and sustainability. Rather, it seems as if every little spike up is met by a new round of selling. The $20 Saint-Gaudens chart indicates how weak Gold is by the number of minus signs. It is also important to keep in mind that many of the declines are small. Still, the weakness is apparent, with PCGS and NGC certified common date $20 Gold losing ground, from MS61 thru MS66. Only a few select dates have managed to buck the downward trend.

Another area of the sight-unseen market to display weakness is generic Morgan Dollars. Again, the common dates have been under pressure. Only this time, the weakness has lasted over an entire year. A year ago, MS65 common dates were Bid, sight-unseen, at $92 for PCGS certified coins and $90 for NGC. In a year's time, the Bid has declined to today's level that is hovering close to $70. This decline is further exacerbated when you consider that this period for the market was rather good. It was a year that brought new life to the rare coin market via the Circulating State Quarters. Most agree that the collector base has widened as new collectors have entered thanks to the intense U.S. Mint marketing campaign and general public's acceptance and interest in the State Quarters and Sacagawea Dollar. Some are of the belief that the end of decade and the year turning to 2000 has had an even greater effect. The strong demand for coins of the 20th century has forced dealers to Bid for many late date 20th century coins.

If the collector base is expanding and the market has generally been bullish, then why are common date Morgan Dollars declining in Gem condition? One dealer believes that it is because the published certified populations have continued to climb. People are much more sophisticated today. Many are taking responsibility for their investments and retirements. Their knowledge of specific dates has increased with experience and access to information. People understand that an increase in supply exerts downward pressure on price provided demand remains unchanged. Even if demand has increased, and we believe it has, it has not kept pace with the increasing supply. There is a sufficient supply of MS65 Morgans on the market, and they are easily obtained, even in quantity. This may be why some believe these Morgan Dollars are still, at current levels, too high.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

Gold Commems Rebound "CC" Morgans Double

While a slight slowdown has occurred as a result of tax time, the sight-unseen rare coin market is still fairly active. Sight-unseen trading is taking place for Morgan Dollars and Peace Dollars. Gold is also active at the presently lower levels. As usual, the majority of interest is for Double Eagles.

One series clearly stands out in the sight-unseen market — Gold Commemoratives. After a rough start at the beginning of the year, these coins have been on fire the last several weeks. The market for this material is extremely active. Numerous Bids are apparent throughout the short series. Mostly, Bids are being increased for high quality specimens. Take a look at the performance of Gold Commemoratives since the beginning of the year. Keep in mind that these increases represent only a seventeen week period.

Sales of common date Morgan and Peace Dollars take place frequently. Dollars are actively trading in the Mint State category, up to and including Gem MS65 and better condition. Quantities are traded in this manner, yet weakness continues to engulf common date Morgan Dollars. The MS65 category is losing ground again this week. Bid is now $70 for PCGS Generic Morgans. NGC MS65 Morgan Dollars are also lower with Bid falling below the $70 plateau before settling at $68. The market is searching for a support level. Meanwhile, the Bid and Ask appear to be narrowing for these Dollars in this grade. Support is evident for PCGS common date Morgans in MS64. A small increase has forced the price to $32.

The market is receiving strong Bids for common date Carson City Mint issues dated 1882-1884. Demand is specific in nature, targeting the PCGS MS65 category. Sight-unseen Bid jumped to $355 for 1882-CC; $280 for 1883-CC; and $275 for 1884-CC. Presently, transactions are occurring at these higher levels. The collector and collector/investor demand for Carson City Dollars continues to drive this market. Looking at a market within a market, the General Services Administration "CC" Dollars have catapulted in recent years due to very strong demand. The popularity of these Dollars got another boost from the disbursement of a recent hoard.

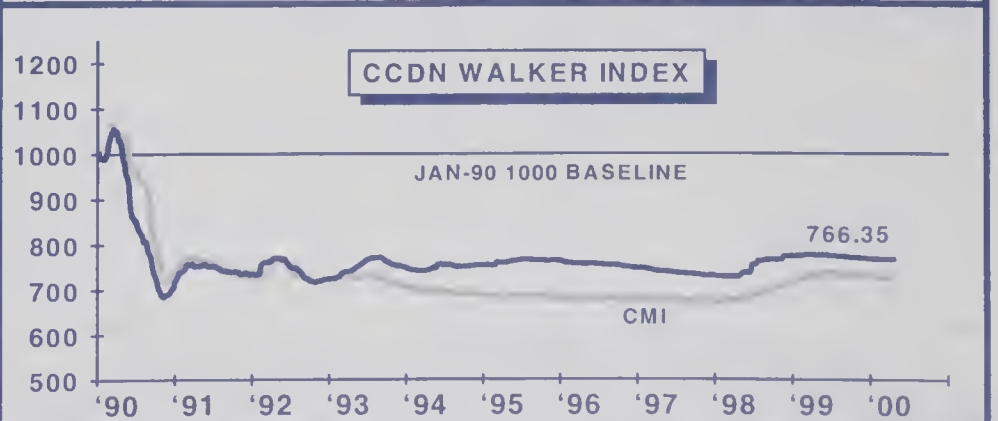

See the chart below tracking the performance of common date, non-GSA "CC" Morgan Dollars since 1997. Strong percentage increases in sight-unseen Bid depict PCGS coins doubling in only three years. NGC also had strong gains with Bid increasing approximately 50 percent and more in the same three year period.

Dealers are pressed to buy coins for a variety of reasons. Customer demand usually tops the list, but there are other reasons. Keeping one's inventory fresh is a necessary part of any successful coin dealer's plan. Coins that sit in inventory for too long usually end up as a candidate for a quick sale at a reduced price. The importance of electronic dealer networks is evident in the amount of time saved. Dealers enjoy the luxury of being connected to the collective inventories from all over the country. It allows market expansion, and as a result, generates more sales.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. sell lists, coin show and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "h" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

BULL MARKET CONTINUES IRISH AUCTION PRODUCES STRONG PRICES

ACTIVITY

... across the market

by Kevin Foley

The Market for collectible paper money continued its pattern of broad strength. Last night's recent offering of the 1914 Irish Collection at auction in conjunction with an associated paper money (issue) can be regarded as a success. The Texas event was one of no less than five paper money shows which have or will be held this year.

The ability of the marketplace to support a growing number of dedicated specialty events demonstrates the growing breadth of the collector-dealer base. A prediction made a decade ago that 1997 would see five successful paper money shows might have been greeted with laughter. Yet, that is precisely what we will have this year.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

Collectors continue to be very much focused on this area. This growing demand continues to exert upward pressure on prices. Buyers also continue their emphasis on eye appeal, focusing on how generally attractive a note looks, regardless of its technical grade. This results in an overlap of prices from grade to grade. An especially nice looking example of a lower grade commanding a higher price than a piece of a technically superior grade.

The upper end of the quality spectrum, Choice and Gem Notes, are experiencing more demand than existing supplies are able to support. The result is a continuing pattern of price increases. Collectors, seeing Gem Notes soon learn that once they get beyond the half dozen or so most common notes their quest can be quite a challenge.

This recognition results in some unexpectedly high prices at auction. When multiple bidders focus on the same notes and realize it may be months or even much longer before another example is offered, the price guides tend to be abandoned as a bidding aid.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Small type continues to grow in popularity. Early Federal Reserve Notes are especially prominent in collector want lists. These once shunned notes amply demonstrate the growing breadth of the market. A decade ago they could typically be acquired for the most modest premiums over face. Whatever difficulty collectors faced in finding such notes was generally related to the fact that they were less responsive to wanting a different return on their money. Today the growing demand has called forth greater supply and early find is an often heard refrain. Its ad auction, then, up.

The Irish market continues to be the focus of intense collector interest. Prices in this specialty area are especially strong. This more unusual or spectacular the closer the higher the price. It seems that no matter how many errors are offered at an auction, bidders wait even more.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

Fractional continues to be the spotlight of the specialty areas. While very scarce and the highest quality choice and gem material enjoy strong demand, common pieces of more ordinary grades are less in demand.

There is simply more fractional available than collectors want to have. The result is that when offered at auction, prices can sometimes be rather spotty.

For buyers, this can represent repeated opportunities to acquire notes at relatively attractive levels. Until more people want to buy fractional this overall pattern can be expected to continue.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Nationals continue to enjoy considerable collector interest. "Type" National notes, existing in larger quantities and sought as representative of their general design type, rather than for their issuing bank, are much in demand at the higher quality levels. Buyers of such material can be quite frustrated at their inability to find what they are looking for. Too many buyers and not enough available material can only translate to higher prices in the future. Demand for National issue value is predicated on the scarcity of the issuing bank remains at historically high levels. Since collectors continue to specialize geographically, prices are also very much dependent on where a note is found in addition to its rarity. Some states are very much in demand while others represent less vigorous buyer interest.

Dealers who fail to keep informed of the many individual state markets can easily find themselves "buried" in a scarce note from a state with limited collector interest.

MISCELLANEOUS

The market for obsolete notes remains quite strong but continues to move toward the type of geographic specialization which characterizes the National market. Thus, place of origin can be as important as, if not more important, than general scarcity. Confederate Notes continue to be very popular as do Stocks and Bonds.

The Greensheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

Mark S. Schaefer

One of the most hotly debated topics in numismatics is another issue that an lead to a new way from toned coins. It seems that immediately by a fact of negative impact a seed of dealers and those to buy believe this.

coin market toward favoring untuned or "white" coins. Those possessing a coloration and it simply doesn't make any sense. It's only natural that old coins, particularly silver pieces, acquire various degrees and shades of color over time. This is one of the most charming qualities of antique coins that distinguish them from more recent issues and I believe collectors who don't already appreciate the virtues of toned coins should learn to do so.

In other areas of collectibles, the value of natural aging, or patina, is widely understood. In fact, experts in antique furniture frequently extol the virtue of such original patina and it often adds to the value of the object. I will agree that the original surfaces of a collectible item, no matter what its condition, are more desirable than any attempt to replicate its appearance when new.

It's not surprising that persons new to collecting coins will consider a shiny example to be more appealing than one that appears aged. I suppose we all have our first coin acquisitions before being taught as that this is not the thing to do with coins. So then, why do collectors still resist toned coins even when such pieces are so revered by experienced numismatists?

I believe the answer lies in the fact that some collectors and dealers perceive toning as a form of damage. Also, many are unable to distinguish original toning from so-called artificial toning and that induces both suspicion and fear. Yes, people do create toning on otherwise white coins for a variety of reasons. Sometimes, it's simply to make the piece more natural looking, but there are also times when it's done to conceal harsh cleaning or flaws in the coin such as hairline scratches or repairs. The fear of unknowingly acquiring these deceptive pieces seems to be behind the resistance many collectors and dealers have toward toned coins.

That's where certification makes the difference. While the originality of a coin's color can be subjective, the experts at the various grading services usually know the difference between a naturally toned original coin and one that has been altered in any way. Believe me, when it comes to "doctored" coins, we've seen nearly everything and that has only reinforced our appreciation of new original pieces. While encapsulated coins may not appeal to all collectors, no one is saying you can't buy such coins for the assurance they offer, and simply remove them from their holders. It's certainly better to have to rely on limited experience to determine whether a particular piece has a shady past.

While a coin that has very dark or otherwise unattractive toning may actually be improved by a skillful chemical dipping to remove the unsightly tarnish, many pieces are harmed through improper dipping. This is especially true when the work is being

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general."

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!"

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm. You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service. Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Mint State Gold Type Suffers GSA Dollars Active

The 61st Anniversary Convention of the Central States Numismatic Society is already in progress in Minneapolis, Minnesota. It began with PNG Day on May 4 and culminates May 7. This is usually one of the more active, well-attended shows held each year, attracting many knowledgeable collectors.

The sight-unseen market for Type Gold is certainly weak. Minus signs are prevalent as several denominations are suffering declines. In fact, Type Gold has been heading steadily downward for the last year. As you can see by the chart below, from a starting point of 568.34 in May of 1999, levels have declined to 501.38 for May of 2000.

To provide a specific example of significant declines in Gold Type, consider the $20 Liberty Type III and Saint-Gaudens Double Eagles. The included chart clearly shows how these coins have suffered since May of 1999. This weakness comes at a time when

CCDN Bids	PCGS MS63		PCGS MS64		PCGS MS65
Gold Type	5-99	5-00	5-99	5-00	5-99	5-00
$20 Liberty Type III	$575	$470	$1,040	$740	$2,700	$1,900

the price of Gold continues to trade below the $280 per ounce level.

The sight-unseen rare coin market for ANACS certified coins is steady this spring. Those holding ANACS material may be a little encouraged to know that a few supporting Bids are taking place in the Morgan Dollar series. Dealers are willing to pay full Bid for several Carson City Mint Morgans. The grades typically needed are MS63, MS64, MS65 and MS66. This interest is not surprising as Carson City Morgan Dollars are hot no matter how they are found. Dealers are buying "CC" Dollars whether they are in GSA holders, slabbed or raw. Silver Commemoratives are also realizing some demand in the ANACS sight-unseen market. Dealers are sporting Bids for several Commems throughout our chart. Overall, the market for ANACS graded and certified coins is steady.

Strong demand for the General Services Administration Carson City Morgan Dollars has become extremely selective. The interest for the common dates 1882-CC, 1883-CC and 1884-CC is there, but dealers are not so quick to increase their Bid. This is because these GSA Dollars are readily available in quantity. Still, the Bid and Ask have narrowed, and transactions are taking place on a regular basis. Demand for the tougher dates of the GSA series is still very strong. We see that Bids for the 1878-CC thru 1881-CC are increasing. However, the increases are very slight as more coins have become available at the higher levels. Even though the Bids are increasing, we do not see the same happening on the ask side of the market. This is because we are very close to an equilibrium, and transactions are readily occurring. The strongest portion of the GSA market is for the dates 1890-CC and 1891-CC. These two issues have been extremely volatile. Consequently, dealers are requesting a call for buy or sell interest for either of these dates. Interest is increasing for non "CC" GSA Dollars as well. We see Bids up to $68 for non "CC" GSA Dollars. Overall, GSA Morgans are enjoying tremendous appeal throughout the collecting hobby.

The "Nebraska Part III" New York City Spring Coin Auction #198, conducted by R.M. Smythe, will take place May 11. A special group of $5 and $10 Gold coins that have been encapsulated and graded by PCGS will be offered. This particular group is touted as having early certification by PCGS. R.M. Smythe writes that these coins have been encapsulated in the early to mid-1990s. Above, we have listed some of the PCGS examples scheduled to hit the auction block.

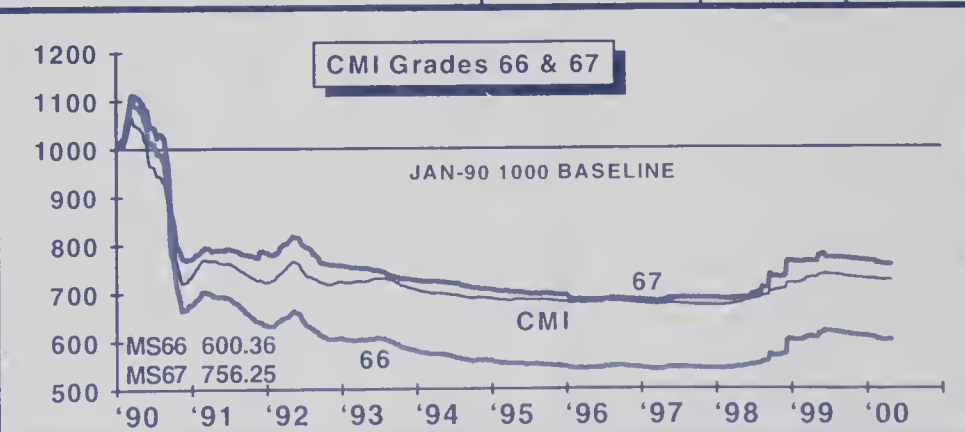

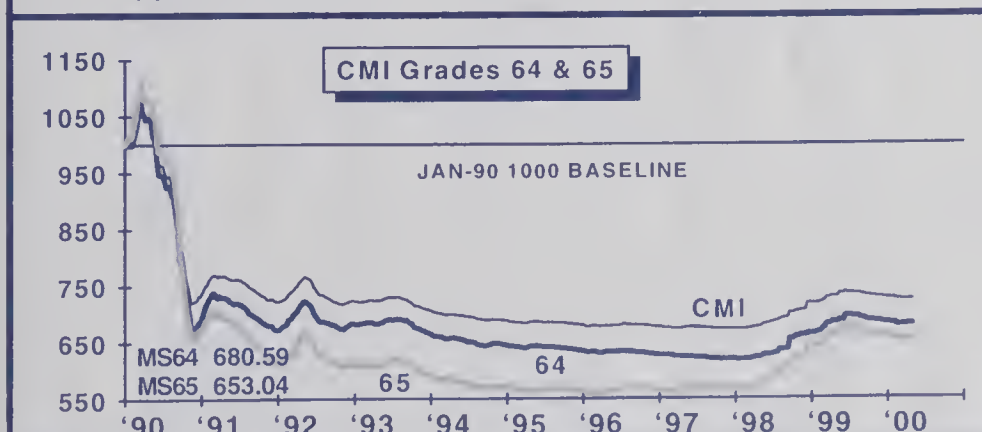

Stack's will host a New York City auction as well, May 10-11. The sale will feature Gold, Silver and Copper Coins. We have listed a few of the certified highlights above.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

Sight-Unseen Market Alive

Leading: Gold Commems, Buffalo Nickels, PL Morgans

Activity in the sight-unseen market has increased. This is usually the case following a major coin convention. The 61st Anniversary Convention of the Central States Numismatic Society concluded on May 7. The show left dealers feeling a little insecure about the state of the current market, yet many did agree that the show gained strength from beginning to end. Dealers got back to business as usual following their trip to Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Once at home, dealers are more upbeat and satisfied with the demand by their customers and their willingness to pay strong money for the coins that they need. The market for collector coins is very hot. These coins are not easily obtained, and when a chance arises to buy one or two, they are quickly bought.

Silver and Gold Commemoratives are very hot. Silver Commemoratives have been making their own noise with plus signs appearing with greater frequency. This week, The Booker T. Washington series got a boost for PCGS MS67 quality examples, where plus signs are found throughout. Strength is also occurring in the Washington Carver series. Again, it is the MS67 grade that is attracting all the Bidders' attention. Like the Booker T. Washington series, PCGS examples are being requested. Plus signs are appearing for other Silver Commemorative issues this week. Mainly MS65 and better quality Commems are in demand.

Gold Commems are much stronger than Silver Commems. The demand for this series is a continuation of the rising interest which has existed over the past few months. Plus signs are found throughout the entire, short series. Dealers are looking to buy MS64 and better quality for PCGS and NGC graded coins sight-unseen. The chart shows how prices have appreciated since May, 1999.

Type Gold continues to be a drag on the sight-unseen market. This is also the case in the sight-seen market. The prolonged weakness in the bullion markets has made collectors and investors less willing to take a position in common date numismatic Gold. Consequently, prices continue to suffer. Common date Gold in MS63 is suffering this week with trading occurring at lower levels.

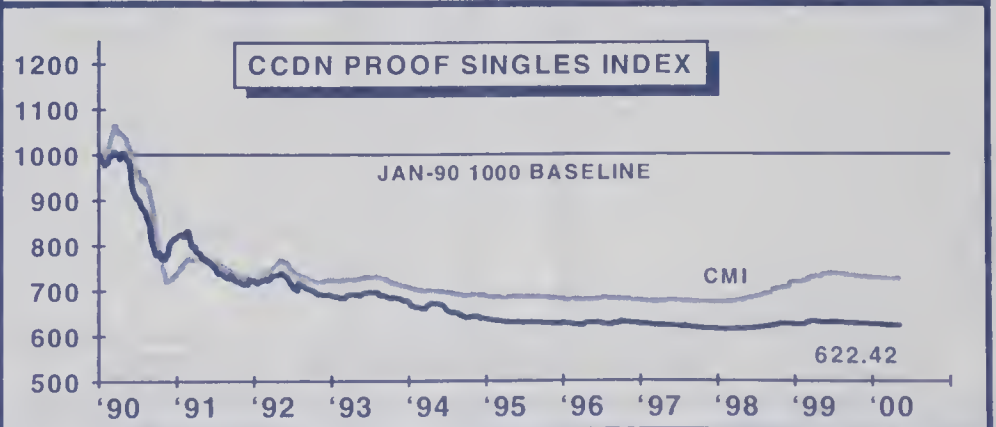

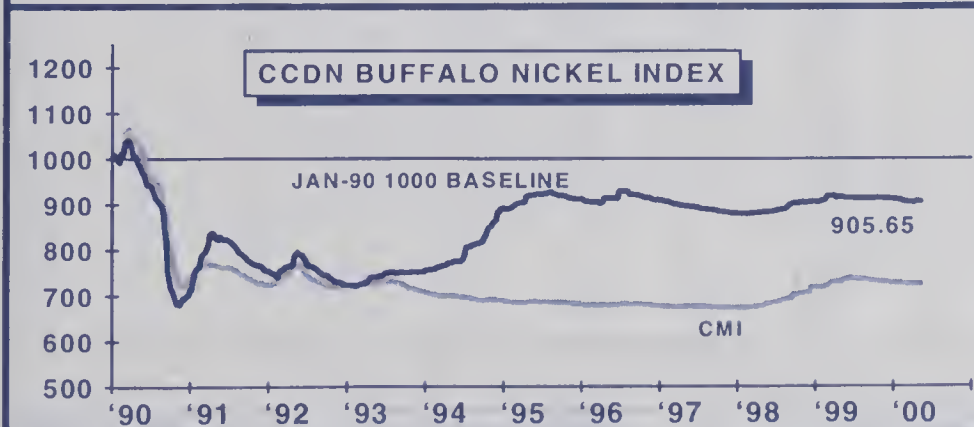

Buffalo Nickels and Prooflike Morgan Dollars are doing very well. The Buffalo Nickel chart has numerous plus signs throughout the series covering a wide range of dates and grades. The popularity of this series is well known, and the new collectors entering the market are excited about collecting these coins. Regarding Prooflike Morgans, many dealers believe that they have been undervalued. Therefore, Bids have been readily increasing in this series.

Quite a few high grade Morgan Dollars have minus signs appearing this week. The Heritage auctions held during the Central States Convention offered a large number of quality and rare Morgans. According to some Morgan specialists, there were not enough Dollar dealers in attendance to support the amount of fresh material offered. Consequently, a number of coins became good buys for astute dealers. While these results affect the sight-unseen market adversely, the demand throughout the sight-seen Dollar market remains apparent.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

It makes no difference if your coins are certified or not. Your coins can be a collection, hoard, dealer inventory, investor lot, family estate, or any other type of property.

Here's what some of Spectrum's satisfied clients have to say:
This is just a note to say "thank you" for the prompt attention, courteous service, and fair prices I received for the sale of my collection. Mr. Thad Olson is extremely knowledgeable, and I felt at ease and quite confident in dealing with him. His offer was more than 20% higher than I received elsewhere, which was both a pleasant surprise and a wonderful bonus for dealing with your company. I would certainly recommend Spectrum to my friends and associates without reservation.

I was very pleased with your offer. I also appreciated being spared the "critical analysis" most dealers feel they must go through before making an offer. I'm just sorry I didn't try your firm long ago. I'm convinced after my first sale to you that Spectrum is the place to go if you want honesty and fair dealing.

I have done business with Spectrum for the past eight years and every transaction has been totally satisfactory. Whether it was my most recent sale ($700) or the one in 1995 for over $100,000 (remember that one?) everyone has been friendly, professional, and fair.

Spectrum has a commitment to customer satisfaction that is unsurpassed in the rare coin industry. Let us help you to realize the most money for your coins. Give us an opportunity to serve you.

Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100

44-COIN HOT LIST ♦ 44-COIN BLACKLIST

Foreword by Q. David Bowers

"Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100 is potentially enriching, educational and enlightening. It provides market-oriented information against a rich backdrop of the history and lore of coins. Top 88 is far more than just an investment book - it's a landmark work that opens the world of coinage to the reader!

♦ R.W. Julian, numismatic researcher and scholar

Buying and selling rare coins can be a hit-or-miss proposition - unless you get expert directions. This book by well-known New York City coin dealer Scott A. Travers, with a foreword by Q. David Bowers, is a perfect guide.

In The Top 88, Travers draws a road map detailing both the hits and the misses - the coins that in his opinion represent good value at current market levels and those in his opinion you should steer clear of. He identifies 44 winners and 44 losers, puts them in historical perspective and vividly describes why each could be your best or worst coin buy. The list runs the gamut from classic U.S. coinage of the nation's early years to such modern-day issues as the Susan B. Anthony dollar.

You'll learn that winners and losers can exist side by side within the very same series. And you'll see how a given coin can sometimes be a winner in one grade, or level of preservation, and yet be a loser in a grade just a little bit higher or lower.

This book, like a piano, provides you with 88 keys that will help you make beautiful music - only this time, according to Travers, you'll be singing all the way to the bank if you play the right "notes" in buying coins.

You'll learn about:

- The elements of value
- Independent third-party grading
- The age of type coins
- Opinions relating to what coins are "losers"
- A list of coins that are "winners"
- Why every coin listed has something to like and something to dislike
- One-year type coins
- Generic Morgan dollars
- Commemorative coins
- Mint-error coins
- Uncirculated late-date coins
- Late-date proof sets from 1968 to date
- Marketplace data and expert opinions on every listed coin
- Meticulously researched historical information

Gold Type Weak; Morgans Attract Bidders Bass Auction On The Horizon

The Morgan Dollar series is one of the most popular denominations with collectors. The expanding collector base has definitely had an effect on this area of numismatics. As the interest in coins increases, so does the demand for specific dates and grades in the Dollar series. Dealers are actively pursuing Morgans to sell to their customers, and demand has increased for sight-unseen Uncirculated issues. This interest has been especially noticeable among the slightly better dates of the series. We see activity taking place in a whole range of Mint State grades for both NGC and PCGS certified Dollars. Demand is strong for the initial year of the Morgans, 1878. Dealers are looking to buy all the varieties that bombard this first year Dollar. Increases are evident for the 1878 8 Tail Feathers; 1878 7/8 Tail Feathers (strong strike); 1878 7 Tail Feathers; 1878 7 Tail Feathers reverse of 1879; 1878-CC; and the 1878-S.

Carson City Morgans continue to be sought-after. Increases are taking place for the early, relatively common dates of the series, including 1878-CC and 1880-CC thru 1885-CC. Uncirculated examples are needed from MS61 thru MS65. Some demand is even chasing MS66 examples. The balance of the series is realizing steady, supporting Bids at current levels. Peace Dollars are quiet, although common dates in MS65 and MS66 condition are a bit weak.

Gold is generally soft in the sight-unseen market. Bullion prices continue only to tread water as the market remains on the weak side. Type Gold is down with minus signs dominating this week's chart. Also, there are more minus than plus signs appearing in this week's $20 Saint-Gaudens chart. Mostly, the common dates grading MS61 thru MS65 are experiencing some selling pressure. Some scarcer issues are decreasing as well. However, not all is down with the Saints. Strength is noticeable for the popular 1907 High Reliefs. Both NGC and PCGS are displaying increases this week.

Decreases are apparent for Standing Liberty Quarters. Common and some scarce dates have decreased this week in the sight-unseen market. In recent weeks and months, several SLQ collections have been dispersed on the market. It is possible that this supply has put some pressure on prices. There are also some plus signs that may surprise you. Overall, the results are mixed. Franklin Half Dollar Bid has increased in MS67 for the most common dates of the series. In the Type market, Barber coinage continues to have dealer interest as Bids increase again, though select issues are decreasing from previous levels.

Dealers and collectors will do battle May 25-26 in New York City when Part III of the Harry W. Bass, Jr., collection hits the auction block.

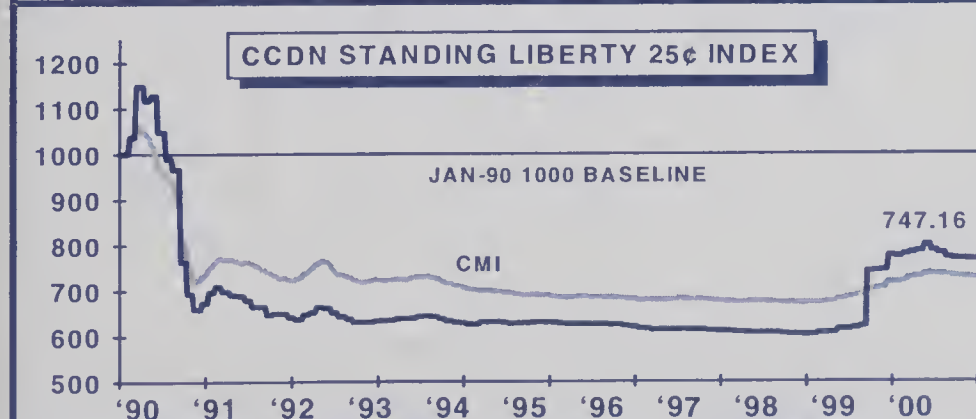

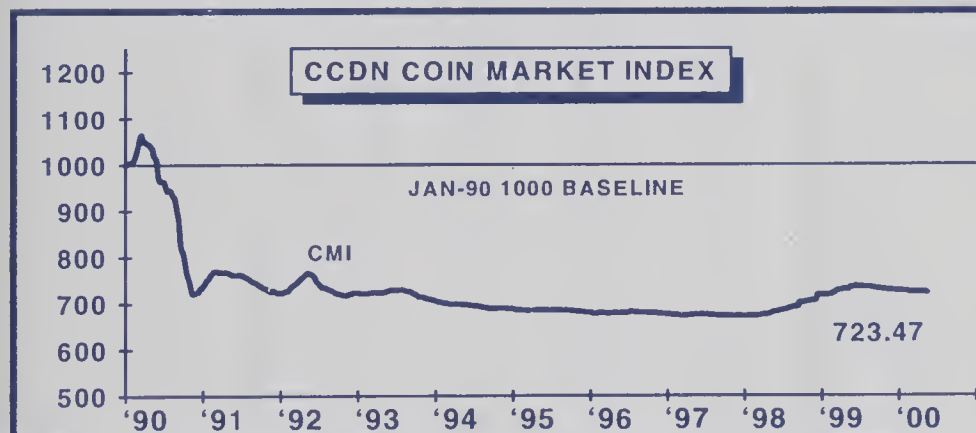

The sale, conducted by Bowers and Merena, will feature Gold coins exclusively. There are 920 lots in all with only one Gold Territorial issue.

We have listed a few of the many certified highlights from this auction.

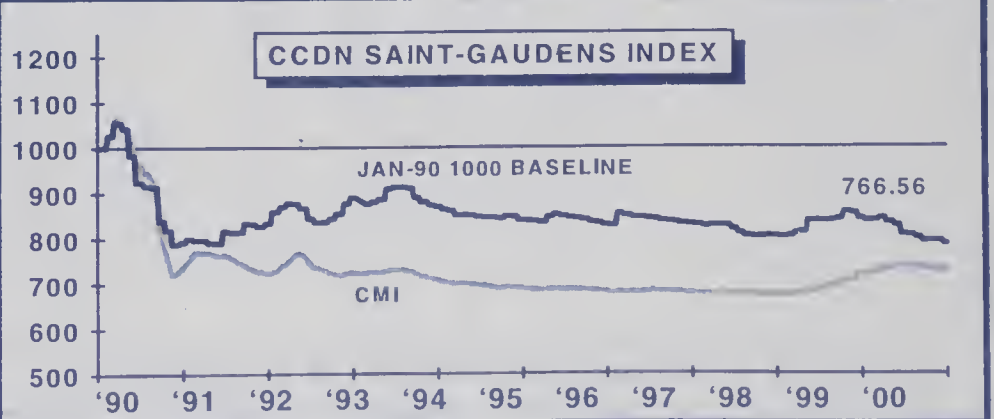

The "Nebraska Part III" New York City Spring Coin Auction was held May 11 and realized nearly $600,000. The sale by R.M. Smythe featured a collection of $5 and $10 Gold.

The Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

WE CAN CREATE A LEGEND FOR YOU

- ★ Legend Numismatics carries an extensive inventory of PCGS & NGC certified coins: 1/2¢ thru Gem Proof $20. In 1999 we offered over 5,000 coins worth more than 17.8 million dollars in Opportunity Knocks, our monthly newsletter and website.
- ★ Last year we located and placed 4.1 million dollars worth of coins for our want list customers.
- ★ Members of Legend Numismatics personally attend every major show and auction that is held.
- ★ Members of Legend Numismatics' staff have experience of over 22 years as full time coin dealers. Few other firms have the experience, abilities and contacts equal to Legend.
- ★ Quality is our obsession. We know you can't build a great collection without it!
- ★ We don't mess around. We've seen other dealers who make outrageous claims, play games, and B.S. the customer. That's not Legend. Repeat business/true loyalty is what we're about. We have the record to prove it!
- ★ Your business is important to us. Whether it's building your dream collection or just adding a coin to a set, Legend Numismatics is 100% committed to helping you attain your goals and making your numismatic experience with us both enjoyable and rewarding.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

Generics Suffering Los Angeles June Auctions Scheduled

The market for sight-unseen rare coins continues to find dealers willing to Bid to satisfy their needs. While many are content to Bid at current levels, some stronger Bidders are aggressively increasing the ante. Still, some discounting is taking place, mostly for common date generic issues. The bulk of the selling appears to be among Mint State Gold Type. A lack of buyers at current levels is mainly responsible for the decline.

Increases are evident in the Buffalo Nickel chart. Plus signs are numerous for MS64 thru MS66 examples. Gem quality examples of early date Buffalo Nickels are always a collector favorite. Collector/investors like adding several of these Nickels to their portfolios as well. The tough Denver and San Francisco Mint Buffalo Nickels in the teens and twenties are realizing strong demand. Some Denver Mint issues needed include 1913-D Type 1 and 2 thru 1920-D. Coins that are tough to find with strong strikes are especially needed. Many difficult to locate San Francisco Mint Buffaloes are on want lists. Some of these include the 1913-S Type 2; 1915-S; 1917-S; 1918-S; 1919-S; 1920-S; 1921-S; 1924-S; and 1926-S.

Weakness continues to plague the Morgan and Peace Dollar markets. This weakness is primarily targeting the most common dates of each series. There just does not seem to be anyone willing to step up to plate and offer strong sight-unseen Bids for common date Dollars. Consequently, Morgans grading MS64, MS65 and MS66 are noticeably soft at the present time. Common date Peace Dollars are drifting lower in MS65 and MS66. Since many of the most common dates are available in quantity, it is tough for current demand to catch up to the supply. This situation may reverse itself in the near future, as dealers continue to tell us that the collector base is expanding by the day. The internet and other forms of media have introduced coins to a public eager to learn. The Circulating Commemorative State Quarter program has done its share to keep the fire burning. Interest in Morgan and Peace Dollars has always been strong with longtime collectors. Therefore, it is easy to believe that new collectors will eventually graduate to Dollars from Quarters given time and a little education.

Public auctions have been numerous this spring. May has been very busy, and we see that June is shaping up to be even more active. Many rare and scarce varieties appear via public auction. Dealers will be hoping to fill some of their customer want lists by being a successful bidder at public auction.

The Dr. Jon Kardatzke Collection Part II featuring United States coins will be held in Los Angeles June 4-6. The sale will be conducted by Ira and Larry Goldberg Coins and Collectibles. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights from that sale.

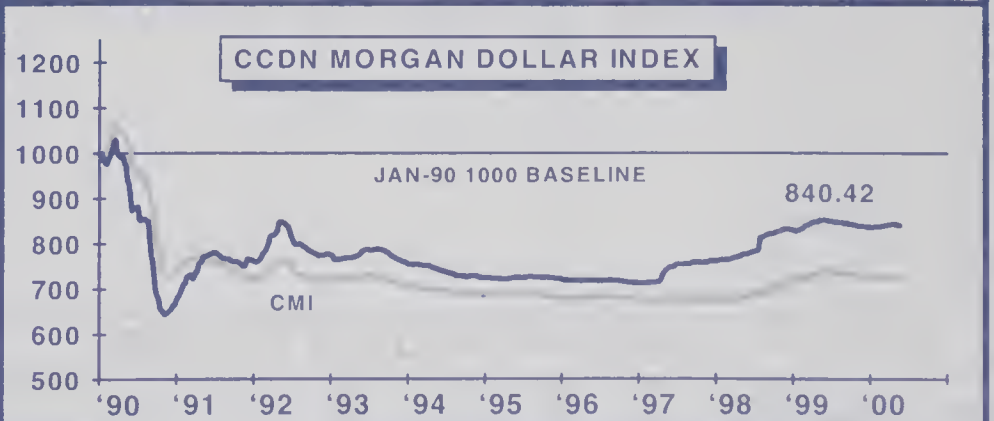

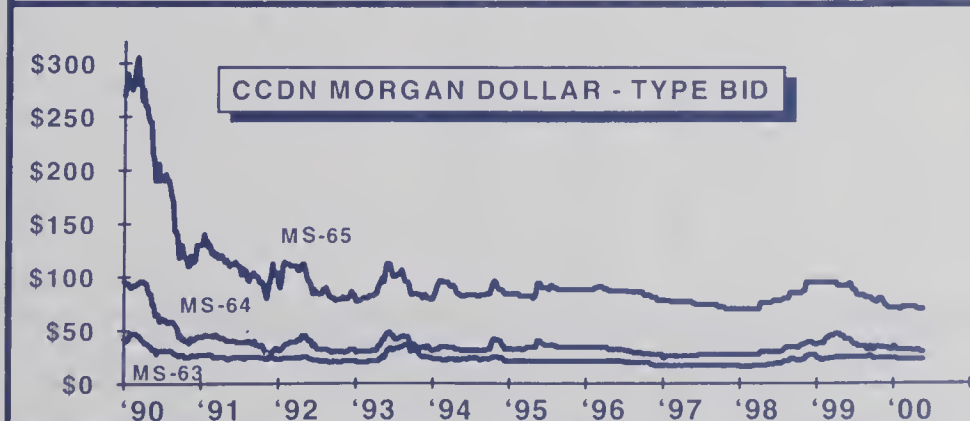

The Pre Long Beach Sale of United States, World, and Ancient Coinage featuring the C. Douglas Smith collection of U.S. Large Cents, Part I will be held June 5-7 in Beverly Hills, California. The sale is being conducted by Superior Galleries and will also feature the Paul R. Gougelman collection of U.S. Small Cents. Among the many highlights, we have listed only a few of those that are certified. All the Large Cents are raw, however.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading network. sell has been shown and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

NEED TO MAIL?

Need to contact America's leading numismatic dealers? Make your advertising and postage dollars count with America's best dealer listing. The company name and numismatist sections of the

are available for rental. Since the Directory is fully copyrighted, this is your only source for this proven list of approximately 5,000+ current names and addresses. And current is a promise taken seriously - the data base is updated daily. All for only $325 - well below the mailing industry standard of $75/thousand.

To make this offer even more attractive, labels are available in both standard (First Class) order or Presorted for Basic Bulk Rate (Third Class) mailings (you can save more than $425 over First Class postage rates!). Need just one state or region? Need a trial sample? Contact us for details!

YES, I want to order mailing labels averaging 5,000+ names from the 2000 Numismatic Dealer Directory. I understand that my $325 fee entitles me to only one usage of these names. _____ signature

"Little Princess" Draws King's Ransom At Bass Sale

Demand For Semi-keys, Buffalos, Gold Commems Evident

May is going out with a bang as the Harry W. Bass, Jr. Collection Part III realized $6,434,837. The auction was conducted by Bowers and Merena in New York, May 25-26. The sale brought much enthusiasm from collectors and collector/investors in attendance. Dealers specializing in rare date Gold were surprised. They said they did not spend the amount of money at this sale that had been budgeted because of the better than expected strong competition. Part III of the Bass collection auction contained all Gold. The strong Bids occurring for rare date Gold are a good sign for this segment of the market as well as the overall rare coin market. Among the sale's many highlights, we have listed a few of the certified examples.

This week, the sight-unseen market is modestly active. As we have seen in the sight-seen market, Bids have increased across-the-board for Gold Commemoratives in the sight-unseen market. On the Bluesheet — where we have a Mint State 67 column — plus signs are occurring in this high state of preservation. The bottom line is that quality Uncirculated Gold Commemoratives are needed. Plus signs are evident in grades from MS64 thru MS67. Even though prices have increased in this relatively short series, they are extremely marketable because most issues are below $5,000 in grades up to MS66. This appears to be a very attractive price range for collectors and collector/investors.

Buffalo Nickels continue to attract attention in the sight-unseen market, and Bids are increasing throughout the series. The MS65 and MS66 grades seem to be the most sought-after. Buyers are looking to satisfy the demand of collectors and collector/investors of this extremely popular series.

ANACS graded and encapsulated coins are mixed this week. We see that common date Morgan Dollars grading MS64 are increasing slightly. Bid is now at $27. Otherwise, ANACS Morgans are stable, and trades are taking place. ANACS Mint State Type Coins have suffered some declines this week. A lack of Bidding coupled with some coins being discounted are contributing to the declines. Generally, Bids are stable throughout the ANACS section this week.

Carson City GSA Morgan Dollars are currently displaying more minus signs than we have grown accustomed to over the past few years. There is still a great deal of demand for these coins, but since the large run-up in price, some dealers are willing to sell at current levels. In some cases, the sales are at current Bid levels. Still, the collector and collector/investor markets for GSA Carson City Morgan Dollars continue to grow. Demand is increasing for non-CC GSA Dollars as well. Those Dollars struck at the Philadelphia and New Orleans Mints are realizing $70 Bids while San Francisco Mint examples can receive $75.

Increases are seen among NGC and PCGS Morgan Dollars for several semi-keys. Dealers are looking to buy the San Francisco Mint Dollars from 1886-1888, as well as the 1889-O and the 1890-CC. They are looking for these dates in grades from MS61 thru MS64. These dates are almost always needed by new collectors. Also, collector/investors see these dates as a potentially good value, worthy of purchase.

Sight-Unseen Bidding Active Small Cents Stand Tall At Superior Auction

The sight-unseen rare coin market is slightly more active than normally seen during a major coin show. The Long Beach Expo is underway in Southern California. It began with dealer set-up June 7 and will culminate June 11. This show, one of three Long Beach shows held each year, is usually looked at as the kick-off for the summer market. Large crowds are expected to attend to view the extremely popular "Ship of Gold," and participate in the Commemorative Quarter frenzy.

This week's activity finds several segments of the market enjoying some interest. Proof Singles have a scattered number of plus signs throughout the chart, as well as quite a few dealers willing to Bid at current levels. Supporting Bids are evident in Proof 65 and Proof 66 Jefferson Nickels. The early dates from 1938 thru 1942 are mostly sought-after. Supporting interest is also present for Walking Liberty and Franklin Half Dollar Proofs. Proof 62 and better grades are attracting the Bids for Halves. Plus signs appear this week for NGC and PCGS Proof Half Dollars.

The whole Buffalo Nickel series is hot. Increases are noted for 1936 and 1937 Buffalo Nickels. These two Nickel Proofs are important to the two early Proof Sets. Many of these Proof coins are popular with collectors. Consequently, the demand for this material continues to be strong. Demand for Matte Proof Buffalo Nickels is responsible for higher Bids in this short, but important series. Increases are found in the popular and tough to locate 1913 Variety 1, 1914 and 1916. Buyers are looking for quality Nickels grading Proof 65 or better. Also, Mint State Buffalos are in demand in MS64 thru MS66.

Prooflike Morgan Dollars are sporting a considerable number of plus signs this week. Interest for Prooflike Dollars has been picking up. The last time we published PL Morgans, MS64 and MS65 grades were strong. This time, MS63 PL Dollars are increasing. The common dates are receiving the lion's share of the demand. Interest is also taking place among MS65 Prooflike Carson City Dollars. Again, it is the common date "CC" Dollars that are advancing. Non PL Morgan common dates are slightly higher in MS64 while common date Peace Dollars are up in MS65.

Washington Quarters are continuing to attract dealer interest. This series has been a very popular one among collectors. It has been revitalized since the release of the State Quarters by the U.S. Mint. Dealers have been actively building an inventory of this long series in anticipation of the demand from new collectors. There has been a number of State Quarter collectors working on complete sets of Washington Quarters. The early, tough dates of the series have been especially sought-after. This week, increases are seen among the 1934-D, 1935-S, 1938, 1938-S and 1939 issues. We know that interest continues for the key 1932-D and -S Quarters in every grade.

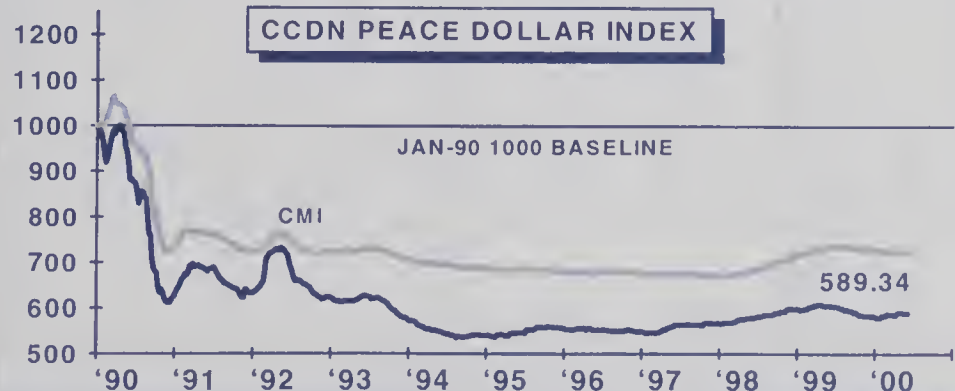

The June 5-7 Pre-Long Beach Sale featuring the C. Douglas Smith collection of Large Cents and the Paul R. Gougelman collection of Small Cents realized more than $3.5 million. The auction was conducted by Superior Galleries and held in their office gallery in Beverly Hills, CA. We have listed a few U.S. certified highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The virtue of toned coins

he must have debated the topic in his mind for some time before he decided to write this article. It seems that he has an office or letter to the editor in his mind. He is not a collector, but he is a writer. He is a writer who is interested in the history of coins. He is a writer who is interested in the history of coins. He is a writer who is interested in the history of coins.

There is a very dark or otherwise mottled coin that may actually be improved by a skillful chemical dipping. Many people are harmed through improper dipping. In a machine to do it properly. Such carelessness can lead to a coin that acquires a less attractive appearance, staining or a loss of luster. Leaving the coin with a flat, lifeless look. Letting non-serviced coins deteriorate in such a way is a shame. More appreciation for the original coins.

coin market today, favoring untoned coins. It is only natural that old coins, particularly silver pieces, acquire various degrees and shades of color over time. This is one of the most charming qualities of antique coins that distinguish them from more recent issues. And I believe collectors who don't already appreciate the virtues of toned coins should learn to do so.

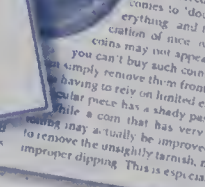

In other areas of collectibles, the value of natural aging, or patina, is widely understood. In fact, experts in antique furniture frequently extol the virtue of such original patina, and it often adds to the value of the object. Even collectors of toy trains or mechanical banks will agree that the original surfaces of a collectible item, no matter what its condition, are more desirable than any skilled attempt to replicate its appearance when new.

It is not surprising that persons new to collecting coins will consider a shiny example to be more appealing than one that appears aged. I suppose we all bought our first coin acquisitions before placing them in our Whitman folders, but time and experience soon taught us that this is not the thing to do with coins. So then why do collectors still resist toned coins even when such pieces are so revered by experienced numismatists?

I believe the answer lies in the fact that some collectors and dealers perceive toning as a form of damage. Also many are unable to distinguish original toning from so-called artificial toning, and that induces both suspicion and fear. Yes, people do create toning on otherwise white coins for a variety of reasons. Sometimes it is simply to make the piece more natural looking, but there are also times when it is done to conceal harsh cleaning or flaws in the coin such as hair-line scratches or repairs. The fear of unknowingly acquiring these deceptive pieces seems to be behind the resistance many collectors and dealers have toward toned coins.

That is where certification makes the difference. While the originality of a coin's color can be subjective, the experts at the various grading services usually know the difference between a naturally toned, original coin and one that has been altered in any way. Believe me, when it comes to "doctored" coins, we've seen nearly everything, and that has only reinforced our appreciation of nice, original pieces. While encapsulating you can't buy such coins for the assurance they offer, simply remove them from their holders. It's certainly better having to rely on limited experience to determine whether a coin has a shady past.

Reading may actually be improved by a skillful chemical dipping to remove the unsightly tarnish. Many pieces are harmed through improper dipping. This is especially true when the work is being

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general.

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm. You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service. Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Modern Coins Are The Rage Demand Fuels Bidding

The sight-unseen rare coin market continues to demonstrate its resiliency. Strong demand for coins has been the catalyst. Dealers tell us that more and more new collectors are working on sets. Initially, this increase in the collector base came about because of the Fifty State Commemorative Quarter program, but it goes beyond the State Quarters. Rare coins and numismatics in general began a new chapter within the last part of the 20th century. The U.S. Mint increased its production and variety of Commemoratives of all kinds. One quick glance at our list of Modern Commemoratives found in the Coin Dealer Newsletter — the Greysheet will give you the idea. Also, the Silver, Gold and Platinum American Eagle bullion coins have provided another avenue for budding new collectors. Add to that scenario the 1999 Susan B. Anthony Dollar and the 2000 Sacagawea Dollar, and it becomes more clear. Finally, the design changes to our Paper Money, including the $5, $10, $50 and $100 Notes, have fanned the flames. As a result, the collector base has definitely expanded, and interest is growing.

Dealers are trying to accommodate this new demand by putting together complete sets of modern issues. This task is not as easy as it seems. They are finding that they have to pay more to obtain the coins they need. The trickle down effect is occurring as new collectors graduate from the Washington Quarter series to other modern series. Demand for Lincoln Cents, Jefferson Nickels, Roosevelt Dimes and Kennedy Half Dollars is evident. Dealers are looking for coins to complete these sets and are willing to pay very strong money for high quality examples. Consequently, Mint Sets and Proof Sets continue to trade at very healthy levels. This demand continues unabated. Dealers are actively pursuing these coins via the electronic dealer networks. Offers to buy sets in quantity are numerous, and virtually always for sets sight-unseen.

This week, we are finding many supporting Bids for coins of various dates and denominations. Morgan Dollars are steady with a slight increase taking place in the MS65 category. This is welcome news as this grade among the common dates has been under pressure. Peace Dollars are mixed as common dates remain active.

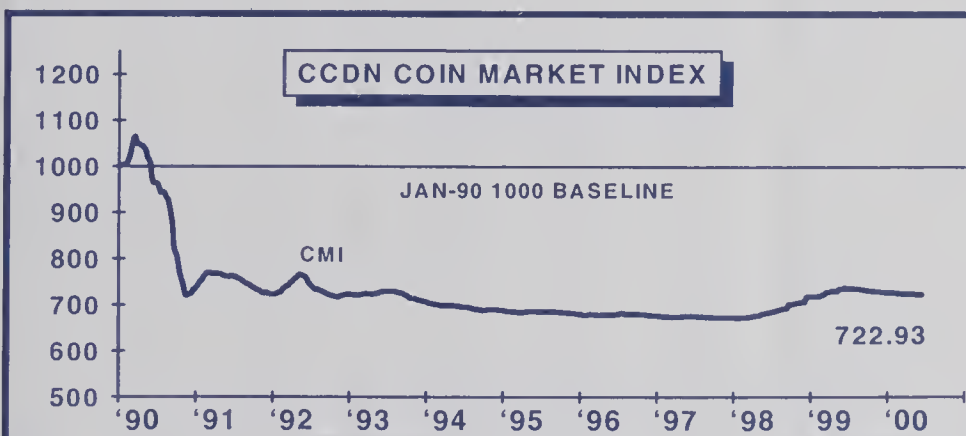

Commemoratives continue to shine. This week, Silver Commems are taking the spotlight. Quality is the key for dealers. They have increased their Bids for Commems in MS66 and MS67 in the sight-unseen market. The Booker T. Washington and Washington Carver PDS sets are the target of this demand. Interest is strong as collectors are looking to buy complete sets. Gold Commems are stable after significant gains in recent weeks, and there are many supporting Bids at these new levels.

Minus signs are the order of the day for the $20 Saint-Gaudens series. Mostly, it is the common dates that have declined slightly. However, strength continues to be seen among the 1907 High Relief issues. Demand for this item remains strong. Many collector/investors are looking to add one of these coins to his or her portfolio.

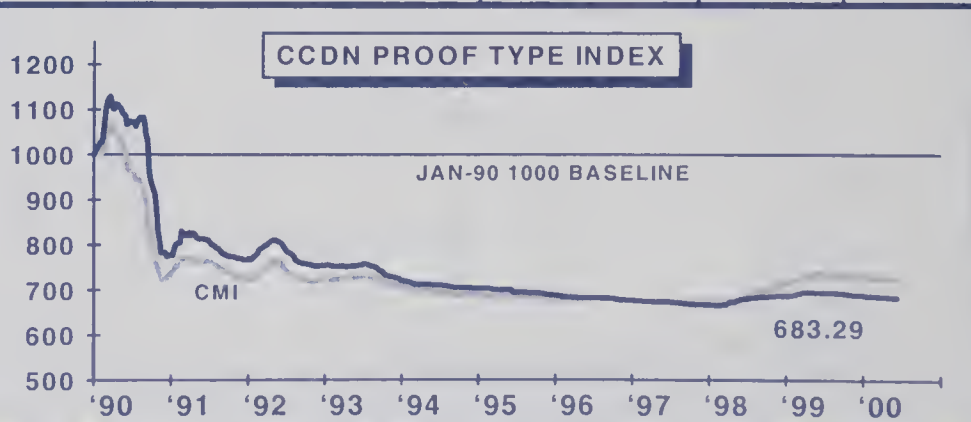

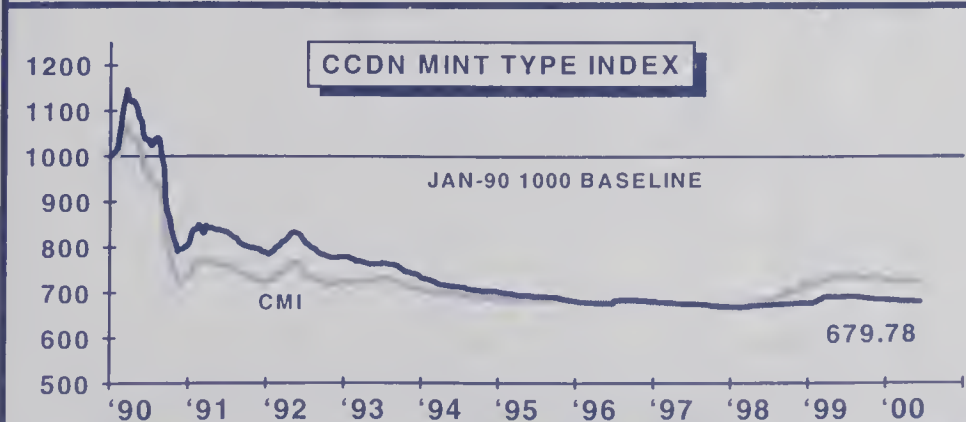

Slight declines are found for common date Standing Liberty Quarters in MS65. We do note that the market for Standing Liberty Quarters is beginning to firm as supporting Bids are becoming evident.

Mint Type and Proof Type coins are stable at current levels. Demand for Type continues to be most sound at the MS64 and PR64 and above levels. Collectors are encouraged to buy the best quality they can afford, and these grade levels seem attractive. Rare coins that trade between $500 and $5,000 often fit the budget of most collector/investors.

Mint State Gold Type has only a few minus signs this week. This segment of the market has been hit in recent weeks, but it appears to be turning the corner. As the price of Gold bullion continues to firm, common date Mint State Type Gold will normally follow.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Gold Treasure Auction Realizes $5.5 Million Select Morgans Attract Sight-Unseen Bidders

Interest in common date Morgan Dollars in the sight-seen market has carried over to the sight-unseen market. Dealers have stepped up the Bidding for such coins because they believe levels have fallen too far. This week, Bids are up for common date Morgans in MS64 and MS65. These increases are slight, but a reversal is clearly noted. The common date segment of the Morgan and Peace Dollar markets had been under selling pressure for some time. Also, several increases for better date Morgans have occurred as of late. Bid jumps begin at 1890-O and are found with regularity thru 1899-S. The increases are generally small, but numerous. Specifically, dealers are looking for Mint State Dollars grading MS61 thru MS64. Most of the dates in this date run are very affordable to collectors, with levels between $30 and $200. However, there are some better dates needed that are above $1,000, including the 1893-CC, 1893-O, 1894, 1895-S and 1896-S. These are all highly desirable semi-key dates.

Gold Commems continue to command strong Bids. Plus signs are found for NGC and PCGS coins in MS64 thru MS67. Most issues are rising except for the two $50 Pan-Pacific issues. As you can see by our chart, all categories of the CCDN Coin Market Index have decreased from one year ago (June 25, 1999) with one exception — Gold Commemoratives. Recently, as we have reported, Gold Commems have had remarkable popularity and demand in both the sight-seen and sight-unseen markets.

Gold Type, on the other hand, has decreased significantly from last year. A possible explanation for this weakness may be the recent softness in the Gold bullion market. Another contributor may have been the huge Y2K scare, which caused a run up in Gold Type last year. Proof Gold Type, which is less reactive to Gold bullion fluctuations, is the steadiest of all CMI categories, decreasing only slightly from a year ago. Interestingly, Gold dominates the most significant points of the spectrum for the entire CMI comparison, marking the greatest change with Gold Type, the least change with Proof Gold and the only increase with Gold Commems.

Sight-unseen demand is also taking place among Proof Singles. Specifically, Buffalo Nickels are displaying slight increases this week. While early Matte Proof Buffalos receive a lot of attention, we are referring to the later date issues of 1936 and 1937. Collector/investors are looking to add Proof Buffalos to their collections. The easiest and most affordable way of succeeding in this endeavor is to buy either a 1936 or 1937.

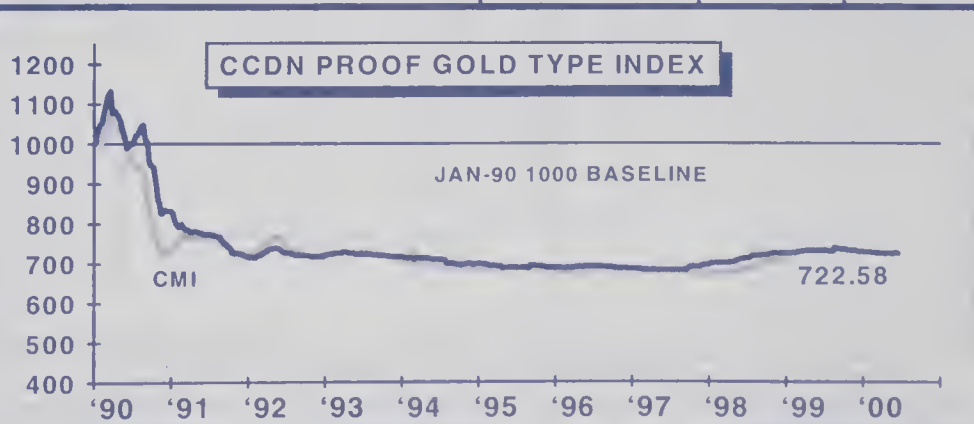

Mint State and Proof Type are relatively firm at current levels. We see many strong supporting Bids for Type. The collector base is solid in this area of the rare coin market. Generally, collectors are satisfied with a common date in each category for Type. However, they do not mind paying a little more money to obtain a slightly better date to add to their Type collections.

Stack's June 13-14 auction of United States Coins and Paper Money realized approximately $1.4 million. The sale took place in New York, and it featured selections from the Dr. Donald J. Craite collection and the Edyth Bush Charitable Foundation, Inc. Rare date Gold, early Copper and early Type showed spirited Bidding and interest.

Sotheby's of New York conducted an auction of the Treasures from the S.S. Central America June 20-21 in New York City. This sale, that had originally been scheduled for December 8-9, realized approximately $5.5 million. All of the auction's 250 lots sold. They consisted of Gold coins, bars, ingots and dust. This material was found approximately 8,000 feet below the surface of the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of South Carolina. Mostly, Double Eagle "S" Mint Gold from 1856 and 1857 was on the block.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers and are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell list coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder
In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis

are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

The Coin Collector's Survival Manual – Revised Third Edition by Scott A. Travers

BEFORE YOU MAKE YOUR NEXT COIN PURCHASE, TAKE A COMPLETE COURSE IN COIN BUYING AND SELLING FOR AS LITTLE AS $14.95.

"This is the book about the coin business you can't afford to be without." -Hank Gilman, business editor, NEWSWEEK

"One of the most important coin books ever written." -The New York Times

"Should be read before a single coin is bought - and read again and again!" -Coin World

UNPRECEDENTED FIVE-TIME NUMISMATIC LITERARY GUILD AWARD WINNER

Traditionally, learning a lesson in the rare coin market has been very expensive. You would buy a coin for $500, find out later that it was worth only $50, and, thus, you would have to pay $450 to learn just one lesson. But now, thanks to the revised third edition of The Coin Collector's Survival Manual, by Scott A. Travers, you no longer have to pay a fortune to learn about how to buy and sell coins profitably.

This thoroughly revised edition examines the coin field from an insider's perspective and continues to break new ground in revealing the ins and outs of coin collecting and investing. Excellent photographs and detailed charts amplify the encyclopedic, clearly written, meticulously organized text. You'll learn about the following:

- How to look at coins the way the professionals do
- How to determine what a coin is worth and what grade the leading certification services would assign to it
- How to spot slight friction on otherwise "Gem" coins
- How to tell the difference between proof and prooflike
- How lighting affects appearance
- Altered and counterfeit detection techniques
- How to judge price guide accuracy

- Selecting and testing a coin dealer
- How not to get ripped of if you buy coins through the mail
- Profitable - and not-so-profitable - liquidation techniques
- How to buy and sell at conventions like the pros do
- How to spot a cleaned and artificially toned coin
- How to choose a non-destructive coin holder and the storage method right for you.

SPECIAL SECTIONS ON:

- Doctored coins, how to detect them, and the case of the doctored hoard of gold rarities that got slabbed
- The real truth about slab services and "fixed grading standard" claims
- Premium quality coins (then and now)
- Startling revelations from a leading coin trader
- A grading service founder's bombshell admission of modified standards
- The newest tax laws

NEW information in the revised edition covers:

- Cool coin internet web sites
- Requirements of the new FTC telemarketing act
- The real facts behind the toning corrosion controversy

and much, much more!

Popular Series Power Sight-Unseen Market NY, IL & CA Auctions Total $3.853 Million

The sight-unseen rare coin market is holding its own as we begin the second half of the year. Interest is found among the popular series. We see that active Bidding is fueling increases in the Silver Commemorative series. Plus signs are scattered throughout the Commem chart. The Bidding is targeting coins grading MS64 thru MS67. Dealers are trying to buy coins to fill orders and add to their inventory. Some of their needs include the Alabama Centennial; Bridgeport Centennial; Cleveland Great Lakes Expo; Huguenot Walloon Tercentenary; Rhode Island Tercentenary; Booker T. Washington issues; and, the Washington Carver sets.

Morgan Dollars are receiving their share of the Bidder's attention. Plus signs are most prevalent among the better date San Francisco Mint issues and New Orleans examples. Also, the 1878 varieties are needed in many grades. Dealers want all the varieties and are willing to increase their Bid to be successful. Carson City issues continue to be looked at favorably by dealers.

An explosion of plus signs are found in our PCGS Buffalo Nickel chart. Dealers are trying to buy coins grading MS64 thru MS66. Demand is strong for many dates up to 1930. A lot of key and semi-key dates are being targeted. A number of collectors working on assembling Uncirculated sets continue to help keep prices strong. Availability is still a concern as dealers try to satisfy their customer's needs.

The busy month of June for rare coin auctions is nearly completed. We feature three sales that took place from June 22-27. Demand continues to be strong for coins needed by collectors and collector/investors. Dealers are willing to Bid aggressively, when necessary to buy the coins they need to complete transactions.

On June 22-23 a Bowers and Merena auction realized $2.018 million. The sale featured the Paul S. Mory, Sr., collection. The auction was held in Rosemont, Illinois. We offer just a few of the sale's certified rare coin highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Non "CC" Issues Make Their Bluesheet Debut Mule Auctioned On eBay

Beginning with this issue, Bluesheet is including Bids for General Services Administration Non "CC" Morgan Dollars. Demand for the Non "CC" issues has grown in recent years, and this interest has been riding the long coat tails of the GSA "CC" Morgans. Many collectors are looking to buy non "CC" dates. Therefore, it is easy to see why Bids have been increasing. It appears that the rare non "CC" date is the 1903-O, now Bid at $350. The vast majority of Philadelphia and New Orleans Mint non "CC" issues trade below $90. Also, the San Francisco Mint issues trade just below $100. Consequently, these issues should be able to fit many a collector's budget. They are trading at a level similar to the most common date GSA "CC" Mint issues.

This week, the market for GSA "CC" Dollars is steady to slightly higher. The key date 1879-CC is unchanged, although the spread has narrowed. The semi-key dates, 1890-CC and 1891-CC, are down this week. After a huge run-up, these dates were due for a correction. Consequently, some coins were offered on the market at lower levels. Bluesheet is also adding a couple issues to the list of GSA "CC" Dollars. We are including the 1880-CC Reverse of '78 and the very rare 1889-CC.

Morgan Dollars in general are steady this week. We do see a strong number of supporting Bids for Morgans in grades MS61 thru MS66. Increases are occurring for the popular 1878 issues in MS63 and better for both PCGS and NGC examples. Weakness is noted for common date NGC Morgans grading MS66. However, this drop is rather slight.

A similar scenario exists for ANACS graded Morgan Dollars. Dealers are maintaining a steady market with a wide array of supporting Bids. Interest for ANACS Cartwheels continues to be strong at current levels. We are also seeing some interest for ANACS Silver Commemorative issues. Strong demand continues to raise the prices for the 1893 Isabella Quarter in MS63 and MS64. We have also seen strong demand for Isabella Quarters graded by PCGS and NGC for several weeks.

NGC and PCGS certified Silver Commems are mixed this week. We still see a number of plus signs with a sprinkling of minus signs. Increases are appearing for MS64 thru MS66 Commems. However, there is a concentration of minus signs in the MS65 category. Gold Commems are rather quiet — after a number of weeks with increases. Supporting Bids remain present throughout this area of the market.

Strong demand for modern, late 20th century coins has captivated the attention of collectors and dealers in the sight-unseen market. The urgency is evident as dealers try to buy and complete sets of modern coins. By way of example, one dealer has posted a buy for NGC or PCGS Proof 65 Franklin Half Dollars. The buy is for quantities of 40 or more of each date from 1950 thru 1955, and the Bid is at current Bluesheet levels.

Proof Singles are the object of selective Bidding. We are seeing some increases for a few denominations, though the increases are rather slight. Buffalo Nickels continue their popularity this week. Select dates appear to be attractively priced at current levels, and dealers are willing to increase their Bids to acquire them.

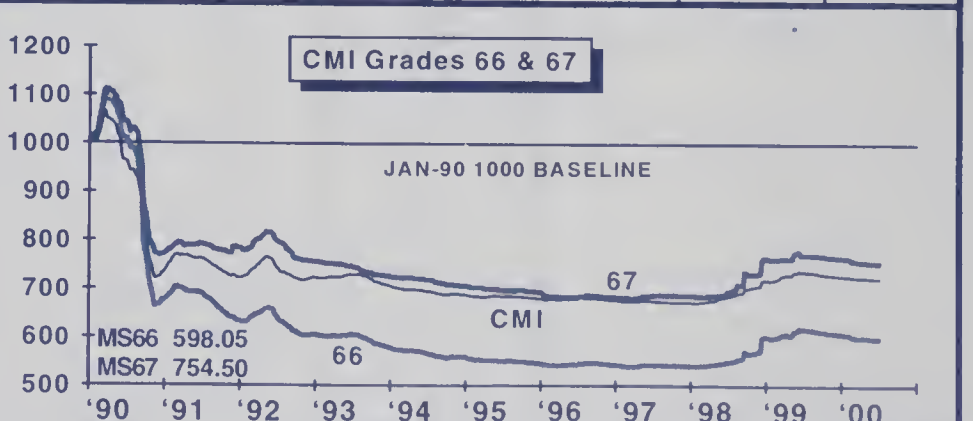

The Sacagawea Dollar/Washington Quarter "Mule" saga continues. With only three such error coins known, this is the first to become available on the auction block. Delaware Valley Rare Coin, based in Pennsylvania, is auctioning this coin, which is the finest example known to date — an NGC MS67.

The historical significance of this error is clear; this is the first error in 208 years of U.S. Mint history where a coin was struck with the obverse of one denomination and the reverse of another. In other words, this kind of mistake has never been made before. The fact that it was found in circulation adds still more interest to the story. This particular Mule was given as change from a stamp vending machine in a U.S. Post Office on the East Coast.

eBay is hosting the auction for this remarkable coin. Currently, the Bid is at $37,100 with less than a day remaining. Those who have experience with internet auctions realize that the Bid will likely soar during the last few minutes. This is simply a common strategy for savvy buyers — they literally wait until the last minute, then place a significantly larger Bid which they hope won't be beat in the short time remaining.

Financial stability—Spectrum has unlimited funds available for purchasing rare coins. In fact, the largest transaction in the history of numismatics was purchased by Spectrum for cash.

The King of Cash buys it all—Our purchases this year have included coins for under $4 and over $1,000,000! No matter what your holdings include, Spectrum is interested. It makes no difference if your coins are certified or not. Your coins can be a collection, hoard, dealer inventory, investor lot, family estate, or any other type of property.

Here's what some of Spectrum's satisfied clients have to say: This is just a note to say "thank you" for the prompt attention, courteous service, and fair prices I received for the sale of my collection. Mr. Thad Olson is extremely knowledgeable, and I felt at ease and quite confident in dealing with him. His offer was more than 20% higher than I received elsewhere, which was both a pleasant surprise and a wonderful bonus for dealing with your company. I would certainly recommend Spectrum to my friends and associates without reservation.

I was very pleased with your offer. I also appreciated being spared the "critical analysis" most dealers feel they must go through before making an offer. I'm just sorry I didn't try your firm long ago. I'm convinced after my first sale to you that Spectrum is the place to go if you want honesty and fair dealing.

I have done business with Spectrum for the past eight years and every transaction has been totally satisfactory. Whether it was my most recent sale ($700) or the one in 1995 for over $100,000 (remember that one?) everyone has been friendly, professional, and fair.

Spectrum has a commitment to customer satisfaction that is unsurpassed in the rare coin industry. Let us help you to realize the most money for your coins. Give us an opportunity to serve you.

“Mule” Brings 41K At Auction

Washington Quarters Impressive Over Two Years

The successful Bidder for the Sacagawea Dollar/Washington Quarter “Mule” paid $41,395, and received the finest known to date, an NGC MS67 example. Although this is a significant increase from the highest Bid which existed with only a day remaining, it is far less than the expectations of six figures for this major U.S. Mint error. With the exact number of additional errors unknown, buyers are cautiously treading the waters on how much to pay. To date, numismatists believe that four have been reported, although not confirmed. The fourth specimen, with an undisclosed condition, is reported to have sold for $40,000 soon after the eBay sale ended. Rumors of possibly a dozen such examples out there are running rampant. This remains to be seen. Until we have a better understanding of the true number of errors, prices paid at auction or by other means may be volatile.

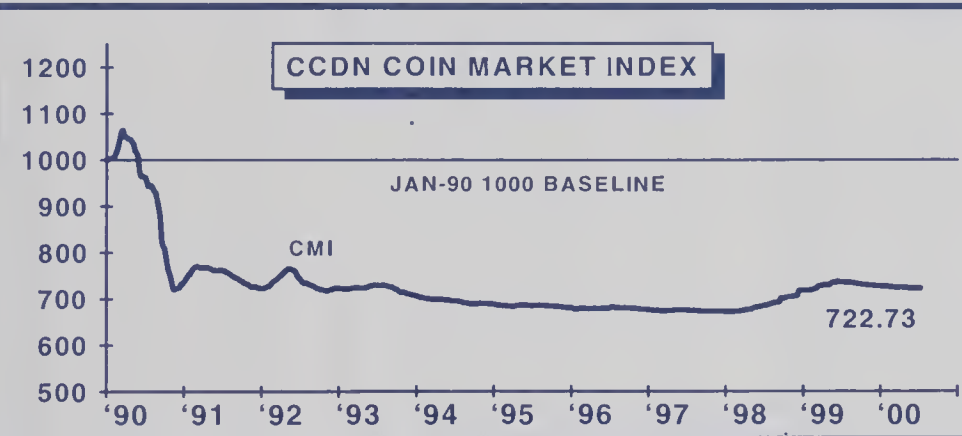

The sight-unseen rare coin market is displaying strength in select areas. Washington Quarters are strong. Dealers are trying to buy Quarters for customers who have graduated from Fifty State Quarters to trying to complete the rest of the series. Actually, demand for Washington Quarters has been steadily growing ever since, and even preceding, the U.S. Mint’s announcement to issue the Circulating Commemorative Quarters. Some dealers with foresight got an early jump by buying these Quarters while the market for them was less than bright. Today, demand is overflowing for nice quality Washington Quarters from 1932 to date. The early key and semi-key dates are still receiving quite a bit of attention. This week, sight-unseen Bids have increased for select dates of Washington Quarters.

Let us examine how much Bid has changed in only two years. It is important to note that these Bids are for sight-unseen coins, though the sight-seen market has also responded favorably to the up-side. Due to space constraints, we will only look at the most volatile examples.

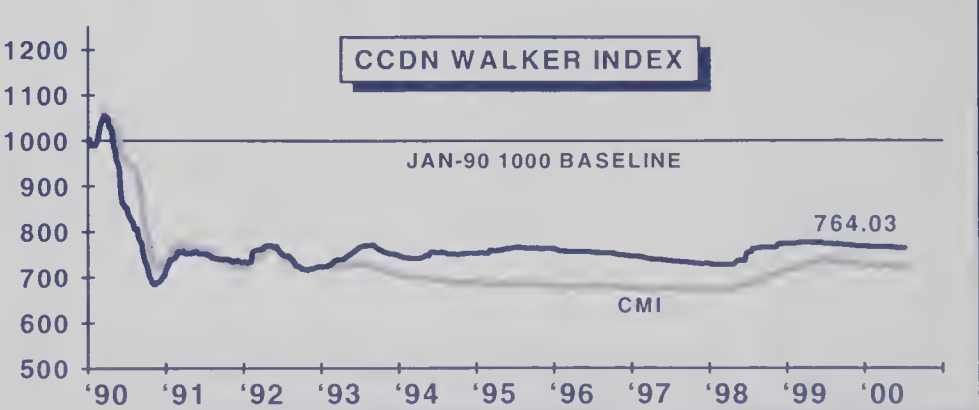

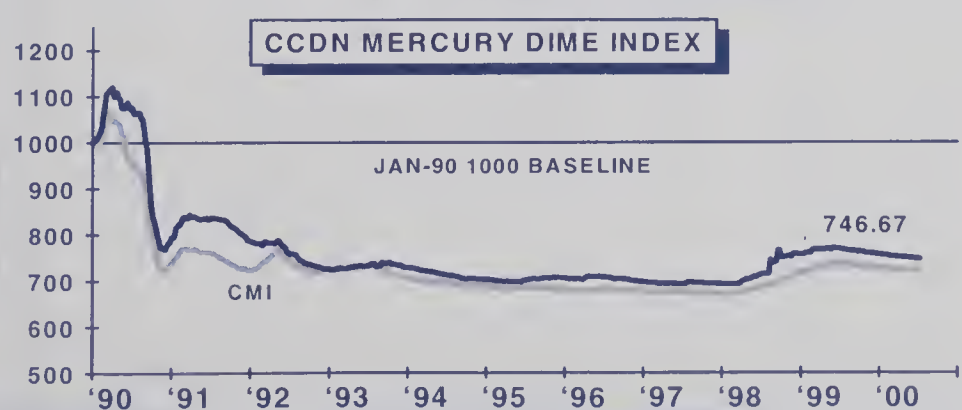

Other areas of the market doing well this week include Silver Commemoratives and Matte Proof Buffalo Nickels. Among Silver Commems, a number of plus signs are scattered throughout our PCGS chart. It is fairly obvious that dealers are looking to buy quality Commems. Most of the Bidding activity begins at MS64 condition. However, there is still a fairly large number of Bids for Commems in the MS66 and MS67 grades. Dealers believe that at current levels these grades represent an excellent value. The difficulty is in the availability. The prospects of buying one or more of these coins depend on sellers willing to release some at this level. We note that the Washington-Carver and Booker T. Washington Half Dollars are realizing strong set Bids at the MS67 level. Unfortunately, there are few sets available at this high quality level.

Matte Proof Buffalo Nickels are receiving attention. Bids are increasing for these popular coins due to strong collector demand. Also, dealers believe that these coins are trading at reasonable levels. Bids are offered for 1913 Variety 2, 1914, 1915 and 1916. Mostly, the quality needs to be at Proof 64 or better. At $2,500 or less, dealers can find many customers for these prized jewels of the early 20th century.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers and are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep mirror Prooflike. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

Gold And Silver Commems Increasing Mint State Gold Floundering

Overall, the sight-unseen rare coin market is mixed. There are areas where strong demand is forcing some issues to higher levels. These are the bright spots, note the plus signs. We see other segments of the market that are not quite doing as well. These areas tend to weaken as discounting occurs. Still, the sight-unseen market is realizing many supporting Bids at or within a few percent of current levels. This majority is what we find encouraging about the current state of the market. Interest in collecting rare coins is currently on an upswing with modern issues stimulating interest in collectors. In many cases, this interest had been dormant for years. Now, a wealthier and more knowledgeable collector/investor is becoming reacquainted with coin collecting. There is also a nice crop of "new collectors" asking questions and buying coins. The Fifty State Quarters are attracting these new faces. Dealers continue to try to accommodate and service their customer want lists, both old and new.

Strong dealer demand coupled with a determination to succeed has combined to litter our Gold Commemorative charts with plus signs. The demand is targeting both NGC and PCGS professionally graded coins. This demand is not a surprise to our regular readers. We have seen this trend develop throughout the year and have monitored its changes. Which Commem issues are dealers looking to buy? Take a quick look at our current Gold Commem charts on page 2 and the answer will appear. You will see that virtually every Gold Commem issue is advancing in various grades. The only exceptions are the two $50 Panama-Pacific Exposition examples. Still, we know that even these expensive and rare issues are needed by dealers.

Today's more knowledgeable and affluent collector/investor is not so concerned with the price as he or she is with the quality and availability of Gold Commems. This attractive short, but impressive series makes a wonderful display and/or conversation piece. Since there are many collectors interested in Gold Commems and because of their rarity, to many, they represent an excellent value.

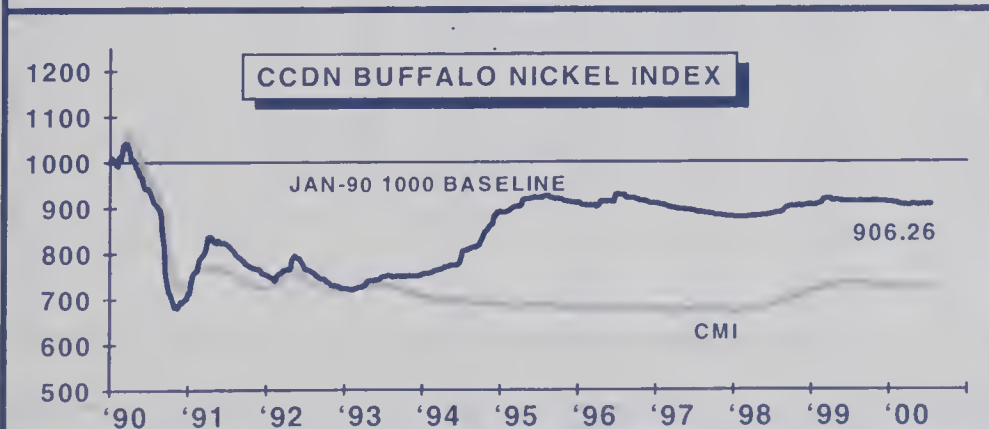

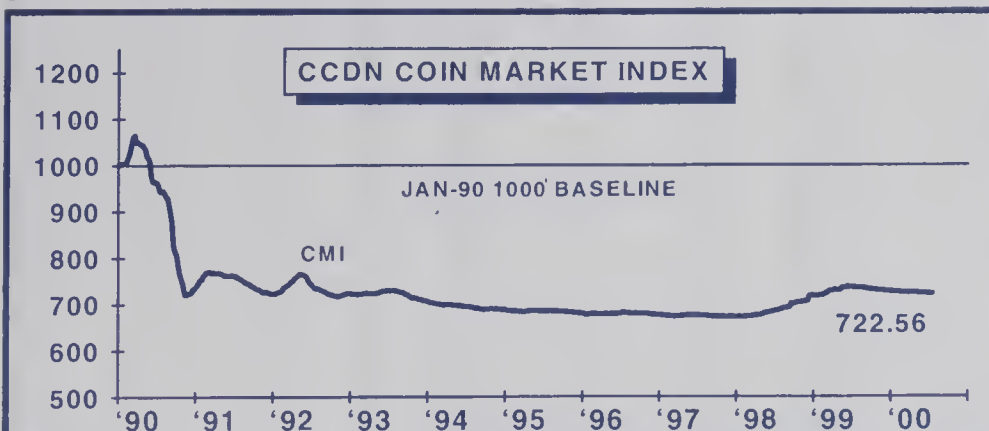

Gold Commemoratives are not the only Commem issues realizing strong demand. Our Silver Commem chart is displaying a significant number of plus signs as well. The Silver Commemorative series offers collector/investors a wider range of dates and issues to collect. It also allows for a broader range of prices to fit anyone's budget. Wide-spread demand is seen by plus signs appearing through out grades MS61 thru MS67. Some issues in demand include the Isabella Quarter, the Lafayette Dollar; Arkansas Centennial, Hawaiian Sesquicentennial, Oregon Trail Memorial and the York County Maine Tercentenary Half Dollars.

With all this interest and plus signs in Silver and Gold Commems, you might ask where the weakness is coming from. Mint State Type Gold has been the softest segment of the market for the past year. The weakness seen in the precious metals throughout the year will give you one clue to why it has been soft. Gold bullion has been fluctuating in a rather narrow range for some time now. Currently, it is trading near the bottom half of that range and to many its price action has not been very impressive. Consequently, common date Gold has been weak with many denominations decreasing. This week, MS63 and MS64 graded Gold Type is the weakest. The $1 Type I and Type III; $2.50 Indian; $3 Indian Princess; $5 Liberty; and, $5 Indians are some of the denominations displaying minus signs. Some dealers are looking at these levels as a possible opportunity. Others believe that the worst is not over and they remain on the sidelines. Our chart depicts the five best and worst performing issues for the calendar year July 16, 1999 to July 21, 2000. Interestingly, the top six advancing issues are the $20 Liberty Type II while the Type I $20 Liberty leads the declines. With thousands of Type I $20 Libs now on the market from the SS Central America treasure their drop in Bid has been dramatic.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

You have to have this hot list of 44 coins destined for gains! And you need to know the 44 secret losers that could send you to the poorhouse!

Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100 44-COIN HOT LIST ♦ 44-COIN BLACKLIST

Foreword by Q. David Bowers

"Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100 is potentially enriching, educational and enlightening. It provides market-oriented information against a rich backdrop of the history and lore of coins. Top 88 is far more than just an investment book - it's a landmark work that opens the world of coinage to the reader!

♦ R.W. Julian, numismatic researcher and scholar

Buying and selling rare coins can be a hit-or-miss proposition - unless you get expert directions. This book by well-known New York City coin dealer Scott A. Travers, with a foreword by Q. David Bowers, is a perfect guide.

In The Top 88, Travers draws a road map detailing both the hits and the misses - the coins that in his opinion represent good value at current market levels and those in his opinion you should steer clear of. He identifies 44 winners and 44 losers, puts them in historical perspective and vividly describes why each could be your best or worst coin buy. The list runs the gamut from classic U.S. coinage of the nation's early years to such modern-day issues as the Susan B. Anthony dollar.

You'll learn that winners and losers can exist side by side within the very same series. And you'll see how a given coin can sometimes be a winner in one grade, or level of preservation, and yet be a loser in a grade just a little bit higher or lower.

This book, like a piano, provides you with 88 keys that will help you make beautiful music - only this time, according to Travers, you'll be singing all the way to the bank if you play the right "notes" in buying coins.

- You'll learn about:
- The elements of value
 - Independent third-party grading
 - The age of type coins
 - Opinions relating to what coins are "losers"
 - A list of coins that are "winners"
 - Why every coin listed has something to like and something to dislike
 - One-year type coins
 - Generic Morgan dollars
 - Commemorative coins
 - Mint-error coins
 - Uncirculated late-date coins
 - Late-date proof sets from 1968 to date
 - Marketplace data and expert opinions on every listed coin
 - Meticulously researched historical information

All Eyes On Philadelphia For The ANA Summer Sight-Unseen Demand Evident For Several Series

The sight-unseen rare coin market continues to prosper even though we are in the middle of summer. Normally during this time of year the coin market experiences a severe slowdown in activity. Several dealers plan their vacations just preceding or soon after the ANA convention. In the last few weeks a flurry of sight-unseen trades have occurred on the electronic trading networks. What is unusual is that most of these trades have resulted in the posting of even higher Bids in an attempt to acquire material in quantity.

Silver Commemoratives are strong again this week. Dealers are undoubtedly having a difficult time finding the Commems they need. Consequently, they are left with no choice but to raise their Bid levels hoping to capture a few. We see that plus signs are scattered throughout the entire Silver Commem chart. The scattering is so diverse that it has hit all seven of the Mint State grades listed. A strong bias towards the upper Mint State category for both grading services is apparent.

Morgan Dollars continue to be very strong at current levels. It may be a bit deceiving because there are not many plus signs appearing on our chart. However, there is a great deal of support at current levels over a wide range of dates and grades. The lone area of weakness continues to be among the MS65 common dates of the series. Dealers continue to discount these issues, there does not appear to be enough demand to satisfy the more than sufficient supply. Promoters are desperately needed in this area for a turn around. Peace Dollars are steady at current levels.

Renewed interest has helped to produce plus signs in the Mint State and Proof Type markets. Dealers are beginning to face an increase in demand for Type coins. New collectors have combined with the existing customer base to force demand higher. Dealers are confident that the ANA convention and scheduled public auctions will help satisfy the demand. In the meantime, some sight-unseen Bids have begun to increase.

This year, the American Numismatic Association is holding their annual National Money Show in Philadelphia. The 2000 National Money Show will be beginning with many dealers feeling optimistic about the current market but more importantly, feeling even better about the future of rare coins. That is because the new Circulating Commemorative Fifty State Quarters, Sacagawea Dollar and new designs for our Paper Money have brought new interest and public awareness to our industry. The strong prices being paid for the new Fifty State Quarters along with modern Proof Sets and Mint Sets has captured the public's attention, and with it, his or her collecting desires. The future appears bright and dealers are looking ahead, attempting to capitalize on new and future demand.

The ANA Show will be in full swing by August 9, attracting dealers from all over the nation and additional countries. Many serious collectors will be making the trek as well. Of course, collectors from the surrounding metropolitan area will also be in attendance. Meetings and auctions are two of the popular activities that dealers and collectors will be participating in during their stay. Interests will be shared and friendships renewed. Future business from new customers is one target of many dealers while finding elusive collector/investor want lists is another.

Heritage will be conducting their Philadelphia 2000 Signature Sale on August 6-7. It will feature the Dr. David Litrenta collection of Washingtonia; the Dr. Jeff Hosford collection of U.S. Type; the Edmund Bradford collection; the Dr. Barry Southerland collections; and, the C. Louis Bassano collection of Mercury Dimes. The second Sacagawea Dollar/Washington Quarter "Mule" to be auctioned will be in this sale with a 3rd appearing in the Bowers & Merena Auction.

The American Numismatic Association Sale of the Millennium will take place August 9-12 in Philadelphia. Bowers and Merena are hosting the sale. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers. are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trade from wholesale trading sources, and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded items. The CCDn does not exercise due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no guarantee that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it represents the value at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information, Listing Policy During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest bid, not the lowest price on the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We do not suggest Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months. "a" for auction transactions. "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

PCOs (DMP) and NGC (PL) bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike issues. Bids for PCG (PL) and NGC (PL) dollars will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet®) Bids have always represented fully deep mirror prooflike specimens.

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Gold Type Languishes 1898-O GSA Dollar Found

With the American Numismatic Association's annual summer convention nearly upon us, dealers are eager to see if they can realize the high expectations expected of this show. Since many dealers will be heading to Philadelphia for the August 9-13 Money Show, the amount of activity that we are observing in the marketplace has slowed down somewhat. This is often the case during this time of year, in addition to attending the ANA several dealers also take some time off following the show.

The customer base of most dealers continues to expand thanks to the Fifty State Quarter program and the Internet. We see more and more dealers establishing their websites and trying to expand their participation via on-line auctions. Optimism in the marketplace is higher than we have seen for many years. Dealers are certainly encouraged with the interest and demand from the public. If even a small percentage of those new coin collectors of State Quarters branches out to other areas of the market, the potential for a price explosion is great. There just may not be enough supply to go around if these new collectors begin Type and/or series collections. Meanwhile, dealers are trying to take advantage of the current demand by having available the modern issues that are ever so popular as of late.

The sight-unseen market continues to be impressive despite the normal slowdown this time of year. Morgan Dollars, one of the more active markets for trading sight-unseen is still attracting serious Bids. A number of plus signs are breaking out on our Dollar chart this week. The range of dates most sought-after includes 1879-S thru 1885-CC. The Carson City Mint Dollars are receiving the heaviest demand. However, select San Francisco Mint Dollars are also attracting some Bidder attention. For example, 1883-S, a key date is realizing increased Bids in MS61, MS62 and MS63 condition. Overall higher Bids are greatest for the lower Mint State grades from MS61 thru MS64. There is even some interest for MS65 common dates that have been very weak recently.

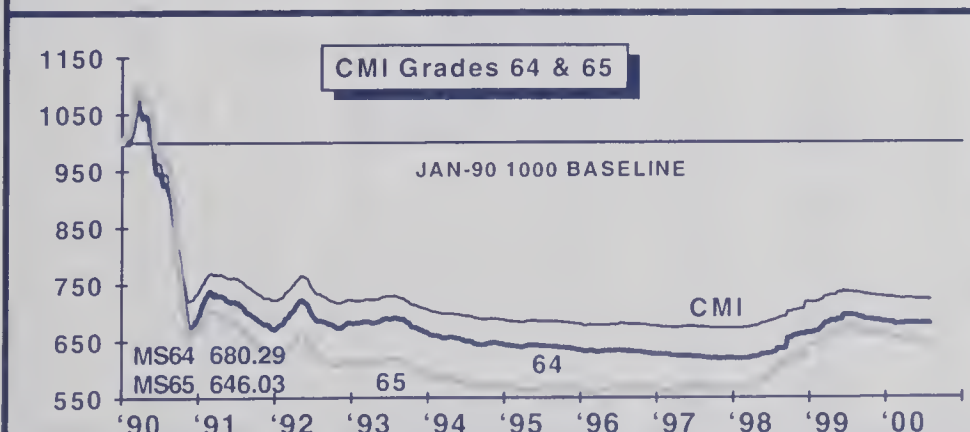

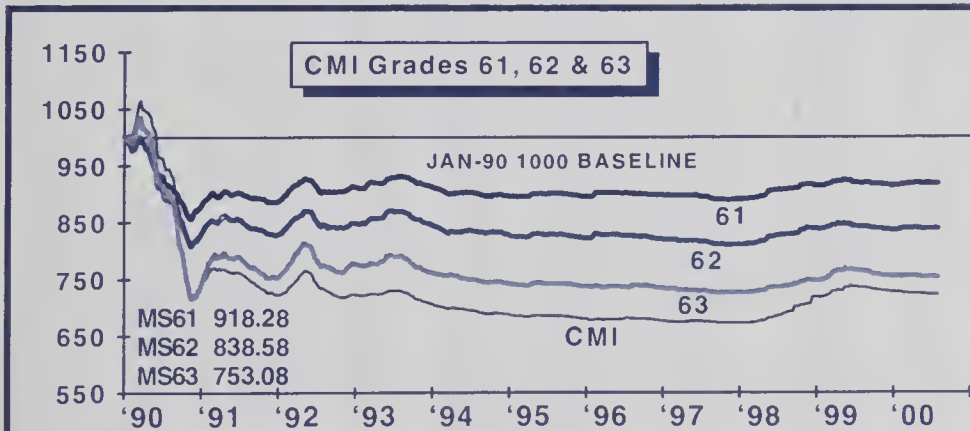

Dates such as 1882-S; 1884-O; 1885; 1885-O; 1886; and 1887 have increased slightly to $68 Bid.

A New York dealer has reported finding a non "CC" GSA Dollar that is not on our chart (see page C). Specializing in GSA Dollars, he recently bought an 1898-O, the first one he has ever seen. The excitement will grow at the ANA when the newly discovered 1898-O GSA Dollar makes the rounds. How rare is it and what is it worth? These are two of the questions that need answers or at least estimates from other knowledgeable dealers. We will keep you posted.

Looking at the GSA market, we see a couple of minus signs this week representing slight declines. However, there is a greater number of plus signs that have been generated from increased interest for GSA Dollars in the current market. Dealers report that customer demand for these Dollars is great. Common date "CC" Dollars dated 1882-1884 are wanted in quantity at current levels. Increases are found among the 1878-CC; 1880-CC Reverse of '78; 1882-CC; 1890-CC; and, 1891-CC issues.

Weakness continues to take place among Mint State Gold Type. The current price and activity of Gold bullion has not helped the situation. Dealers are reluctant to increase Bid for these common date numismatic coins because collector/investor demand is soft. Supplies are more than sufficient at current levels to satisfy the demand. Consequently, we continue to see many minus signs for Gold Type. The softness in the market is taking place among certified Gold of most services including PCGS, NGC, ANACS and PCI. No denomination is immune from the decline.

The remainder of the sight-unseen market remains stable. No major changes are occurring for Mercury Dimes, Buffalo Nickels or Walking Liberty Half Dollars. Some activity is present for Silver Commemoratives, with adjustments taking place. Gold Commemoratives are extremely solid at their present levels, with transactions readily materializing.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

With the summer nearly over, the sight-unseen market continues to be vibrant. Activity is taking place in this market with many dealers forced to repeatedly increase their Bids. Many series are enjoying strong demand due to the increasing collector base and general widespread media attention given to the rare coin market. Certified coins are experiencing demand from the long time collector base and from the new, beginning collectors. The American Numismatic Association's National Money Show is attracting some of these new collectors. This show, and other regional and national shows will be instrumental in introducing, first hand, new types and designs of rare coins to a hungry public. Dealers are looking for material, trying to beef-up their inventories so that they can be ready to satisfy the demand. This is one reason why the market continues to be strong despite the normal season slowdowns that have taken place in past years. Dealers are trying to stay ahead of the demand. They are trying to even anticipate the demand in an all out effort to capitalize on the good fortune that the current market is enjoying. To this end, all areas of communication with the public are being addressed. Our world is changing. Communication between ourselves is becoming easier than ever before. The technology is available to the masses at affordable prices. This makes it easier for collectors to ask questions and find out the answers they need quickly. They are able to buy and sell rare coins with a lot less pressure than in the past. Knowledge is more easily gained with information just a click away. The rare coin market has embraced this new technology and stands to benefit from it. The future for the market is looking very good indeed.

The ANA and pre-ANA Auctions have produced some record prices. During the pre-ANA Signature auction by Heritage, a 1919-D Mercury Dime graded PCGS MS66FB realized $218,500. Several more PQ Mercury Dimes brought huge numbers as well. A 1918/7-D Buffalo Nickel graded MS64 by PCGS realized $103,500 in the "Sale of the Millennium" held by Bowers and Merena. Even with these huge sales the media attention has been entirely consumed with the sale of 2 Sacagawea Dollar/Washington Quarter Mules. Who can blame them? This is a coin that the general public can relate to as well as possibly find in circulation. The first Mule and highest graded (NGC MS67) of the three to have been auctioned sold to a high Bid of $41,395 in early July.

The second Mule sold at public auction graded MS66 by NGC. In the weeks prior to the Heritage Signature auction 19 Internet Bidders placed Bids resulting in a high Bid of $26,000. In just seconds a floor Bidder, a collector from Los Angeles won the Mule for $31,050. The third Sacagawea Dollar/Washington Quarter Mule hit the auction block August 9 in the Sale of the Millennium by Bowers and Merena. Graded MS66 by PCGS, this Mule realized $29,900. Dealer Dwight Manley of Newport Beach California is the new owner.

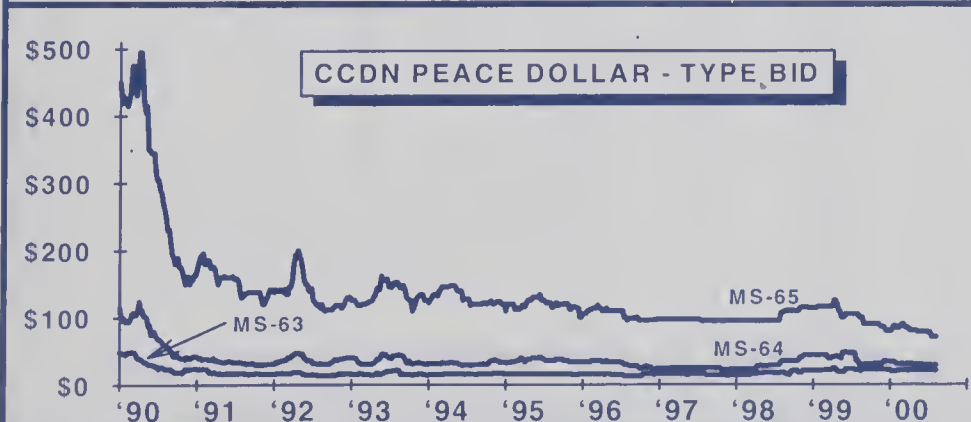

Heritage's Philadelphia 2000 Signature Sale realized more than $4.58 million. It featured the C. Louis Bassano collection of Mercury Dimes as well as other consignments. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights.

Strong supporting Bids and some increased Bids have continued to make the Washington Quarter series a regular among the hot series. Dealers are actively trying to buy everything from Circulated and Brilliant Uncirculated sets to BU and Proof rolls. The Fifty State Quarter craze continues unabated as the issuance of each new state design keeps demand and interest strong. The demand is widespread throughout our chart that covers the early and tough dates of this long series. The plus signs are most numerous for MS65 and MS66 certified coins. This demonstrates the strong demand for high quality Washington Quarters.

Strong, continued interest for Silver Commemoratives is a solid recipe for plus signs. Our chart, once again this week is displaying several plus signs for Silver Commems in various Mint State conditions. The popularity of the older Commems is growing. New collectors entering the market are intrigued by these Commems. They desire to add the corresponding Silver Commem Half Dollar to their State Quarter.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the high, seasonally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Proctor. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The gold coins in this chart trade very infrequently. These are the last known Bids.

Bids for Lincoln Cents are for full red specimens in MS64 and higher.

Matte Proof Cent Bids for grades of PR64 and better are for full red cents. PR63 and lower Bids are for Red and Brown cents. See the Proof Type Coins page for Type Bids in all colors.

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general.

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm.

You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service.

Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Selective Interest For Peace Dollars

The interest and excitement expressed for rare coins by visitors during the August 9-13 American Numismatic Association World's Fair of Money in Philadelphia has translated to activity in the sight-unseen market. Dealers that we spoke to at the ANA were somewhat disappointed with the number of wholesale sales taking place. However, retail activity proved to be much better with many new faces making purchases. Dealers that had trouble buying coins listed on their customer want lists have resorted to raising their Bids on the electronic dealer networks. As a result several transactions have occurred this week. Still, the need for coins is great in order to be able to supply an ever increasing demand at the present time. Excitement over the State Quarters and other modern issues continues to flourish. The expanding collector base is encouraging for the near future as dealers attempt to satisfy today's demand as quickly and reasonably as possible.

Morgan Dollars are one the most active series receiving sight-unseen Bids. We know that there are many collectors and collector/investors working on assembling Dollar sets. The grade they target for their set often depends on the individuals estimated time of competition and his available funds. Many choose to collect evenly graded sets although most will unhesitatingly insert a very choice About Uncirculated in an Uncirculated set. This week we see dealers increasing their sight-unseen Bids for the later dates of the long Morgan series. Increases are taking place for 1896-S thru the last date of the series. Bids are increasing for Morgans grading Mint State 61 thru MS66. Many of the increases are slight, but the direction is certainly clear. So is the message. Dealers still need coins.

Peace Dollars, while popular with many collectors, have been a rather quiet series this year. Well, not so this week. Take a look at the number of plus signs that appear on our PCGS chart. Pretty impressive for a generally quiet series. Sure, we know that these increases are rather small but it may be a sign that this series is ready to jump. The expanding collector base seems to find the Peace Dollar design to be attractive. Also, collecting this relatively short series makes the completion date a lot sooner than the Morgans. Finally, the affordability of this set makes it most appealing.

This week, Standing Liberty Quarters show mixed results. Most common date issues declined in Mint State grades except for PCGS MS64 examples. The decline was for issues not having Full Head detail. Dealers specializing in this series say that despite recent common date declines demand is present. The strong interest that we have seen in the Washington Quarter series may find some collectors inquiring about earlier quarters dated prior to 1932.

Our Saint-Gaudens $20 Gold chart mirrors the sad plight of the Gold market. Weakness is evident among common dates in most Mint State grades. Those collectors who always thought that a $20 Gold pieces would never be a part of their collection may think again. The Saint-Gaudens has long been recognized as one of our most beautiful designs. It also contains nearly an ounce of Gold, 0.96749 ounces of pure Gold making it doubly desirable. Common date Mint State 65 examples are down $135 dollars from just a year ago

The ANA Sale of the Millennium realized $6.959 million. It was held August 9-12 in conjunction with the World's Fair of Money show in Philadelphia. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights from that auction.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services (determined through careful study of market activity, including the highest reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks. These coins will be sold or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Gold Commems Soaring Sight-Unseen Bids Increasing Post ANA

Gold Commemoratives are very impressive again this week in the rare coin market. Dealers are actively increasing their sight-unseen Bids for these special Commems. Increasing promotions for this short set of Gold coins has caused market-makers to up their Bids more often. Even with increases occurring nearly every week, there is still a shortage of supply for the current collector base.

The Gold Commemorative series is desirable to collector/investors for many reasons. They believe them to be a very undervalued compared to other areas of the market. The scarcity, historical importance and attractive designs make them fun and interesting to collect. Completing a set is not extremely difficult due to the affordability of most coins in the 11-piece set. When their financial position allows, they can expand their challenge to include the two $50 Pan-Pacific coins. At the moment they are enjoying the challenge and attractiveness of the 11-piece sets.

Dealers know that when a collector/investor is interested in buying an attractive rare coin that may provide some profit potential, Gold Commems are high on the list. The rarity, desirability, precious metal content and design are important qualities that add to this coin's allure. The interest in Gold Commems, which in turn translates into plus signs has been seen many times throughout 2000. Not only the scarcity, but the availability status of these coins continue to fuel the demand that forces Bids ever higher. This has been true in the sight-seen market and it continues to be true in the sight-unseen market. Eventually, the tight collector/investor hands that presently hold these coins in collections and portfolios may begin to release some back on the market. This is what eager buyers are hoping will occur. Until this happens, price may only have one direction for the immediate future of Gold Commemoratives.

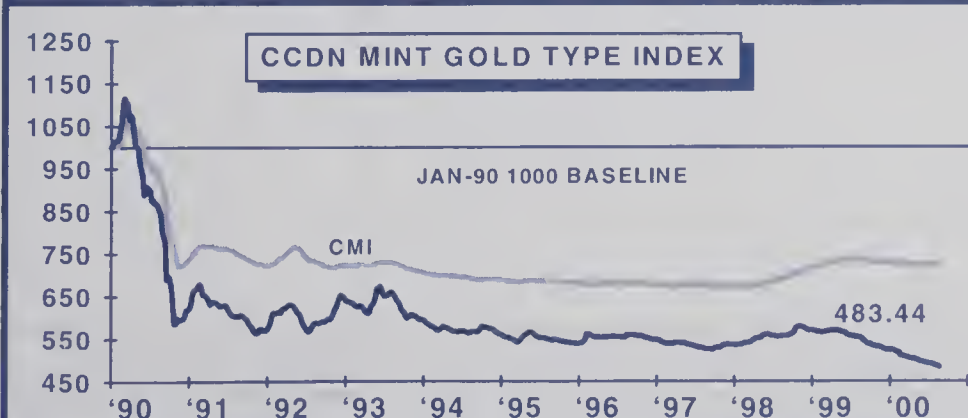

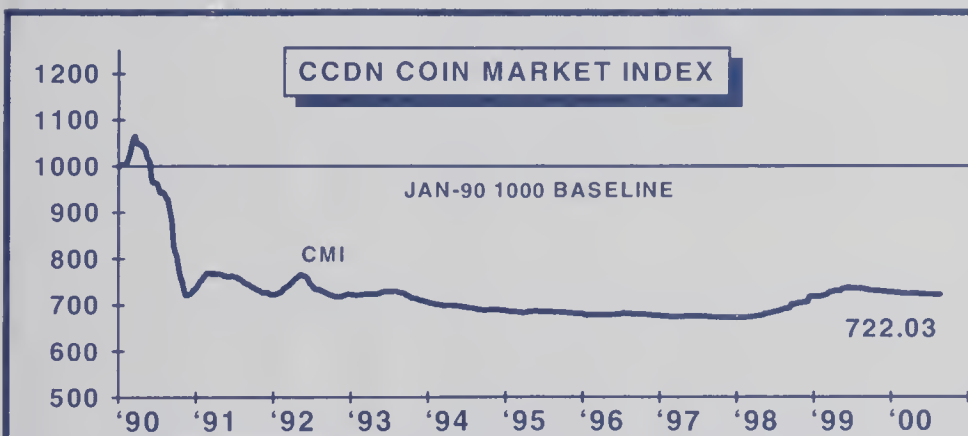

This week, the number of plus signs for Gold Commems in this short series is definitely impressive. The demand and target of the Bids are very certain and straight forward. Dealers are trying to buy any PCGS or NGC certified example sight-unseen. Indeed, plus signs are seen equally for both of these professional grading services. Dealers want coins that grade MS64 and better. Plus signs are prevalent for MS64, MS65, MS66 and MS67. Top quality appears to be very much an important consideration that is attractive to buyers. Demand is strong for all issues that comprise the 11-piece Gold Commem set.

Plus signs are also evident among Morgan Dollars. The majority of the attention is targeting the early dates from 1878 thru 1883. We see increases in grades from MS61 thru MS66. However, we do note that select Deep Mirror Prooflike and MS67 are under pressure. We see some minus signs appearing on our chart in this area. Generally, Dollars are an important and active segment of the sight-unseen market. Peace Dollars are feeling the same pressure as DMPL Morgans. Select Peace Dollars in MS66 and better condition are being discounted. Also, MS63 NGC common dates have declined to a high Bid of $19 this week. The first year of issue and key date 1921 is also down. We see that PCGS and NGC Bid has dropped to $3,900 and $3,300 respectively for MS66 examples. Discounting is also evident in several other areas of the market. Buffalo Nickels, Mercury Dimes and Walking Liberty Half Dollars are seeing some weakness along with some select strength. The same is true for some Mint State and Proof Type. This softness is attributed to recent weak public auction prices realized. Buyers are out there but they are looking to capitalize on bargains and opportunity. Sellers needing to raise funds are willing to let go of coins at reduced levels rather than holding them for higher prices.

Still, availability of specific key and semi-key dates of these series are attracting steady demand. Dealers are looking to buy Buffalo Nickels, which are experiencing many small Bid jumps this week. Increases are seen for several dates grading MS64 thru MS66.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity, including the highest national reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, all of which may or may not be exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guarantee or basis that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was a traded specimen at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin may trade at a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price on the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month, "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions, "oa" - auction older than 1 month

Is An 11-Cent Coin The First Mule? Type Very Active And Volatile

Lincoln present

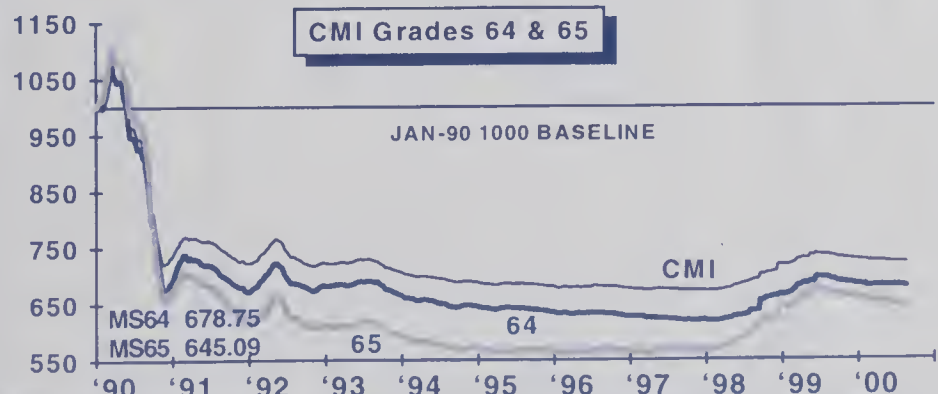

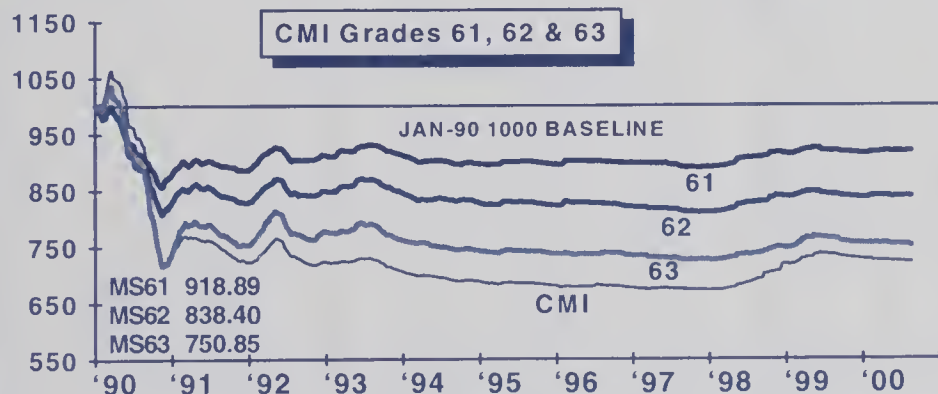

Is the 2000 Sacagawea Dollar/Washington Quarter Mule the second double denomination coin to be struck by the U.S. Mint? This appears to be the case as a Cent planchet struck with a 1999 Lincoln Cent obverse die and a Roosevelt Dime reverse die has surfaced in Pennsylvania. Actually, the 11-Cent coin was initially discovered late in 1999. It was found in an original roll of BU Cents by a customer of Jack L. Dempsey, the coin's owner. Originally the coin was returned by PCGS ungraded as such a coin was unheard of. Only after the discovery of the Sacagawea/Washington Mule was the coin authenticated and graded MS66 Red by PCGS. Dempsey has no current plans to sell the rarity, but he is thinking about displaying the coin at upcoming major coin shows. Numerous recent Mint errors along with the arrest of a Philadelphia Mint pressman for stealing and selling error coins has caused dealers to be suspicious. Adding to the intrigue about this double denomination error is an uncancelled 1999 Lincoln Cent obverse die that has been "offered" around the marketplace.

The sight-unseen rare coin market is under some discounting pressure. We have noticed recently that public auctions have had prices realized taking place below CCDN Bid. These coins are being sold at these lower levels for various reasons. Dealers are looking to raise cash. This need is usually one of the most important reasons behind these sales. The need for cash is important in the rare coin business. Dealers must be able to capitalize and take advantage of deals that are just too good to let pass by. Another important reason is a stagnant inventory. Therefore, it often becomes necessary for a dealer to blow stale coins out of his or her inventory. Coins that remain in inventory too long become prime candidates for discounted sales. Dealers are always looking to keep their inventories fresh.

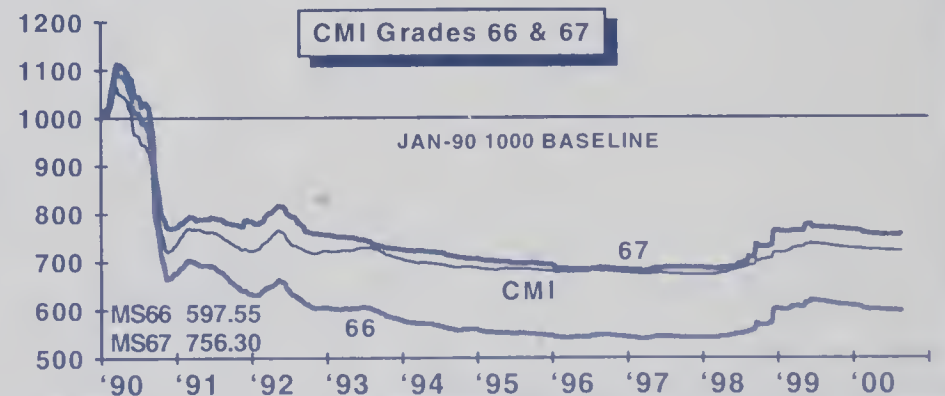

This week, Mint State Type and Proof Type coins have been under this discounting pressure. Recent auction prices realized have forced the sight-unseen Bid of many of these coins down. Some will be unhappy with the sight of these declines while others will view it as an opportunity. Many Types and denominations have been the target of this discounting. We see that coins grading MS65 or better to be the ones that are most often affected. The Liberty Seated Type series was especially hard hit. The declines for this Type took place among the Half Dimes, Dimes, Quarters and Half Dollars. Gold Type has also suffered. Mint State Gold is displaying minus signs for several denominations in grades MS63 thru MS67. This has been the case for Gold Type for most of the year.

Several other series are also not immune to the discounting. Silver Commemoratives, particularly in MS65 thru MS67 are down. Proof Gold is also under some pressure. Buffalo Nickels bucked this trend by realizing some increases. Demand for this popular series continues to be strong. Interest is also present for select Mercury Dimes, although the increases are slight. Still, we see that there are a lot of supporting Bids for early and mid 20th century series. Even though plus signs are absent from the Gold Commemorative chart, this series remains extremely hot. Nearly every issue grading MS64-MS67 is needed in quantity.

Morgan Dollars found Bidders interested in the middle of the series from 1884 thru 1894. Dealers increased Bid for many dates within this range in MS61 thru MS65 grades. Collector demand for Dollars remains strong and this need continues to be a catalyst for the continuation of plus signs. General Services Administration non "CC" Dollars got a boost as Dealers raised Bid to $90 for any example. The discovery piece, an 1898-O GSA Dollar was sold to a dealer during the ANA for an undisclosed amount. Otherwise, "CC" GSA Dollars are still hot, commanding strong Bids from dealers. Common date Peace Dollars have weakened. Minus signs are appearing for some dates in grades MS62 and MS66.

Washington Quarters Attract Strong Bids Sight-Unseen Market Selective

The market for sight-unseen rare coins is realizing selective Bidding from dealers. Selectivity is not new to the market but it does point to the detailed demands of collectors. These specific needs are simply what is driving this market. Dealers have a lot of old time customers that are looking for select dates and grades. These are collectors that have diversified holdings covering many series and denominations. They want items that they have put on want lists over the years. Dealers receive their detailed lists and hope to check off a coin here and there. The difficulty and frustration in locating these coins are all part of the want list territory that the dealer carefully and diligently treads. The ultimate goal for the dealer is being able to satisfy each of his or her customers in a reasonable amount of time. Of course, dealers also provide knowledge and years of experience towards this end. Consideration is also given to each collector's special need and budget constraint. Buying and selling professionally graded and certified rare coins in the sight-unseen market is rewarding when a dealer is able to fill some of their customers needs.

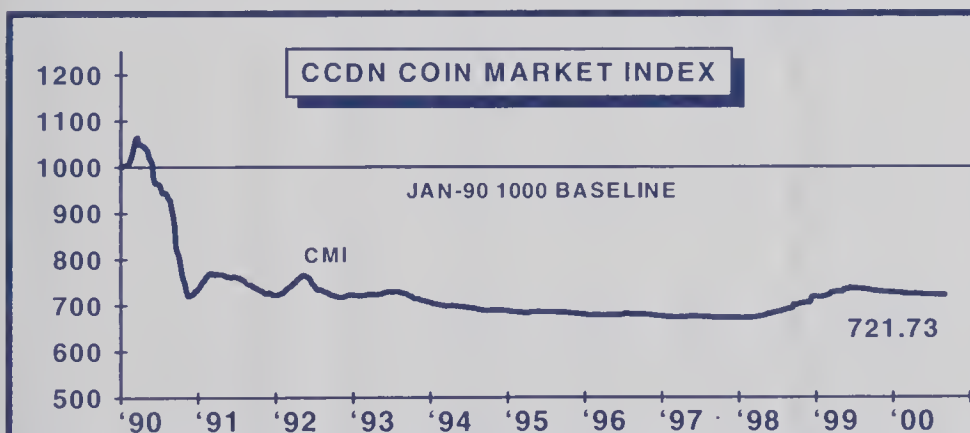

New customers also have demands in this market. Dealers are able to guide them through a myriad of avenues that can be pursued in numismatics. Fifty State Quarters are one segment of the market that has drawn the new collector to the hobby. Demand for Quarters and especially the entire Washington Quarter series has grown considerably with the State Quarters release. Sight-unseen Bids have been climbing for many of the dates in the Washington series. This week, we notice that these Bids are still present. Some of the Bids have jumped considerably since the last reporting CCDn issue. Our Page-E chart indicates the strength seen in this segment of the market. Note that the demand is seen heaviest for the early, better dates of the Washington Quarter series in grades from MS63 and better. Since September of 1999 the largest increases have occurred for Quarters grading MS66. (see chart to the right)

Other parts of the sight-unseen market are also doing very well. Silver and Gold Commemoratives have been especially healthy. Demand is strong enough to create Bid increases, almost on a weekly basis. These areas are the hottest part of the market. This week, plus signs are evident for select Silver Commem issues. The demand for coins grading MS64 and better seems to be the most sought-after. With only a single adjustment to 1905 L & C $1 in MS63, most of the remaining Gold Commem issues grading MS64 and higher are still needed at current sight-unseen Bids. Morgan Dollars continue to be in favor with an increasing number of Dealer Bids. Increases are fairly regular in this series. Of course we know that many collectors are putting together Morgan Dollar sets. Buffalo Nickels are enjoying a number of plus signs this week. As we have witnessed in past months, Buffalo Nickels continue to be very popular with collectors. The design is special and nearly synonymous with American history. Plus signs are occurring in MS64 thru MS66 grades with the Bidding targeting early dates from 1913 thru 1923. We even see that Mint State Gold Type is finding some healthy Bids. Plus signs are appearing and it is a welcomed sight after long periods of stagnation and decline. However, weakness is still evident among early Gold Type. Several minus signs are appearing. Proof Singles is another area that goes about its business quietly. Dealer's Bids have been increasing rather quietly for select Proof Walkers.

Generally, the remainder of the sight-unseen market is maintaining current levels. Dealers are Bidding on a vast number of coins and series. We see a lot of supporting Bids taking place in series such as Mint State Type, Proof Type, Mercury Dimes, Walking Liberty Half Dollars and Peace Dollars. In many cases, dealers are willing to pay for quantities of many common dates within each of these areas. They have customers looking for coins in all of these areas of the market. When a key date in this group emerges, the demand is usually even greater.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

by Kevin Foley

The Market for collectible paper money continued its pattern of broad strength. Lyn Knight's recent offering of the 1914 Irish Collection at auction in conjunction with an associated paper money bourse can be regarded as a success. The T-100 event was one of no less than five paper money shows which have or will be held this year.

The ability of the marketplace to support a growing number of dedicated specialty events demonstrates the growing breadth of the collector-dealer base. A prediction made a decade ago that 1997 would see five successful paper money shows might have been greeted with laughter. Yet that is precisely what we will have this year.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

Collectors continue to be very much focused on this area. This growing demand continues to exert upward pressure on prices. Buyers also continue their emphasis on eye appeal, focusing on how generally attractive a note is, regardless of its technical grade. This results in an overlapping of prices from grade to grade. An especially nice looking example of a lower grade commanding a higher price than a piece of a technically superior grade.

The upper end of the quality spectrum, Choice and Gem Notes, are experiencing more demand than existing supplies are able to support. The result is a continuing pattern of price increases. Collectors seeking Gem Notes soon learn that once they get beyond the half dozen or so most common notes their quest can be quite a challenge.

This recognition results in some unexpectedly high prices at auction. When multiple bidders focus on the same notes and realize it may be months or even much longer before another example is offered, the price guides tend to be abandoned as a bidding aid.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Small type continues to grow in popularity. Early Federal Reserve Notes are especially prominent on collector want lists. These once shunned notes amply demonstrate the growing breadth of the market.

A decade ago they could typically be acquired for the most modest premiums over face. Whatever difficulty collectors faced in finding Irish notes was generally related to the fact that there were few inexpensive items to attract a dealer's attention. However, today the growing demand has shifted from greenbacks and early Federal Reserve notes to Irish notes and a few others. The Irish market has been the focus of much collector interest. Prices in this specialty area are especially strong. The more unusual or spectacular the error the higher the price. It seems that no matter how many errors are offered at a given time, bidders want even more.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

Fractional continues to be the spotlight of the specialty area. While very scarce and the highest quality, Gem and Gem material enjoys strong demand, common pieces in more modest grades are in less demand.

There is simply more fractional available than collectors want to have. The result is that when offered from dealer inventories it can move quite slowly. When offered at auction, prices can sometimes be rather spotty.

For buyers this can represent repeated opportunities to acquire notes at relatively attractive levels. And many people want to buy Fractional this overall pattern is expected to continue.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Nationals continue to enjoy considerable collector interest. "Type" Nationals notes existing in larger quantities and sought as representative of their general design type rather than for their issuing bank, are much in demand at the higher quality levels. Buyers of such material can be quite frustrated at their inability to find what they are looking for. Too many buyers and not enough available material can only translate to higher prices in the future.

Demand for Nationals whose value is predicated on the scarcity of the issuing bank remains at historically high levels. Since collectors continue to specialize geographically, prices are also very much dependent on where a note is from in addition to its rarity. Some states are very much in demand while others enjoy far less vigorous buyer interest.

Dealers who fail to keep informed of the many Irish and obsolete markets can easily find themselves "burned" in a state's note from a state with limited collector interest.

MISCELLANEOUS

The market for Obsolete Notes remains quite strong but continues to move toward the type of geographical specialization which characterizes the National market. Thus, pieces of origin can be just as if not more important than general scarcity.

Auctions Mark The Fall Numismatic Season Sight-Unseen Market Continues Active

Autumn begins with strong and numerous Bids taking place on the electronic dealer trading networks. Dealers are actively participating and are still anticipating a surge in demand that has begun to take hold in this market over the last year. Interest and optimism seem omnipresent in the coin market with maybe the only exception being Gold Type. Still, most dealers are pleased with today's market and are willing to add coins to their inventory.

Dealers are also looking to have a sufficient amount of funds available to take full advantage of the Fall auction kickoff. One score is already in the books. Stack's conducted a sale of United States Gold, Silver and Copper Coins September 12-13 in New York, NY. It featured selections from James Madison University, the Sweet Springs collection and the Dr. Alfred R. Globus collection. The auction realized more than $1.27 million. Several other important Fall auctions are scheduled.

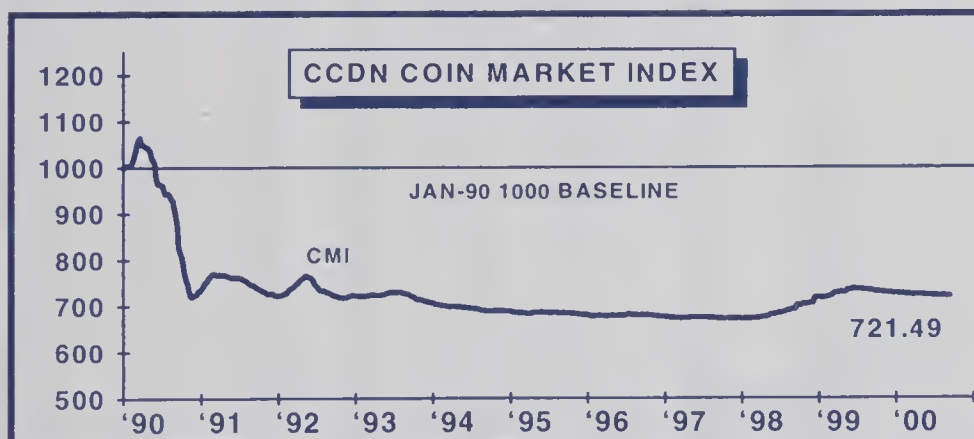

Superior Galleries will conduct the Pre-Long Beach Sale on October 1-3 in their offices in Beverly Hills, CA. The auction will feature the Hudson River Valley Collection, Part III. There is an extensive collection of early Proof coinage as well. Ira & Larry Goldberg will host The California Sale October 2-3 in Los Angeles, CA. It will feature the Wurlitzer Foundation of U.S. Coinage and the Ralph Morehead collection among other selections.

Activity continues in the sight-unseen market as dealers continue to increase their Bid for coins that they need. Several areas of the market are doing well. Others, such as Gold Type and the $20 Saint-Gaudens series are not doing as well. However some plus signs are cropping up here and there. Influencing the weakness to some degree is the relatively low price of Gold bullion. Analysts continue to be optimistic about future Gold and Silver price increases, but how far into the future must investors wait? Proof Singles and Walking Liberty Half Dollars are mixed this week. The Mint State and Proof Type markets are holding steady at current levels.

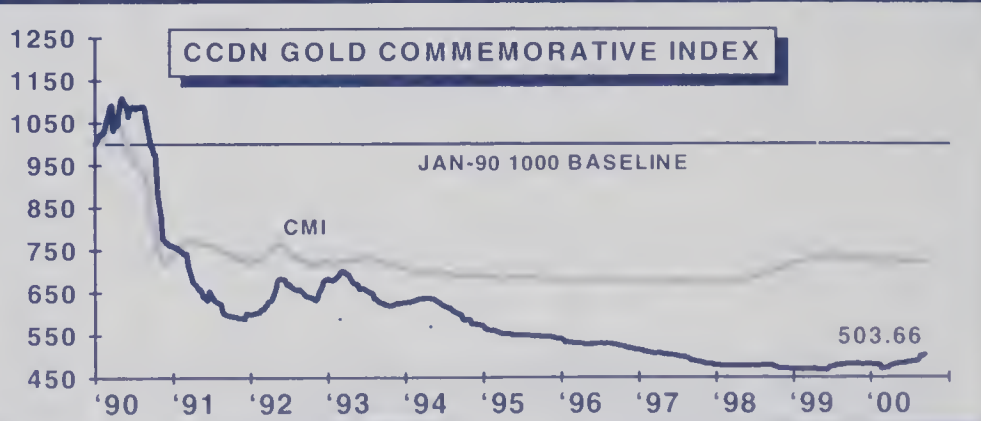

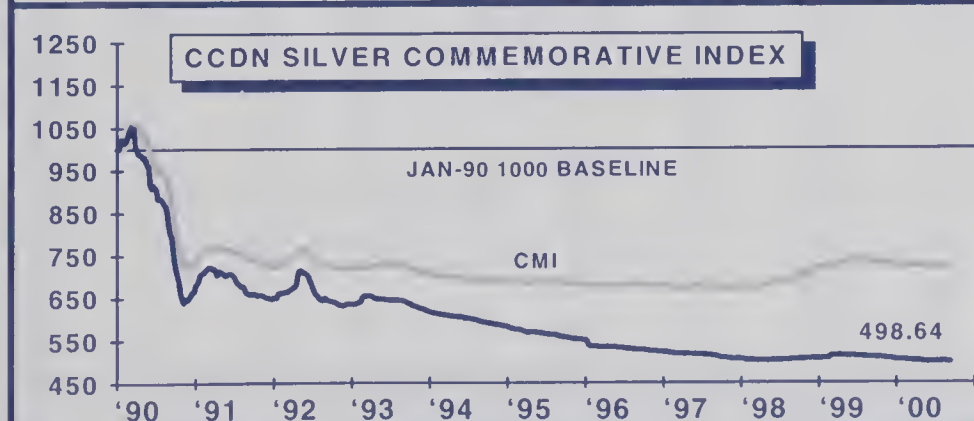

The usual strong segments of the sight-unseen market continue to attract many Bids. We see that a large number of plus signs are appearing in the Gold Commemorative chart. This comes as no surprise because this area has been hot for many months. Still, it is important to point out because it reiterates the fact that the supply of high-grade Gold Commems is not sufficient enough to meet the strong demand. This is true even though Bid has continued to climb. The scarcity of these coins is why the price has not found its equilibrium point. Increases are taking place for PCGS and NGC certified Gold Commems. Buyers are just hoping for an opportunity to add some MS65 and better examples.

Buffalo Nickels are still showing signs of life as we have reported in recent weeks. The Bidding activity is picking-up with a number of plus signs appearing. Evidently the strong demand seems to be focused on the early dates of the series. The dates from 1914 thru 1934-D are receiving the lion's share of the action. Dealers know that collector/investors of this popular series are looking for many of the tough "D" and "S" Mint dates in this range. Currently, the demand is for MS65 and MS66 Buffalo Nickels.

Peace Dollars have come to life this week. Sight-unseen Bidding is active with increased Bids taking place throughout the series. Mainly, dealers are looking to buy MS61 thru MS66 examples. We know how expensive and difficult it is to find Dollars graded above MS66. Even in the MS66 category, there are few Peace Dollars available. Bid on MS66 common dates has increased to $410. Morgan Dollars continue active with some discounting taking place for both PCGS and NGC. Otherwise, Dealers are willing to buy many dates and grades at current levels. We also see mixed results in the Mercury Dime series. NGC are displaying some plus signs while a few minus signs are there for PCGS. The market is still very selective.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The Coin Collector's Survival Manual – Revised Third Edition by Scott A. Travers

BEFORE YOU MAKE YOUR NEXT COIN PURCHASE, TAKE A COMPLETE COURSE IN COIN BUYING AND SELLING FOR AS LITTLE AS $14.95.

"This is the book about the coin business you can't afford to be without." -Hank Gilman, business editor, NEWSWEEK

"One of the most important coin books ever written." - The New York Times

"Should be read before a single coin is bought - and read again and again!" - Coin World

UNPRECEDENTED FIVE-TIME NUMISMATIC LITERARY GUILD AWARD WINNER

Traditionally, learning a lesson in the rare coin market has been very expensive. You would buy a coin for $500, find out later that it was worth only $50, and, thus, you would have to pay $450 to learn just one lesson. But now, thanks to the revised third edition of The Coin Collector's Survival Manual, by Scott A. Travers, you no longer have to pay a fortune to learn about how to buy and sell coins profitably.

This thoroughly revised edition examines the coin field from an insider's perspective and continues to break new ground in revealing the ins and outs of coin collecting and investing. Excellent photographs and detailed charts amplify the encyclopedic, clearly written, meticulously organized text. You'll learn about the following:

- How to look at coins the way the professionals do
- How to determine what a coin is worth and what grade the leading certification services would assign to it
- How to spot slight friction on otherwise "Gem" coins
- How to tell the difference between proof and prooflike
- How lighting affects appearance
- Altered and counterfeit detection techniques
- How to judge price guide accuracy

- Selecting and testing a coin dealer
- How not to get ripped of if you buy coins through the mail
- Profitable - and not-so-profitable - liquidation techniques
- How to buy and sell at conventions like the pros do
- How to spot a cleaned and artificially toned coin
- How to choose a non-destructive coin holder and the storage method right for you.

SPECIAL SECTIONS ON:

- Doctored coins, how to detect them, and the case of the doctored hoard of gold rarities that got slabbed
- The real truth about slab services and "fixed grading standard" claims
- Premium quality coins (then and now)
- Startling revelations from a leading coin trader
- A grading service founder's bombshell admission of modified standards
- The newest tax laws

NEW information in the revised edition covers:

- Cool coin internet web sites
- Requirements of the new FTC telemarketing act
- The real facts behind the toning corrosion controversy

and much, much more!

Demand Without Plus Signs Morgan Dollars Continue Climb

The strength of the rare coin market can not only be measured by the number of plus signs or trades. For example, the Proof Type chart does not sport that many plus signs even though it is among the strongest segments of the sight-unseen market. Several dealers are willing to pay current levels for many of the Proof Type coins listed. They are especially trying to buy high quality Proof Type in grades Proof-65 thru Proof-67. Availability of this material is the biggest obstacle facing today's dealers. They want to satisfy their customers but are having a very difficult time buying the coins they need. When fresh material is offered, it is often bought quickly, without hesitation. A similar scenario exists for the Mint State Type area of the sight-unseen market. It is a case where availability almost dictates which Type is purchased. Sometimes, investor/collectors of Type want a certain percentage of their portfolios to include rare coins — the key and semi-key dates. This is an excellent time to satisfy this need.

The Morgan Dollar series is definitely among the most active in the sight-unseen market. Dealers are frequently re-posting slightly higher Bids for various dates and grades. Looking at this weeks Morgan chart, we see a large number of plus signs representing small jumps in Bid. Increases are occurring for many of the early dates of the series from 1878-84. All the 1878 issues are popular and increasing. The first year of the series has been in serious demand for some time now. Some scattered plus signs are also seen elsewhere in the series. It is important to keep in mind that Bid increases, even if they are slight can sometimes make the difference in completing a transaction. The NGC chart indicates that supporting Bids are sufficient at the current time. There is even some discounting taking place on this chart. Specifically, the majority of increases in Bid are targeting the slightly better dates in grades from MS61 thru MS65. These are the coins that dealers have on their customer want lists. The common dates of the series continue to trade under pressure with weakness apparent.

Mercury Dimes continue to shine. Recent collections sold at public auction lit a fire under this series. Dealers are actively buying MS65FB and MS66FB graded Mercs. The target is for 1935 thru 1945 issues in the $40-$200 price range.

Several trades have recently occurred in an attempt to fulfill customer want lists. Also, PR65 and PR66 Half Dollars under $600 are increasing. Dealers want these affordable Walking Liberty and Franklin Halves to meet the demand of their customers and to liven up their inventory.

The Gold Type market continues to be plagued with flat to lackluster bullion prices, although future sentiments may be near a turning point. It is kind of astounding to see the current price of Gold and Silver Bullion considering the explosion in oil prices that has been experienced on the World markets. There was a time when a sharp rise in oil would surely trigger strong, future inflationary fears in the economy resulting in skyrocketing precious metals' prices. There may be some inflationary concerns by a few analysts, but the last reporting of the Consumer Price Index was still deemed to be very acceptable. Once demand increases for Gold, Gold Type Coins will be the first to benefit.

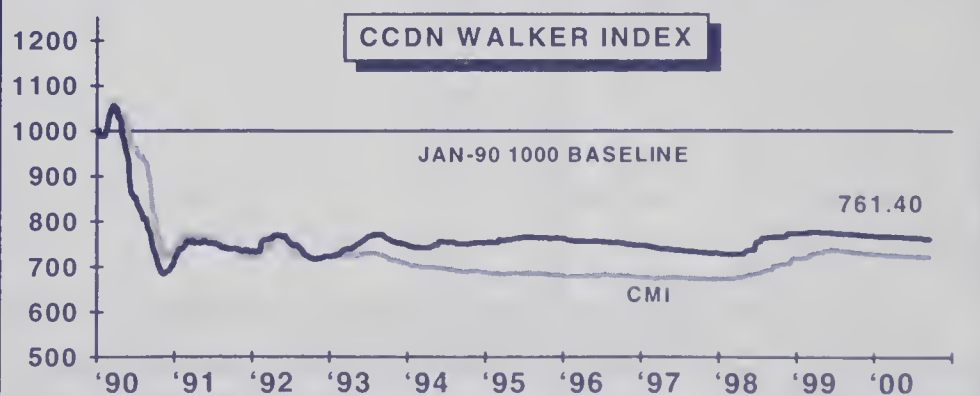

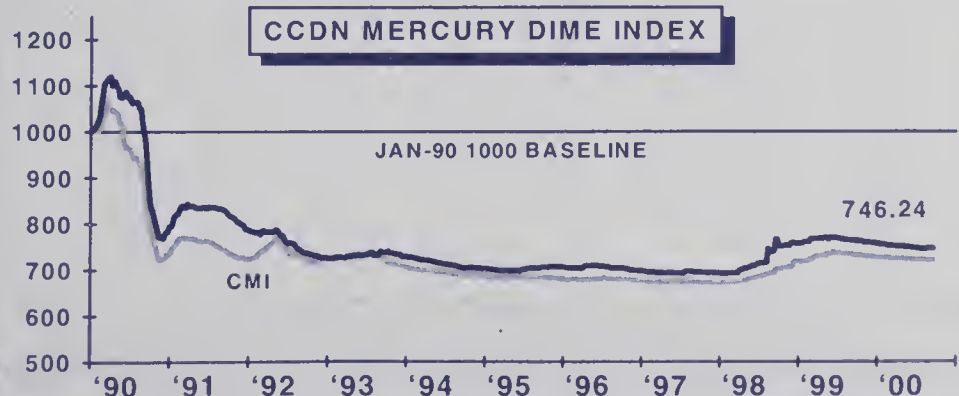

The October 5-8 Long Beach Expo is just around the corner. Preparation is in order to help dealers cope with several major auctions that will be taking place. Those dealers having a strategy or game plan will benefit without a doubt. Here are some auction highlights from two sales to be conducted before the Long Beach Expo.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers — are strictly the responsibility of the dealers — and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. Bid prices are based on the lowest bid received from wholesale trading networks and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guarantee or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Dealers Eye October Long Beach Show Stack's Celebrates With 1804 Dollar

You might say that the sight-unseen market is on cruise control. It is steadily attracting new Bidders for certified rare coins. Dealers continue to maintain their Bids at or near current levels. Little to no change in the amount of Bidding activity indicates that the sight-unseen market remains healthy. There are areas where demand is even strong enough to force dealers to increase their Bids. Morgan Dollars has been one these hot areas for several weeks. This pattern of plus signs continues with this issue. Strength is seen for both PCGS and NGC graded coins. Demand is strongest for 1878 issues; Carson City dates; and, scarce San Francisco Mint examples. Bids are heaviest for MS63 and MS64 grades. Peace Dollars are also experiencing strength with many plus signs appearing on the NGC side. Mint State Type is very solid with strong supporting Bids taking place on the electronic dealer trading networks. Proof Type continues to maintain current levels with collector/investors willing to add a few of these rarities to their portfolios. Mint State Gold is still weak although we are seeing an increase in Bidders supporting current levels. We are even noticing some increasing movement in Gold bullion spot.

The Long Beach Coin and Collectibles Expo will be the center of the numismatic world in early October. Many dealers will travel from around the country to Southern California to attend this major coin show. The third Long Beach show of the year is among the most active of all rare coin shows. We know that there is a considerable amount of optimism flowing in the hobby. General market conditions have been upbeat with strong demand and interest seen for rare coins. The dealers sense this optimism and try to accommodate the demand. They know that this may mean diverting their expertise area to another segment of the market. Those that can change gears and satisfy the special needs of new collectors will most likely benefit in the long run. Therefore, the strong activity taking place among modern issues now may lead to customers who come back for generations. Once the interest of these new collectors turns towards the earlier issues is when things will really get interesting. Some savvy dealers are trying to plan ahead by stocking the kinds of coins that they believe will be in demand. Already, we see that early Circulated Type has been increasing. Dealers are focusing on specific areas of the market that seem attractively priced at the present. Still, speculating, buying and accumulating the coins that may be in demand takes time and patience. The Long Beach Expo should provide many dealers an opportunity to buy this material. Dealers are also looking to fill customer want lists during this period.

Public auctions have been an excellent forum for buying those difficult to find dates and denominations. Heritage will conduct two sales to be held in conjunction with the Expo. The Bullet Auction containing only certified coins will take place October 4. This will be followed by the October 2000 Long Beach Signature Sale on October 5-7. Some of the collections to be featured include Gold coins from the Violet Bancroft collection and Conrad Sommer's collection of Saints.

Stack's 65th Anniversary Sale of U.S. Gold, Silver and Copper coins will be one to remember. That is because it features outstanding numismatic rarities that do not trade often. The "King of American Coins," an Original, Class I 1804 Draped Bust Dollar is a perfect example. The auction will be held in New York October 17-19. We have listed a few of the outstanding certified examples from that sale.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Quality Coins Sought-After In Long Beach October Auctions Provide Fireworks

The sight-unseen market is experiencing light trading on the electronic dealer networks this week. The heavy calendar of numismatic events is probably the main culprit for this decrease. During the early part of this week, dealers were actively viewing rare coin lots and attending the major auctions associated with those lots. The Pre-Long Beach Sale conducted by Superior Galleries was held October 1-3 in Beverly Hills, CA. Among the consignments, the sale featured an extensive collection of early Proof coinage. The auction totaled more than $5.9 million. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights. A second auction held in the Los Angeles area, The California Sale was conducted by Ira & Larry Goldberg Coins & Collectibles. The October 2-3 auction featured the Wurlitzer Foundation of U.S. Coinage among other consignments. This sale realized over $4.1 million. Again, we have chosen some certified highlights from this auction.

The second half of the week belongs to the important and usually active Long Beach Coin and Collectibles Expo. Dealers were seen pursuing the coins they need from set-up day on. Some said that there is not enough "nice coins" on the floor. Another comment heard was that "it is easy to sell, but difficult to buy." Still, most dealers that we spoke to expect the show to be upbeat to the end.

As mentioned above, the sight-unseen market was a little slow this week. However there was a lot of supporting Bids posted by dealers for coins of many series and denominations. Morgan Dollars had many interested dealers at present levels. There has been several weeks of increases throughout the series. Now, it looks as if dealers are letting these increases be digested with the hope of transactions taking place. Consequently, we do see some trades taking place at current levels. Peace Dollars are also receiving adequate support from dealers at current levels, but we do notice some slight discounting for select dates including the key 1921 in NGC MS65.

Mint State and Proof Type are doing extremely well at current levels. Dealers are actively placing Bids to replace coins that they have sold or that they want to add to their inventory. Type continues to strengthen with many new collector/investors participating. Dealers tell us that since the Summer ANA they are seeing an increase in customers that are willing to buy nice rare coins. A growing number of collectors are strictly after coins exhibiting original toning. Therefore, more dealers are actively buying material at public auction and on the bourse floors. All of this optimism is happening despite the recent woes of the stock market and the flat, lackluster Gold and Silver bullion prices. The weak Gold bullion prices are one of the reasons why Gold Type remains soft.

If you are looking for plus signs, take a peek at Proof Franklin Half Dollars. High grade modern proofs continue to be active. Buffalo Nickels is another area sporting a fair number of plus signs. Interest is robust as dealers continue to increase their Sight-

Unseen Bids for Nickels in MS64 and better condition. Mostly it is the tougher, rarer dates that are increasing. Increases are seen among 1917-D, 1917-S, 1920-D, 1920-S, 1921-S, 1925-D, 1926-D, 1927-D, 1928-S and 1929-D. Those of you who have collected this popular series know how difficult it is to find these low-pop years in gem condition.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

The Strong Stays Strong, The Weak Stays Weak Sight-Unseen Activity Perks Up Post Long Beach

Dealers are returning from the Long Beach Coin & Collectibles Expo still looking to buy rare coins. The selection of fresh material at the show was not enough to satisfy all of their demands. Customer want lists remain unfulfilled as dealers search for those coins that are eagerly wanted. Consequently, the electronic dealer networks are busy again with an increase in sight-seen and sight-unseen Bids. Unfortunately the demand, in the form of strong Bids does not always translate into transactions so dealers keep plugging away as best they can.

This week, Silver Dollars are shining brightly again. Morgan and Peace Dollars continue to realize strong dealer Bids for specific dates and even some common dates. The large number of plus signs taking place is heaviest among some of the middle dates of the series from 1889 thru 1898. Increases are occurring in MS61 thru MS64 grades. We do note that the majority of increases are small often caused by a dealer wanting to be the high Bidder. Larger jumps in Bid, usually representing urgent needs are more successful in flushing out examples that don't appear at the lower Bid levels. Sometimes even these increases are not successful and require another round of jumps. In any case, specific dates are needed to satisfy the demands of customers working on Dollar sets. Trying to locate a Mint State example that fits the grade and date requirement of a customer's set can be a challenging and a difficult job for the dealer. The goal is to buy an example that leaves some room for profit and still satisfies the customer's budget allocation for the date. Along with increases we see that there are several MS65 and MS66 dates that are being discounted. Many more new collectors are building middle Uncirculated grade sets than gem sets. As these new collectors move closer to completing their sets, the task of upgrading will become the next challenge.

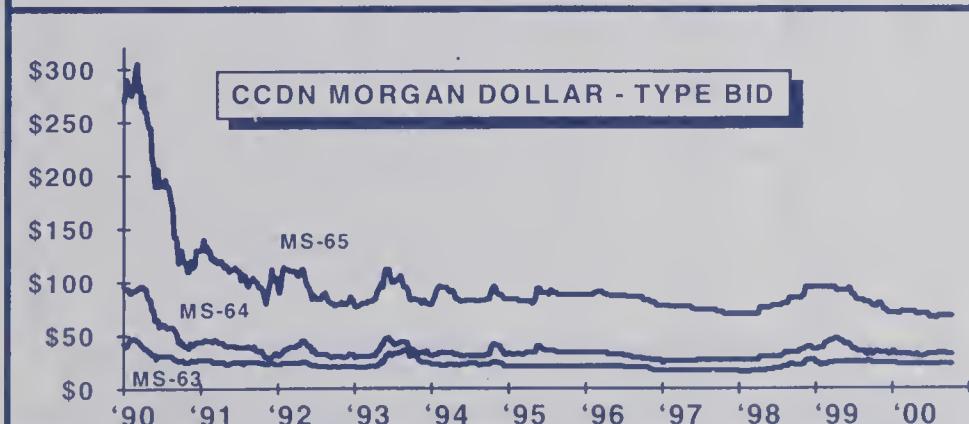

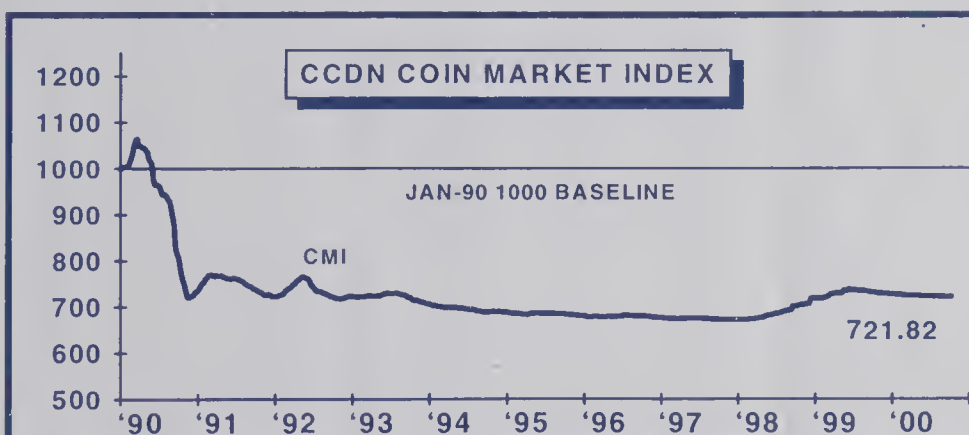

The market for sight-unseen Prooflike Morgan Dollars is rather mixed with this report. PCGS MS63PL common dates are up to $37 Bid while MS64PL and MS65PL are down. Prooflike Dollars seem to be appearing more frequently in recent public auctions with prices realized hovering around current sight-unseen Bid.

As we already mentioned, Peace Dollars are fairly active and sporting several plus signs as well. The positive activity and interest is seen for both PCGS and NGC. However, the interest appears to be scattered to all parts of the series. First, common dates are indicating an increase for MS65 examples. Dealers have now increased their Bid to $74 for MS65 Peace Dollars. Current demand is the strongest for MS63 examples. Here we see that several semi-keys are the target with 1921, 1928 and 1928-S increasing. The Peace Dollar series remains very popular with new collectors, they are able to complete a set in a reasonable amount of time at an affordable price. Keep in mind that this is not the case if the grade of choice is MS65 and better.

As we have previously reported, Washington Quarters are among the hottest areas of the entire rare coin market. Just check the number of increases that have been occurring throughout the year for Brilliant Uncirculated rolls of Quarters. And these aren't small increases, most are huge. It's no surprise that the sight-unseen market for certified Washington Quarters is also advancing. Strong interest is seen for nearly all early issues of slabbed Washington Quarters. Demand is strongest for coins graded MS64 and better. A large dollar jump took place on the NGC side when the key date, 1932-D leaped $500, more than 11 percent to a new Bid of $5,000 in MS65. Dealers are frantically trying to locate any early key date examples for their customers. Some dealers commented in Long Beach that they felt that several of these dates were undervalued, and as you can see, someone noticed.

Scarce date Buffalo Nickels are finding plus signs for select MS66 grades. This popular series is one of the collector favorites. It is no wonder dealers are always looking to buy some scarce dates in outstanding quality. Finding these dates with a nice strike and luster is indeed quite challenging. Patience is required.

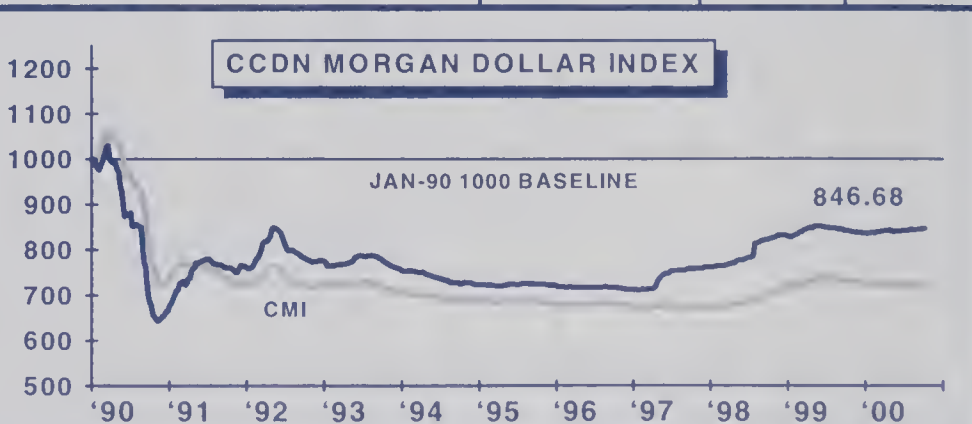

Gold Type continues to be a drag on the market. Again, minus signs are appearing on our chart with weakness occurring in the MS63 and MS64 grade category.

Foreword by Q. David Bowers

"Scott Travers' Top 88 Coins Over $100 is potentially enriching, educational and enlightening. It provides market-oriented information against a rich backdrop of the history and lore of coins. Top 88 is far more than just an investment book - it's a landmark work that opens the world of coinage to the reader!

♦ R.W. Julian, numismatic researcher and scholar

Buying and selling rare coins can be a hit-or-miss proposition - unless you get expert directions. This book by well-known New York City coin dealer Scott A. Travers, with a foreword by Q. David Bowers, is a perfect guide.

In The Top 88, Travers draws a road map detailing both the hits and the misses - the coins that in his opinion represent good value at current market levels and those in his opinion you should steer clear of. He identifies 44 winners and 44 losers, puts them in historical perspective and vividly describes why each could be your best or worst coin buy. The list runs the gamut from classic U.S. coinage of the nation's early years to such modern-day issues as the Susan B. Anthony dollar.

You'll learn that winners and losers can exist side by side within the very same series. And you'll see how a given coin can sometimes be a winner in one grade, or level of preservation, and yet be a loser in a grade just a little bit higher or lower.

This book, like a piano, provides you with 88 keys that will help you make beautiful music - only this time, according to Travers, you'll be singing all the way to the bank if you play the right "notes" in buying coins.

You'll learn about:

- The elements of value
- Independent third-party grading
- The age of type coins
- Opinions relating to what coins are "losers"
- A list of coins that are "winners"
- Why every coin listed has something to like and something to dislike
- One-year type coins
- Generic Morgan dollars
- Commemorative coins
- Mint-error coins
- Uncirculated late-date coins
- Late-date proof sets from 1968 to date
- Marketplace data and expert opinions on every listed coin
- Meticulously researched historical information

It is not surprising that the value of natural tuning is widely understood. In fact, experts in acoustics turn its frequency into the virtue of such original pain and it often adds to the value of this object even collected for a long time. The value of this object will agree that the original surfaces of a collectible item, no matter what its condition, are more desirable than any skinned attempt to replace them. appearance when new.

ing coins will consider a shiny example to be more appealing than one that appears aged. I suppose we all buifed our first coin acquisitions before placing them in our Whitman folders and time and experience soon taught us that this is not the thing to do with coins. So then why do collectors still resort to old coins? So then such pieces are so revered by experienced collectors that

...the answer lies in the fact that such collectors and dealers give tuning as a form of damage. Also many are unable to distinguish genuine tuning from so-called artificial tuning and that includes both suspicion and fear. Even for a variety of reasons. Sometimes it simply makes the piece more natural looking, but there are times when it is done to conceal harsh cleaning or in the coin when it is done to conceal harsh cleaning or unknowning, a quiting these deceptive pieces. While the verification makes the difference subjective, the experts at the various grading services usually know the difference between a naturally toned original coin and one that has been altered in any way. Believe me, when I come to "doctored" coins, no one is even close to me. I have seen many coins that have been altered and that has only reinforced our appreciation of nice original pieces. While we appreciate any appeal to all collectors, no one is as fixated on such coins for the assurance they offer as we are. We have them for the assurance they offer and for the limited experience to determine who has a shady past.

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general.

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm. You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service. Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Every Numismatic Library needs copies of the latest addition to the

COIN DEALER newsletter

the Backsheet

Now that we have your attention, we really haven't started an additional newsletter — but your library should include Back Issues of our publications. Back issues are available two ways:

You can purchase small quantities to fill in missing issues, to obtain articles necessary for your research, or to follow your special interests. You may also combine your order for back issues of any of our publications to obtain the lowest price:

Or, you can purchase complete sets of back issues for really dramatic savings:

Complete set of the weekly Coin Dealer newsletter (Greysheet) from June 14, 1963 to December 17, 1999, now includes 1,863 issues.
At $1.50 each this would normally cost $2,794.50 but a complete set is only $1,850.

Complete set of the monthly CDN Monthly Supplement
(formerly the Monthly Summary) from August 1976 to December 1999, now includes 280 issues.
At $1.50 each this would normally cost $420, but a complete set is

Collector Pays $1.84 Million For 1804 Dollar

Baltimore Show On Tap For Active October

October is proving to be a busy time in the rare coin market. Stack's just concluded their 65th Anniversary Sale October 19 in New York. Their sale was full of major rarities that has helped to excite the market. Although the 3rd session of sale has not concluded as of this writing, early reports of the first two sessions indicate strong Bidding for major rarities. The first two sessions claimed nearly $4.5 million. One of the major highlights, the 1804 Dollar now rests in the hands of a proud collector. The third session containing the Gold is not included in this list. A few early auction highlights are included.

The Fall Suburban Washington-Baltimore Convention is next on the numismatic calendar from October 26-29. This popular East Coast show usually draws many collectors and dealers from the heavily populated eastern metropolitan areas that are within a one day drive of the show. Bowers and Merena will host the Robert W. Schwan collection auction October 26-27. This sale is being held in conjunction with the show. A few certified highlights from this auction are included.

This weeks sight-unseen market is definitely active, although the advance/decline results are mixed. There are areas that have suffered minus signs due to some discounting. The current discounting is seen in recent auction prices realized as well as dealer wholesale offerings. There is an obvious need for coins by dealers but they are being very selective. The Mint State Type area of the sight-unseen market is a perfect example of this mixed market. The PCGS and NGC chart both indicated that some select Type has been discounted. Really there is not one specific area of Type that is weak, it seems to be here and there. High grade examples as well as middle Mint State grades have some minus signs appearing with this report. Still, we see that select rare coins are in demand by dealers. Increases are definitely taking place among the Barber series. Increases are seen for Barber Dimes, Quarters and Half Dollars. We know that there are many collectors concentrating on Type coins. The number of Type collectors has increased with the expanding collector base. Barber coins are a favorite design of many collectors. These coins circulated at the turn of the 20th century and are in demand today, at the turn of the 21st century.

Commemoratives are realizing very strong demand. Dealers are increasing their sight-unseen Bids hoping to buy one or more Commems. Interest is seen for Booker T. Washington and Washington-Carver PDS sets. Quality is important, as plus signs are only found in the MS67 column. Sales will be few and far between because of the thin supply at this grade level. Gold Commems continue to fetch strong Bids for all but the $50 Pan-Pac issues of the series. Plus signs are omnipresent throughout this short series. Mint State 64 and better are the current grades of choice. Dealers have customers that are eager to buy these coins. Hopefully, this round of Bid increases will produce the results dealers are trying to achieve.

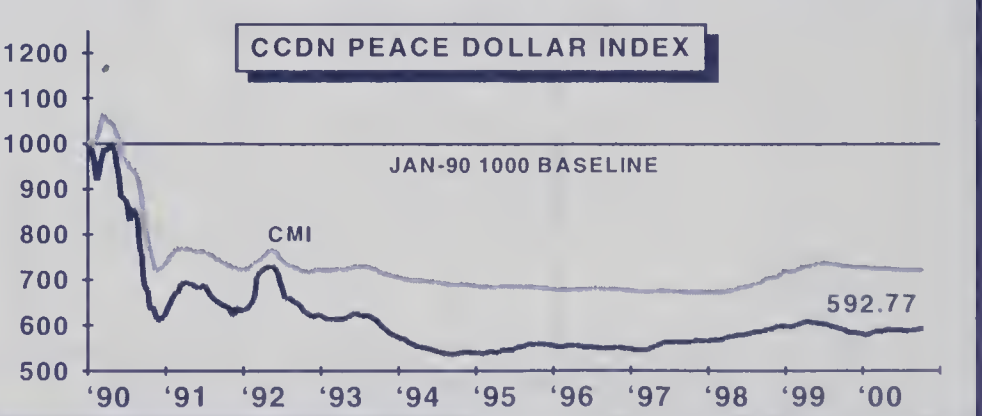

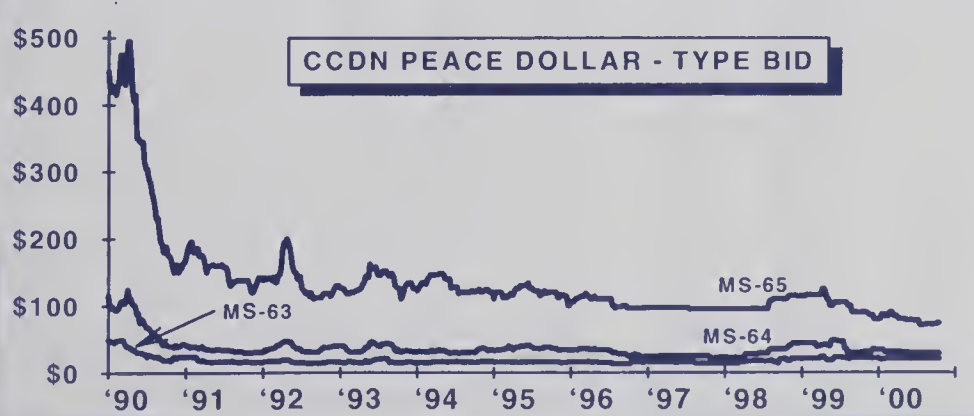

Walking Liberty Half Dollars are displaying some plus signs for select Proof examples. Dealers are offering sight-unseen Bids for NGC and PCGS Proof 65 and better issues from 1938 thru 1942. Mint State Gold Type is also mixed. Minus signs appear for the $1 thru $10 denominations while plus signs are found for select $20 Gold. Meanwhile, Gold bullion remains in a rut near $270 per ounce preventing any excitement in this market.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Sight-Unseen Market Active Discounting + Super Bids = Mixed Results

The sight-unseen market is sending mixed signals again this week. On the one hand, recent auction results have forced some prices lower. And on the other hand, several new high sight-unseen Bids have been recorded. This type of discounting from auction results is seen most often in the higher grade categories. These rock bottom results occur when certain dates and denominations appear at public auction without a ready home or even an open spot in one's inventory. This situation may arise if the available funds for many dealers are running low. Occasionally this occurs in the market when too many sales and shows are held too close together leaving little time to turnover coins. This can create a great opportunity for the dealer that has held back some cash or has strong credit. These bargain coins are snatched up without hesitation by dealers who specialize in them. They know a buyer will appear somewhere down the road. Bargain coin buying does not necessarily mean that the coin is the bottom of the barrel as far as quality is concerned. It can mean that the supply of rare coins was too much for the current demand at that particular point in time. With that being written, there are several discounted items appearing in this week's Bluesheet that will probably be ripe for change once dealers have the time to sort out their auction and Suburban Baltimore-Washington Show results.

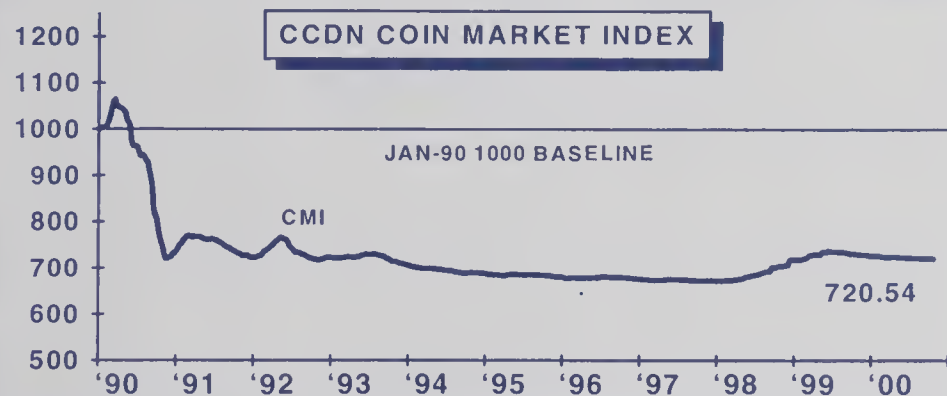

On the plus side, many areas of the sight-unseen market are continuing their strong demand with stable prices and a few surprising increases. The Mercury Dime series is a case in point. At least one dealer is Bidding "crazy money" for several late date Dimes. Look at 1942-S in PCGS MS66FB, now Bid at $172 up from $120, a tremendous 43 percent jump. Or the 1944 in PCGS MS65FB now Bid $60 up from a mere $25. Those are just a couple of examples from a number of large jumps in Bid that have occurred over the last couple weeks. With this being the fourth week in the month the Market column is included next to the Bid. An explanation of the code letters can be found at the top of page 2a. This information may provide some insight into certain market anomalies.

Type is one of the areas that is receiving strong supporting Bids, increased Bids and a little discounting. Overall, dealers continue to service their customer's needs. When they seize an opportunity such as a bargain purchase, the coin may be offered to several of their best customers. Dealer Bids are running very strong for many Mint State and Proof Type of Copper, Nickel and Silver compositions. Active sight-unseen Bidding continues to hold most prices at current levels. However, there are some dealers attempting to buy coins by increasing their Bid. Just being the highest Bidder is no great honor if your true goal is to own the coin. Eventually, increased Bids translate into increased transactions. Circulated Type is equally as strong. Dealers are actively Bidding for this material in quantity. Many new collectors begin by buying Good and better examples of our retired coinage and obsolete denominations. Collector favorites such as Flying Eagle and Indian Cents can grow a beginner into a full fledged rare coin collector.

Silver Commemoratives are also the target of some discounting. Some MS65 thru MS67 grades were hit. However, demand has increased for 1946 Iowa Centennial issues forcing plus signs to appear for coins in MS65 and better condition. Gold Commems are rather quiet this week. Still, the demand for these issues is well known, with coins being snapped-up by dealers when they become available.

The action in this week's Morgan Dollar chart is quite similar to the Type markets. Discounting has occurred in some high quality dates. Yet, we know that dealers are quickly placing these issues with customers working on Mint State Dollar sets. There are a number of plus signs on the Morgan chart as well. Interest for dates from 1899 thru 1903-O is evident. Uncirculated examples are needed from MS61 thru MS66. The 1903-O is scarce in all Mint State grades. Collectors will usually acquire an example because of its rarity. Also, they are very willing to upgrade when they can because of the small price difference between some of the Mint State grades. Dealers continue to accumulate the first year of the series. The 1878 varieties are a popular item with collectors. Dealers recognize this while posting their Bids. Peace Dollars are rather quiet although some MS65 common dates have declined along with some discounting.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading information and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guarantee that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month (1 month old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month (1 month old); "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

It is not surprising that persons new to collecting coins will consider a shiny example to be more appealing than one that appears aged. I suppose we all hurried to first coin acquisitions before placing them in our Whitman folders but time and experience soon taught us that this is not the thing to do with coins. Why do collectors still resist toned coins? So then such pieces are so revered by experienced collectors?

believe the answer lies in the fact that some collectors and dealers perceive tuning as a form of damage. Also, many are unable to distinguish original tuning from so-called artificial tuning and that include both suspicious and clear tuning. A variety of reasons. Sometimes it's simply to make the piece more attractive looking but there are times when it is done to conceal harsh cleaning or to do so such as hairline scratches or repairs. The unknowingly acquiring these deceptive pieces tends to be behind the resistance many collectors and dealers toward tuning.

While the mere certification makes the difference between subjective and objective, the significance of a coin's color can be subjective. The experts at the various grading services usually know the difference between a naturally toned original coin and one that has been altered in any way. Believe me, when it comes to "doctored" coins, we've been nearly everywhere and seen just about everything. We've seen nearly every type of thing and that has only reinforced our appreciation of the value of original pieces. While emphasizing the value of such coins for all collectors, no one is saying that you should buy them from the insurance they offer and sell them on their own. It's certainly better than a limited experience to determine the value of a coin by a shady party.

Buffalo Nickels, Peace Dollars Attract Bidders Dealers Prepare For Santa Clara

The sight-unseen market is rather healthy as we begin November. Dealers continue to post supporting sight-unseen Bids for select dates comprising many series and denominations. They are also increasing their Bids when it becomes necessary to boost their chance at obtaining their specific needs. Most dealers left Baltimore last week with a measure of satisfaction from their show results. Several dealers were able to buy coins that they needed. Baltimore also typified the resiliency of the market, in that it was able to bounce back after a slow start. The show also reinforced the continued demand for Type, Commems and Dollars.

However, increases this week on the electronic dealer networks point to a demand that is still left unsatisfied. Now, dealers are willing to post even stronger Bids, increasing their efforts to buy additional rare coins. With the upcoming Santa Clara show being the next big stop for many dealers, optimism is present and the attitude about the coin market is upbeat. The Santa Clara Coin, Stamp & Sportscard Show is scheduled for November 16-19 in California.

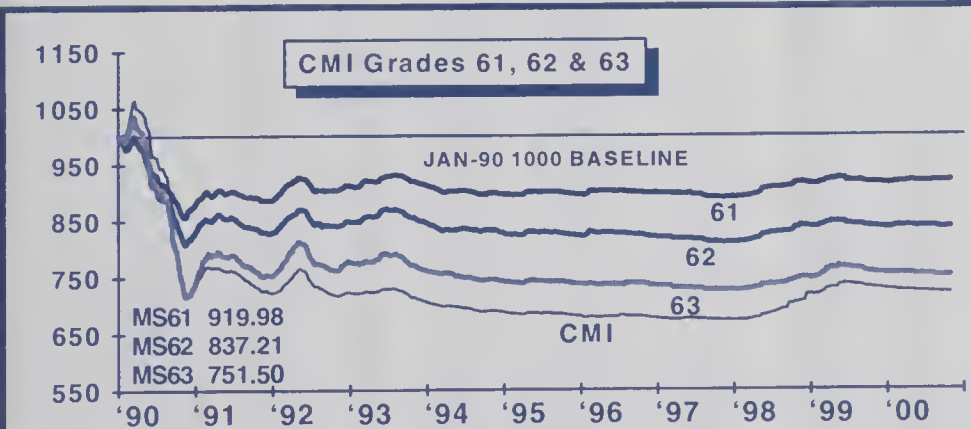

Meanwhile, the sight-unseen market has had a good week. Peace Dollars sprang to life, as you can see by our chart. Interest is seen by several dealers Bidding on many dates in the short series. Yes, the increases are rather slight but the market direction and demand is unmistakable. Peace Dollars have been a favorite with collectors but always had to play second fiddle behind the more popular Morgan Dollars. We have seen similar interest this year as Morgans grabbed more than their fair share of the headlines. Plus signs are also found this week among Morgans, continuing with the strong demand that has existed for quite some time now. Still, it is weeks like this one that reminds us that collectors enjoy collecting and putting together sets of Peace Dollars as well Morgans. The size of the series and the few number of major rarities affords collectors the opportunity and potential to complete a set. However, in gem condition, all bets are off as one is sure to encounter many difficult to find and expensive dates. According to the columns representing dealer Bids, the bulk of the demand is focused on Peace Dollars grading MS61 thru MS64. Although, we do see several plus signs for select MS65 examples. Still, these clues point to sets being formulated that are more easily in financial reach of most new collectors.

Buffalo Nickels are alive and well this week. The Buffalo Nickels series has always had tremendous appeal due to its very American design. Buffalo Nickels may even become more popular due to the recent announcement of a future Commemorative bearing the same design. Still, the number of semi-key and key dates are very challenging to the new collector. Plus signs are appearing for select dates in MS65 and MS66 condition. Buffalo Nickels are few and far between in this level of preservation. Note the increases in the PCGS MS66 grade for the dates 1913-S Type 2, 1915-D, 1918 and 1918-D. Despite the four figure price tags, demand is evident for these rather rare and expensive Nickels.

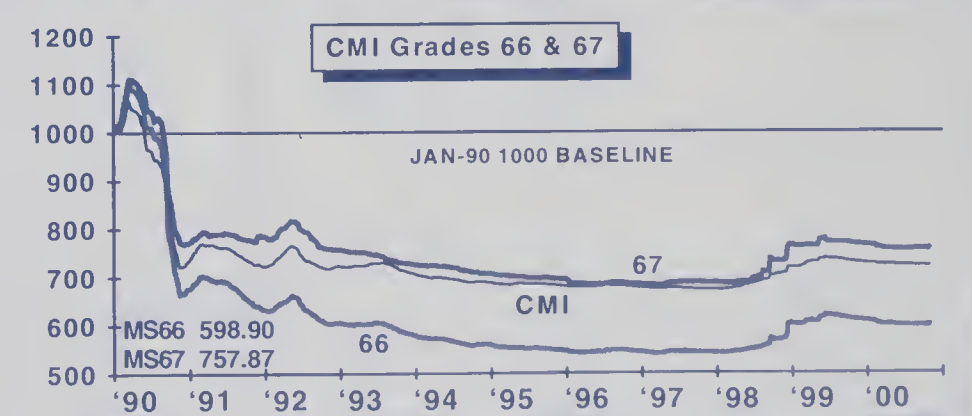

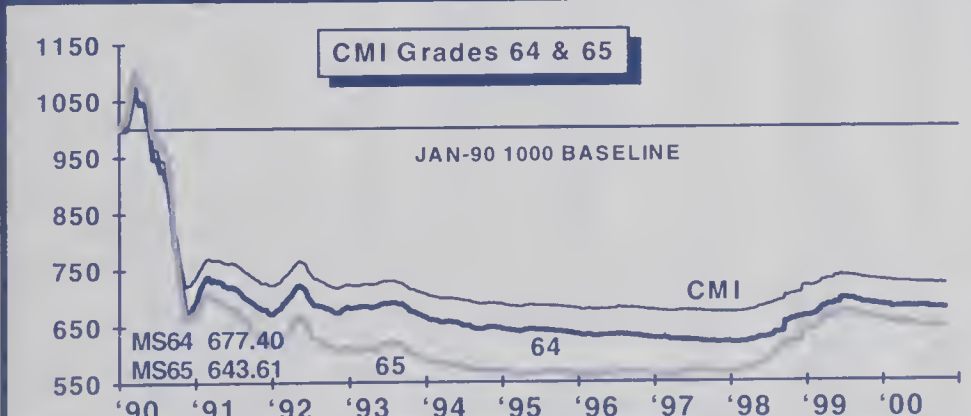

Interest for select expensive coins is nothing new to the rare coin market. Recent strong auction prices for the 1919-D Mercury Dime along with other key dates is now history. However, these new valuations have caused dealers to rethink their sight-unseen Bids for a few of these rarities. Namely, the 1919-D, 1942/41 and the 1942/41-D. The increases are a direct result of the strong demand for these key dates in high grade. Walking Liberty Half Dollars are receiving interest for select late dates of the series in MS66 and MS67 condition. We do note a few minus signs as well. Overall, dealers are more than willing to pay current prices for many dates in this popular series. Proof Type and Mint State Type are very healthy. Type remains among the strongest segments of the rare coin market.

The Robert W. Schwan Collection by Bowers and Merena was held in conjunction with the Suburban Washington-Baltimore show on October 26-27. It realized more than $2.2 million. We listed a few of the certified highlights.

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Consistent with sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Bids for Lincoln Cents are for full-red specimens in PR64 and higher.

Plus Signs Overshadow Mixed Market A Spark For Proof Gold

As with the national election this week the market for sight-unseen rare coins is rather mixed. Dealers have become very selective, Bidding primarily according to their current needs. Servicing customer want lists and adding life to their inventory is a high priority for many dealers. We do see that select areas of the market are doing rather well. Dealers are hoping that by increasing their Bids, even slightly, may lead to a coin or two. While some areas are experiencing strong demand, others are still being discounted. Dealers are keenly aware of the importance in keeping their inventories fresh and interesting. Coins that remain in inventory for a prolonged period of time with little or no interest from their immediate mailing list or advertisements become prime candidates for a drop in price. Sometimes dealers choose to "blow-out" these coins even if it means taking a loss. Some dealers keep their inventory active and exciting by buying major or important rarities to attract attention to their other material. Whatever it takes to generate the excitement necessary for rapid turnover is often tried until all of the possibilities have been exhausted. Coin shows are an avenue that allow dealers to turnover coins from their inventory very quickly. They enjoy not having to invoice, package, insure and mail coins. When these coins are offered at a coin show, the savings in mailing costs makes it easier to complete transactions. The upcoming Santa Clara, CA show scheduled for November 16-19 will allow dealers to do some quick business. At the same time, many dealers use this west coast show for a mini vacation, taking advantage of the mild temperatures that is expected at this time of year.

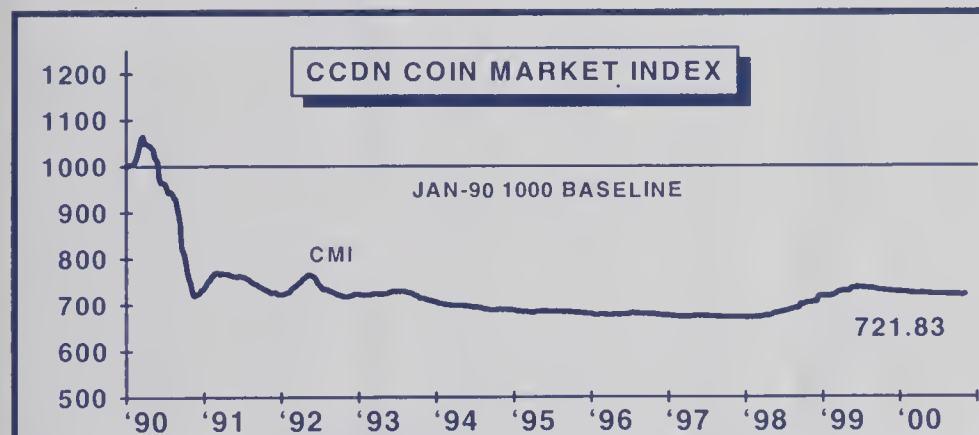

Classic Silver Commemoratives are displaying a decent amount of plus signs this week. Our Commemorative chart indicates demand is seeking both NGC and PCGS Commems. The Silver Commem series is quite large and we see that interest is scattered throughout the long series. Dealers are actively looking to buy Isabella Quarters and the Lafayette Dollars. These coins are needed in the lower, more affordable Mint State grades from MS61 thru MS64. Dealers know that collectors of the Commem series enjoy owning the odd Quarter and Dollar denomination. They are a necessary part of the set along with all those Half Dollars. Another Commem increasing in popularity is the 1928 Hawaiian Sesquicentennial Half Dollar. Plus signs are appearing for Uncirculated examples up to MS64. Above this grade, it takes a serious collector to be able to afford one at this level. Generally, plus signs are evident for many issues, including some at the MS67 grade. Although you do not see any immediate activity taking place for Gold Commems by way of plus signs, know that interest definitely exists. Demand for Gold issues remains very strong.

The sight-unseen market is very healthy when we examine the Mint State and Proof Type segments. The plus signs found on our charts only tell part of the story. There are numerous dealers placing very strong supporting Bids throughout the Mint State and Proof Type areas. Dealers are actively pursuing Type coins for their inventory and customers. They know that Type is the bread-and-butter of dealing rare coins and they do not mind having them sit in their inventory. Dealers believe that the current demand for Type appears strong enough to cancel any worries or concerns.

Looking at several of the popular series we see that Buffalo Nickels is sporting some plus signs. However, Mercury Dimes has been hit by a round of discounting. The recent strong auction prices realized for a couple of Mercury Dime collections has possibly forced more supply on the market. In any event, collectors/investors are relishing the attractive prices for nice quality Dimes.

Walking Liberty Half Dollars are mixed this week. Some discounting has given way to several increased Bids. In all, interest for Walkers is very evident. Similarly, dealers are actively Bidding higher for select Morgan Dollars. The strong collector base for Morgans allows dealers to Bid with confidence. Discounting is taking place for common date MS65 Peace Dollars. A group of these was offered on the market this week at lower prices. Four Dollar Stellas are enjoying a round of higher sight-unseen Bids with this report. These beautiful Proof gems are needed in any grade from PR61 thru PR65.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PCGS DMPL and NGC DPL Bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. Bids for PCGS PL and NGC PL dollars will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet) Bids have always represented fully, deep mirror prooflike specimens.

- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

YOU'LL BE HAPPY TO KNOW THAT THERE IS A LOT OF CASH IN
SPECTRUM NUMISMATICS!

Spectrum Numismatics, one of the largest buyers of rare coins in this country, desperately needs your coins. Whether it's an 1804 Dollar, or a $30 common date Morgan Dollar. Spectrum desperately needs to buy all of your coins. The King of Cash must spend over one million dollars per week to satisfy its coin hungry clients. In fact, lately, there have been many days when Spectrum's customers have purchased more than half a million dollars worth of coins in a single day! The King of Cash has no choice. Spectrum must buy your coins or lose its customers. That's why Spectrum can treat you like no other coin company can. That's why you can sell your coins to the King of Cash and then smile all the way to the bank.

HERE'S WHAT YOU WILL GET FROM THE KING OF CASH

Every time you sell coins to Spectrum Numismatics, you can be sure you will receive the following:

1. The absolute highest possible price for your coins. Spectrum must buy your coins to keep its clients satisfied. Nobody pays more than the King of Cash!
2. Immediate payment. Spectrum Numismatics is one of the best financed rare coin companies in history. The King of Cash can pay you on the spot, wire your bank, or Federal Express you a check.
3. Spectrum wants to buy your uncirculated pre-1950 coins. That's why our name is Spectrum, we buy it all. Spectrum's diverse mix of world-class numismatists are experts in all types of coins.
4. If you bump into a deal and don't want to get involved, you can still make money by helping Spectrum purchase the deal. We pay extremely generous finder's fees to everyone who helps us buy coins. In 1998, Spectrum paid $3,129,104 in finder's fees and commissions!

DO IT FOR THE MONEY!

Gold Type Up, Gold Bullion Down Choppy Market Has Its Strong Points

The sight-unseen market continues to be on the choppy side. On a positive note, interest has picked-up for Mint State Type Gold this week. This is occurring after many months of weakness and lackluster trading in the Gold market. We see that dealers are going against the spot Bullion grain by posting some higher Bids. They are looking for select Brilliant Uncirculated Gold Type grading MS65 and MS66. Increases are seen for $1 Indian Head Type III, $2.50 Liberty, $2.50 Indian and $5 Liberty with Motto. Increases are also taking place on our Saint-Gaudens chart. We do point out that some minus signs appear as well, though the drops are very slight. The increased Bids are especially noteworthy as they are looking to buy Gold sight-unseen at these higher levels. There becomes a point at which buyers believe prices to be too attractive. For some dealers this point may be at hand. Others are not as sure and opt to wait for the market to signal a broader change before buying. As of this writing, spot bullion prices remain under pressure with Gold trading at $265 an ounce while Silver has dropped slightly below the $4.70 plateau. Analysts are quick to point to the containment of the inflation rate as a reason for the weakness. Indeed, inflation has been kept to a minimum for some time now. Still, things can change quickly and dealers must be ready to meet the demand when it does change.

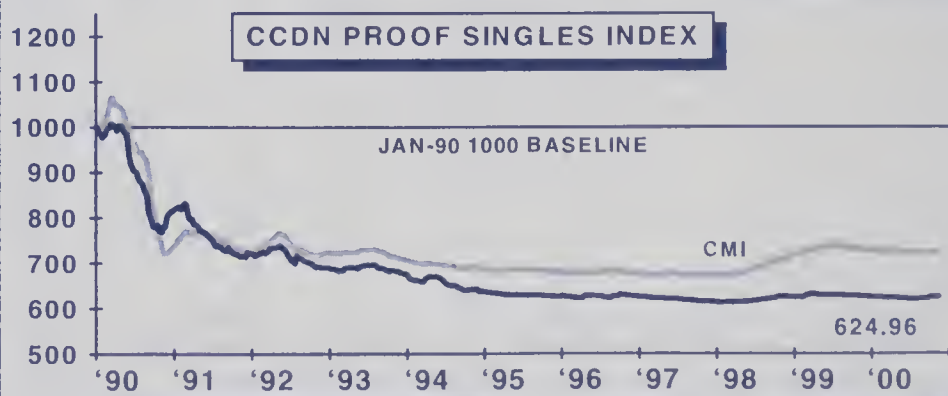

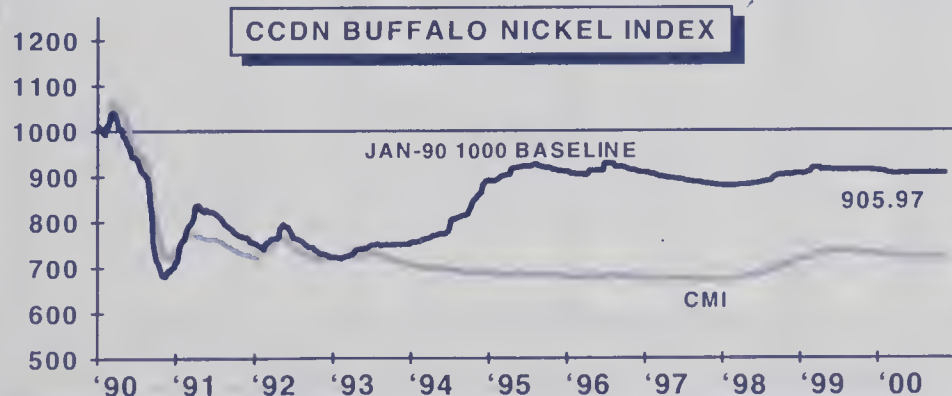

A few dealers that we spoke to say that the current market appears rather sluggish. This belief, by some, may be more understandable when you consider the fast pace the market set in September and October. Auctions and shows dominated the calendar. Consequently the market may have been ripe for a slow down period. Despite these sentiments, expectations remain strong during the November 16-18 Santa Clara Show already in progress. This California show is welcome for dealers hoping to find a few special needs for their customers before the holidays.

Meanwhile, business by retail shops across the country continue to achieve reasonably adequate sales on a daily basis. The collector base is an important factor, the initial rush in new collectors has slowed. Some indicate that the election results or inconclusive results have added a degree of uncertainty to the market. However, other dealers say that demand from collectors remains strong enough to keep the market near current levels. They say that many collectors continue to show interest in rare coins. These sophisticated collector/investors are carefully and prudently buying select coins for their portfolios. Dealers are not only their suppliers but advisors as well. Selectivity is an important aspect of this market as there is much to choose. Dealers try to narrow their focus so that buyers can better manage their numismatic needs.

Mixed signals are seen in the classic Silver Commemoratives series. Discounting is occurring for some issues while plus signs are found for others on both the PCGS and NGC charts. Overall, there is a lot of interest and demand for these popular early Commemoratives. Note the strong demand for 1936 Bridgeport, Connecticut; 1925-S California Diamond Jubilee; and, the Pilgrim Tercentenary issues. Gold Commems are still heavily sought-after by a number of dealers. In one case, the $2.50 Panama-Pacific Exposition is needed in quantity in MS65 condition. This dealer is not expecting Christmas to come early but he is hoping that one or more come his way. Similar mixed results are taking place among Morgan and Peace Dollars. We see that plus signs now share the chart along with some minus signs. Morgans Dollars are currently stronger than Peace Dollars. Carson City and the 1878 varieties continue to impress Bidders. Plus signs are seen for several of these issues. Proof Type is displaying some discounting although many supporting Bids by dealers exist. Mint State Type is holding firm at current levels.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The virtue of toned coins

Mark Stiburg

The most hotly debated topic in the numismatic community is the issue of toning on coins. It seems that every time a letter to the editor is received, it is immediately followed by a response from the community.

One market factor favoring the use of "white" coins is the fact that old coins, particularly those with various degrees of toning, are often more difficult to sell than those that are "white." This is a fact that is already apparent to the collector who should learn to live with it.

In other areas of collectibles, the value of natural toning, or patina, is widely understood. In fact, experts in antique furniture frequently extol the value of such original patina, and it often adds to the value of the object. Even collectors of toy trains or mechanical banks will agree that the original surfaces of a collectible item, no matter what its condition, are more desirable than any skilled attempt to replicate its appearance when new.

It is not surprising that persons new to collecting coins will consider a shiny example to be more appealing than one that appears aged. I suppose we all buy our first coin acquisitions before placing them in our Whitman folders, but time and experience soon teach us that this is not the thing to do with coins. So then why do collectors still resist toned coins even when such pieces are so revered by experienced numismatists?

I believe the answer lies in the fact that it is somewhat difficult for collectors and dealers to perceive toning as a form of original toning from so-called artificial toning. And that induces both suspicion and fear. Yes, people do create toning on otherwise white coins for a variety of reasons. Sometimes, it is simply to make the piece more natural looking. But there are also times when it is done to conceal harsh cleaning or flaws in the coin such as hairline scratches or repairs. The fear of unknowingly acquiring these deceptive pieces seems to lie behind the resistance many collectors and dealers have toward toned coins.

That is where certification makes the difference. While the originality of a coin's color can be subjective, the experts at the various grading services usually know the difference between a naturally toned, original coin and one that has been altered in any way. Believe me, when it comes to "doctored" coins, we've seen nearly everything, and that has only reinforced our appreciation of nice, original pieces. While one might say you can't buy such coins for the assurance they offer, simply remove them from their holders. It's certainly better to have to rely on limited experience to determine whether a coin has a shady past.

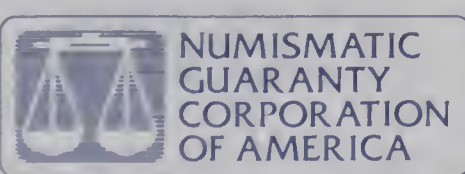

While a coin that has very dark or otherwise unattractive toning may actually be improved by a skillful chemical dipping to remove the unsightly tarnish, many pieces are harmed through improper dipping. This is especially true when the work is being

"Just a quick note to compliment you on the excellent article as submitted to CDN. As a coin dealer I am viewed as a somewhat biased individual when it comes to toning. However, it's different when the head of a grading service shares his views. While most experienced dealers or collectors appreciate the virtues of beautifully toned coins, many novices are stymied by the lack of information available in print. Your article does a service to original coins and to the industry in general."

"Every day at least one customer asks my opinion of the grading services. As you know, I am brutally up-front about everything life throws at us. In short, I rate the grading services on an "A to F scale". I give NGC a Rainbow toned A!

"I consider NGC to be the most accountable grading firm. You stand behind your product, you freely and publicly admit mistakes and you deal with issues that others shun. Simply stated, NGC represents the industry's leading grading service. Just keep an open mind and maintain your vision."

Sight-Unseen Market Gaining Interest Type Commands Attention

The sight-unseen market is holding fairly steady at current levels. Interest in many series remains strong as a multiple number of dealers are seen offering sight-unseen Bids on the electronic dealer networks. They know that many new collectors are actively participating by building sets of one kind or another. Also, the solid collector base is made up of long time collector/investors that regularly buy coins for their collection. Of course, dealers are committed to assisting their customers by trying to locate those difficult key and semi-key dates. Sometimes it is just prudent advice that helps a collector achieve his or her goal. There are no hard fast rules for collecting and individuals must decide the degree of difficulty for completing a goal. By Bidding sight-unseen on a regular basis, dealers are hoping to buy a coin or two for their customers. They also are looking to have fresh material in their inventory. This type of activity in the market is common and is seen as a healthy sign.

Looking at the Proof Type and Mint State Type markets, we see many instances where the number of supporting Bids has increased. As Bidders compete for coins, this demand may push prices to higher levels. Flowing Hair and Draped Bust Dollars are two areas of the market where demand has forced higher Bids. This has occurred for Uncirculated Flowing Hair and Draped Bust Dollars. Dealers have customers for this early material, but unfortunately the supply of available dates is not easily found. Consequently, dealers continue to post strong Bids for these Dollars. Trade Dollars are also receiving solid sight-unseen supporting Bids. Interest for these Silver Dollars is seen in grades from MS62 thru MS65.

Barber Dimes, Quarters and Half Dollars receive strong supporting Bids on a daily basis. Demand is strongest in grades from MS61 thru MS65. This material is very popular with collector/investors that desire coinage from the turn of the 20th century. Barbers remain popular because of their availability and affordability. Some plus signs are seen for Shield and Liberty Nickel Type coins. Many of these dates are much tougher to locate in Mint State than in Proof.

Recent auctions along with dealer discounting are reasons for some minus signs found among select Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes. Take a look at the market column for clues as to what is happening here. Dealers are always looking to find a bargain in these two series due to their extreme popularity with collectors. In the Buffalo series, we see weakness in 1913-S Type 1, 1913-D Type 2, 1917-D, 1918, 1926, 1926-D, 1929-D and 1930-S. Mercury Dime minus signs are appearing for select MS66FB and better dates after 1934. Discounting is also taking place among the Silver Commemorative series. In this long series, the MS65 grade seems to be the one suffering the most.

Walking Liberty Half Dollars are receiving strong Bids forcing some plus signs in this series. We see many increases in late date issues from 1941 thru 1946. Primarily MS66 is the grade of choice. Dealers want NGC or PCGS graded Halves in this superior Mint State grade.

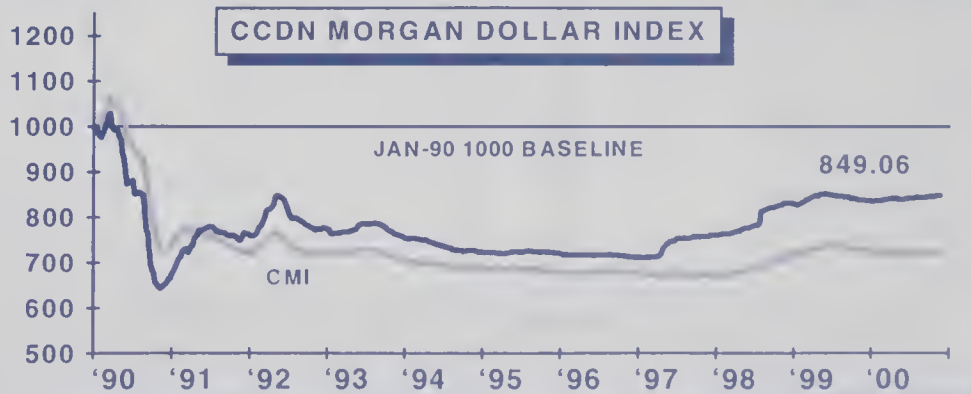

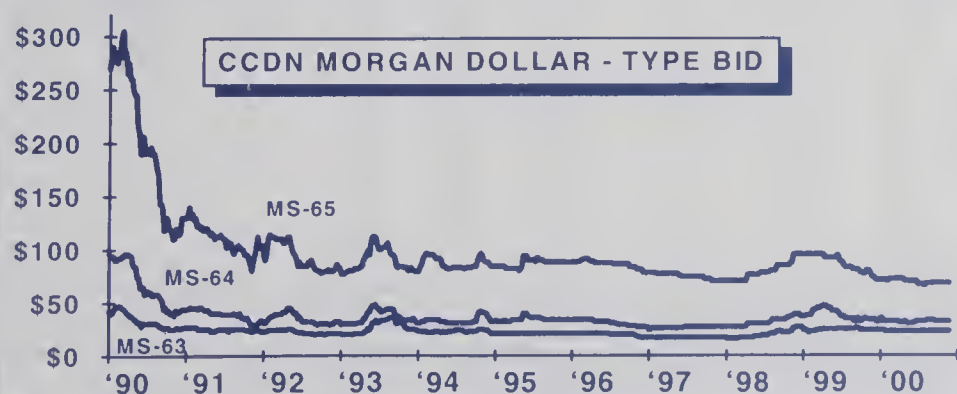

Morgan Dollars are relatively quiet this week. We do observe many dealers willing to post strong supporting Bids at current levels for many dates. At least one dealer is looking to pay very strong money for select Carson City Dollars. That is why you see a jump in Bid for the 1882-CC in MS63 and MS64. Still, other "CC" dates are increasing as well.

Proof Singles are active with a few plus signs appearing on our chart this week. Dealers are looking to buy Proof Mercury Dimes in grades from PR61 thru PR67. The remainder of the denominations in this category are realizing steady demand and support by dealers.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. sell to can how and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

AN INVITATION TO ALL PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS

California Gold Marketing Group respectfully invites you, as a professional numismatist desiring to become an official member of the SS Central America Ingot Marketing Program, to complete and submit the application listed below.

Membership is open to all professional coin dealers, regardless of the size of your business. Requirements are that each authorized SS Central America associate be a member in good standing of the American Numismatic Association, and to provide three current numismatic references and one bank reference.

Ingot sales will only be made through this network, and are not planned to be expanded after December 31, 2000.

Official members will have the use of SS Central America logos for the duration of our marketing program as well as being featured regularly in our numismatic advertisements.

We are currently planning to release the ingots in 10 phases over 2001 and 2002. Each ingot will have a suggested asking price, which will be published. Associates will then receive a commission, based aggregately upon their total sales over the duration of the program.

Over the span of our sales, interesting highlights from Q. David Bowers new masterpiece book, hundreds of pages illustrated in color, on the California Gold Rush will be serialized in our weekly displays. Each ingot purchased will come with a hand engraved leather bound edition that has authentic SS Central America gold dust displayed in the cover! These copies will not be available for purchase—they only are included with ingots. A popular trade edition will be printed also.

We thank you for all of your support and excitement and look forward to this once in a lifetime event.

Sincerely,

Dwight Manley, Larry Goldberg, Ira Goldberg, Q. David Bowers, John Albanese

The Appeal of Gold Ingots

Although gold ingots were once a familiar and necessary part of Gold Rush commerce, virtually all have disappeared in the generations since the 1850s. Indeed, until the discovery of the S.S. Central America treasure, no ingots of comparable large size were known to exist anywhere, and even small ingots were considered so rare as to be almost unobtainable. For example, the fabulous gold coin collection of the Smithsonian Institution, the California gold cabinet of the late Henry Clifford, and other specialized collections, had just a few small ingots at best.

Now comes an opportunity unmatched in the history of numismatics. Slightly over 400 ingots from five different assaying firms will be coming to market. Each one is unique as to weight, serial number, the degree of purity, imprint, and in many instances the value at the time (1857) in dollars. Each is of gold from the rivers, hills, and mines of the golden state. The few ingots, no more than several dozen, shown with the "Ship of Gold" exhibit created an absolute sensation—as even numismatists of long standing and great expertise had never seen such things. Never before in American numismatics has such an offer been made. And, when it is concluded, we have no indication that any other treasure ship will ever yield even a single similar ingot! In a phrase, the opportunity is unique.

Buffaloes Charge Ahead Balanced Sight-Unseen Market

There is certainly a lot of activity in the sight-unseen market this week. In some cases we see demand targeting specific issues. However, in other areas, discounting continues to be seen, although the amount of discounting taking place has been greatly reduced. We begin with Morgan Dollars because that series arguably receives the most sight-unseen trades week after week on the electronic dealer networks. The strong number of discounted offers seen last week has greatly diminished this week. Actually, strong Bidding has consolidated the whole Morgan Dollar market this week. Dealers are posting supporting Bids for many dates and grades throughout the relatively long series. Carson City issues continue to enjoy strong demand from a solid collector base. Collector demand for Dollars is a given, as dealers try to accommodate their customer needs. Still, there are a few dates that continue to be discounted. Some of the better dates still being discounted include: 1887-S in MS65; 1892-O in MS65; and, 1894-O in MS63. It is important to note that not all better dates in the Morgan series are being discounted.

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of Bidders trying to buy Deep Mirror Prooflike Morgan Dollars. This observation is seen for both NGC and PCGS certified Dollars. Collectors are happy to buy these high quality cartwheels for their collection. Strong money is needed to buy current better date DMPLs such as the 1884 in MS64 and the 1885-CC in MS65. Peace Dollars are receiving steady demand and numerous supporting Bids from dealers. We even see several plus signs on our chart this week.

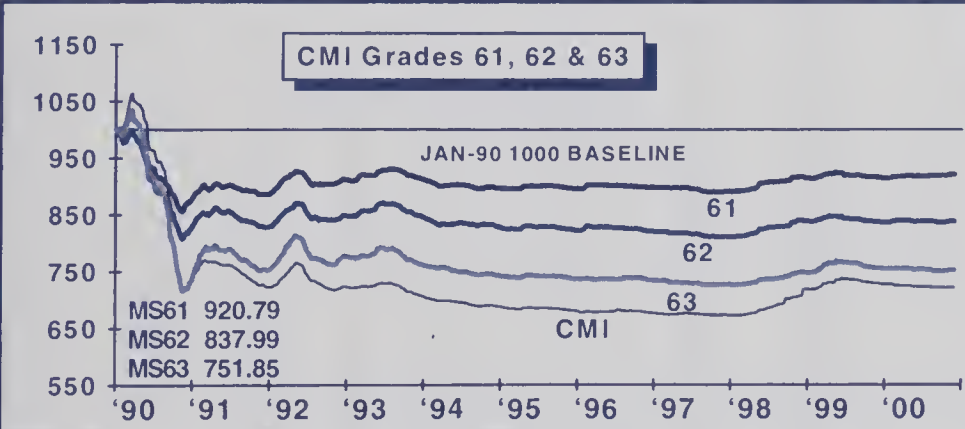

Silver Commemoratives are another series that receives more than its share of sight-unseen activity. This week, some minus signs are appearing throughout the long series. These adjustments come even after seeing noticeably strong Bids for many Commem issues in past months. Dealers continue to reiterate that collector demand for Commems remains very strong. There are many supporting Bids throughout this, and the Gold Commemorative series.

Mint State Type is relatively quiet with trades occurring for many denominations and series at current levels. Collectors continue to pursue Type coins as part of their numismatic budget. Mint State Gold Type is sporting several plus signs this week. Yes, this is not a misprint, we now see some interest for select Gold denominations grading MS65 and MS66. It is not so surprising that dealers are chasing the high graded coins first.

Proof Type is currently receiving stronger demand as dealers post increased Bids for select issues. Interest is noticeable for Shield Nickels with Rays in PR65 and PR66. Other Proof Type issues advancing includes the PR67 3-Cent Nickels and PR67 Liberty Nickels. Buffalo Nickels are shining brightly this week. Bids are plentiful for many dates in this popular 20th century collector series. Interest is seen across-the-board for both NGC and PCGS certified Buffalo Nickels. Plus signs are appearing for select dates from 1913 thru 1927-D. Bidders are mostly targeting the key and semi-key dates. Interest is strong for dates including 1913-S Type 2; 1915-D; 1919-D; 1919-S; 1920-D; 1920-S; 1921-S; 1924-D; 1924-S; 1925-D; 1926-D; 1926-S; 1927-D; and, the key 1937-D 3 Legged variety. Buyers are looking for well struck Buffalo Nickels grading MS64 thru MS66. Obviously it is difficult to locate better date Nickels in these grades. However, dealers are hoping that the increases will shake some loose so they can place a few with customers. Demand for Mint State Buffaloes has carried over to select Proof dates. Plus signs are appearing for late date Buffalo Proofs in Proof 66 and better condition.

Type Results Offer Market Insight Mint State 64 Leads

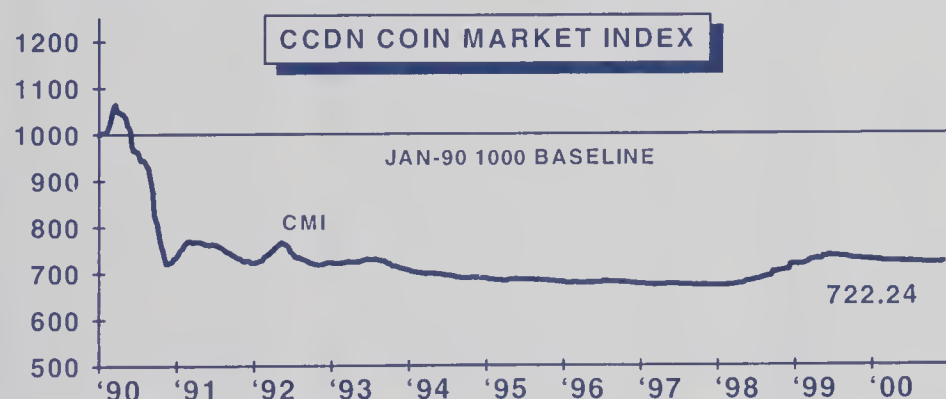

Market activity continues to maintain an even keel with dealers posting numerous sight-unseen Bids for rare coins in need. The market appears to be somewhat mixed as pluses are found along with minus signs. The current numismatic marketplace can be described as a little choppy, as dealers begin to clean out some stale material before the new year begins. They also want to buy specific coins, enabling them to complete some transactions before they close their books on another year.

As we have written throughout the year, 2000 has been good to the Mint State Type market. However for the most part, only Mint State Type grading up to MS64 is feeling the glory. Above MS64, discounting has caused some values to tumble. Type grading MS64 is very popular with today's beginning collector. Financially, it allows one to own many different common dates in many denominations without having to spend a fortune for those coins grading just a point or two higher. The challenge is such that a collector can complete his or her set in a reasonable amount of time and expense. Type sets are excellent educational collections, in that each Type and design has a story about our country's development. Think how many citizens do not even know that our Mint struck Half Cents or 3-Cent Copper-Nickel pieces. Often, it is a Type set that gives the collecting nudge to someone not in the hobby. The attractiveness of a particular design or denomination may be the catalyst.

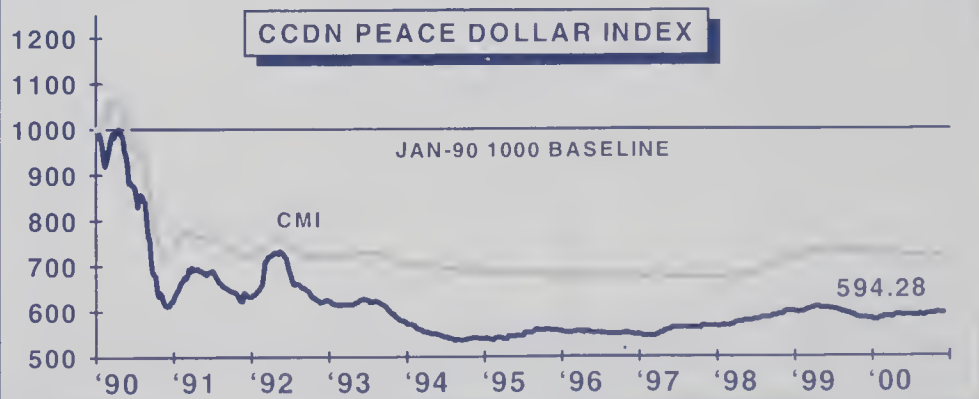

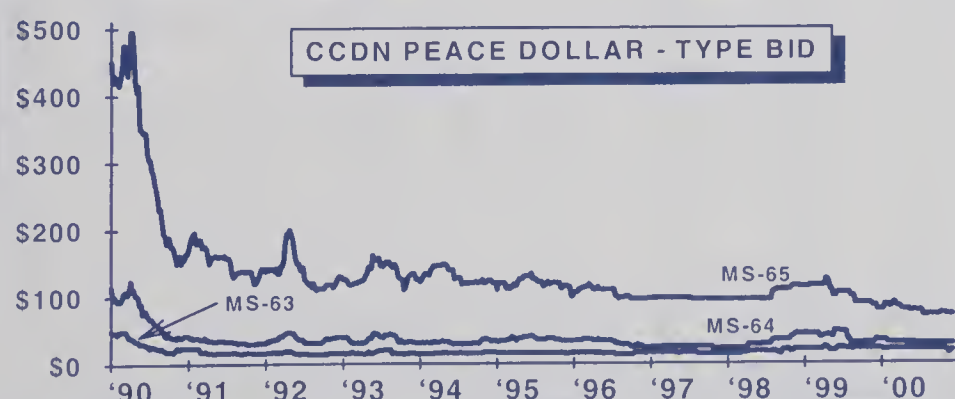

Looking at the chart to the right, it appears that the majority of interest is focused on coins grading MS64. The importance of this has to do with the cost per coin. New collectors feel most comfortable buying coins below $1,000. Type coins that sell above four figures are among the biggest laggards on the market. The Reeded Edge Half Dollar may be the sole exception, appearing in the leader chart with a Bid of $2,700. This may be because of the extreme popularity of the Capped Bust Halves coupled with the short life of the Reeded Edge examples. 1883 No-Cents Liberty Nickels have performed quite well this year. They appear among the top-10 three times with interest targeting those grading MS64, MS65 and MS66. We see that common, late date Braided Hair Large Cents scored the largest increase — up 25%. Although MS64 Brown Large Cents are trading at $250 they are still affordable to most collectors. Interestingly, MS65 Red & Brown Braided Hair Large Cents are among the laggards. Conversely, the Draped Bust Large Cent grading MS67RB suffered the greatest loss.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

Where have all the plus signs gone in the Morgan Dollar series? This numismatic bellwether series is an important indicator of the health of the rare coin market. The sight-unseen market has cooled for these cartwheels. Even though Bids are not being raised, we still see many dealers posting supporting Bids for many issues in this long running series. Further, we know that the strong collector base supports the Dollar series by their continued interest. Yet, the Morgan Dollar series is an indicator that suggests that the market is slowing. The Mint State Type chart finds itself in a similar position as the Morgan Dollars. Plus signs appear significantly less often as of late than we have seen throughout 2000. Still, interest is definitely evident for select areas and weaker for other areas as we alluded to in last week's issue.

It's not all bad news, there are some plus signs to be found this week in the sight-unseen market. Of course not all areas of this market are rosy, but it does have pockets of strength that need to be highlighted. Proof Type, Proof Singles, Silver and Gold Commemoratives, Buffalo Nickels and Walking Liberty Half Dollars are all solid performers this week. Dealers are actively Bidding for select dates and denominations from these issues. Proof Type has a small group of plus signs targeting Nickels. Increases are seen for PR63 and PR67 3-Cent Copper-Nickels. It is interesting that the demand is looking for only very average grade 3-Cent pieces or the extremely high quality examples. These two grades are believed to be undervalued or a ready buyer exists, trying to fill a specific want list need. Similar activity exists for the Shield and Liberty Nickel series. Increases are seen for PR63 Shield Nickels, Shield Nickels with Rays and Liberty, No Cent Nickels. Demand has also forced Bids higher for Shield Nickels with Rays, Shield Nickels and Liberty Nickels of the highest quality. The grade of choice is Proof 65 and higher for these issues. Other Proof Type increases are seen for Red Indian Head Cents in PR66; 20-Cent pieces in PR63 and PR64; Liberty Seated Quarters, with Motto in PR65; and, Liberty Seated Half Dollars, No Motto in PR64. These increases point to a strong collector market for Proof Type. Several of these coins are in the affordability category for many collectors. These are bread-and-butter coins that are an important consideration when updating and adding to your inventory.

Buffalo Nickels are also displaying a number of plus signs this week. In keeping with the strong action for Nickels, dealers have increased Bid for select dates. The target grades include MS64 thru MS66. A few common dates are higher although a 1923 or 1924 is not readily available above MS65. The increase to $6,250 for the 1926-S in MS64 is entirely understandable when you consider the jump in price to $28,000 Bid just one grade higher.

Proof Singles are doing fairly well. Unlike Buffalo Nickels and Proof Type the interest is more widespread throughout the denominations. Buyers are mainly targeting the PR64 and better grades. Mercury Dime Proofs are especially in demand. As we have stated in the Greysheet, demand is strong for Walking Liberty Half Dollars. Several plus signs are appearing for select early dates of the series in grades from MS63 thru MS65.

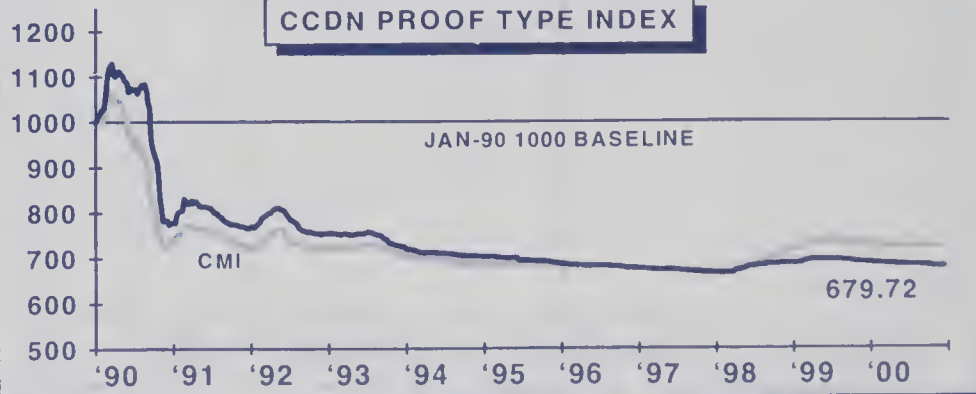

The strongest segments of the current sight-unseen market are the Silver and Gold Commemoratives. Dealers are actively increasing Bid for a number of issues. They are getting increasingly more frustrated in the lack of offerings despite their increases. Consequently they are at it again posting further increases for select Commems.

Stack's held their 65th Anniversary U.S. Gold, Silver and Copper Coins sale December 6 in New York. The auction featured selections from the Toledo Museum of Art. The sale realized $1.368 million. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

"This is the book about the coin business you can't afford to be without." -Hank Gilman, business
editor, NEWSWEEK

"Should be read before a single coin is bought - and read again and again!" - Coin World

UNPRECEDENTED FIVE-TIME NUMISMATIC LITERARY GUILD AWARD WINNER

Traditionally, learning a lesson in the rare coin market has been very expensive. You would buy a coin for $500, find out later that it was worth only $50, and, thus, you would have to pay $450 to learn just one lesson. But now, thanks to the revised third edition of The Coin Collector's Survival Manual, by Scott A. Travers, you no longer have to pay a fortune to learn about how to buy and sell coins profitably.

This thoroughly revised edition examines the coin field from an insider's perspective and continues to break new ground in revealing the ins and outs of coin collecting and investing. Excellent photographs and detailed charts amplify the encyclopedic, clearly written, meticulously organized text. You'll learn about the following:

- How to look at coins the way the professionals do
- How to determine what a coin is worth and what grade the leading certification services would assign to it
- How to spot slight friction on otherwise "Gem" coins
- How to tell the difference between proof and prooflike
- How lighting affects appearance
- Altered and counterfeit detection techniques
- How to judge price guide accuracy
- Selecting and testing a coin dealer
- How not to get ripped of if you buy coins through the mail
- Profitable - and not-so-profitable - liquidation techniques
- How to buy and sell at conventions like the pros do
- How to spot a cleaned and artificially toned coin
- How to choose a non-destructive coin holder and the storage method right for you.

SPECIAL SECTIONS ON:

- Doctored coins, how to detect them, and the case of the doctored hoard of gold rarities that got slabbed
- The real truth about slab services and "fixed grading standard" claims
- Premium quality coins (then and now)
- Startling revelations from a leading coin trader
- A grading service founder's bombshell admission of modified standards
- The newest tax laws

NEW information in the revised edition covers:

- Cool coin internet web sites
- Requirements of the new FTC telemarketing act
- The real facts behind the toning corrosion controversy

and much, much more!

Mixed Sight-Unseen Market At Year End Happy Holidays – Last Issue for 2000

This is the last issue of the Certified Coin Dealer newsletter for 2000. The next issue will be dated January 5, 2001. The CDN family of publications wishes all of our subscribers and their families a safe and joyous holiday season.

As we close out the year we continue to find selective discounting occurring in the sight-unseen rare coin market. This discounting has been taking place with greater frequency towards the latter half of 2000. Morgan Dollars are among the victims this week. Morgan Dollars are certainly one of the most popular collected series. Consequently, it is not uncommon for dealers to stock many examples from this long series in inventory. At the end of each calendar year, dealers look to unload coins that have remained in their inventory for too long a period of time. These coins have been seen by their regular customers, direct mailing list as well as at local coin shows. Since coins that become stale in inventory are essentially dead money, dealers look to blow them out in order to free up some cash for new purchases. Dealers always try to keep their inventory stocked with fresh material. Interest is peaked by their customers who are able to review new opportunities. Lowering the price of a coin, even to a level that is below a dealer's cost, is the quickest way to send stale coins packing. Along with Morgan Dollars many other areas of the market have also been the target of some discounting. Mercury Dimes are weaker with minus signs scattered throughout our chart. Most of the weakness is seen for late date coins grading MS65 and better.

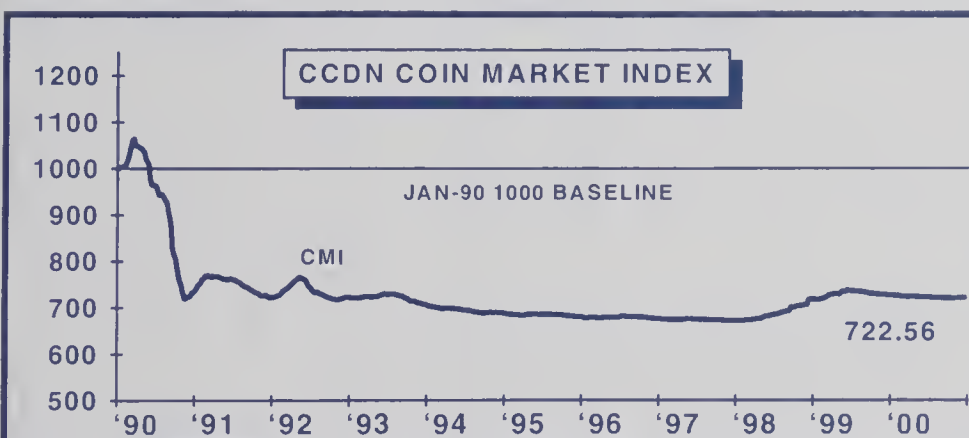

Activity taking place on the electronic dealer networks is concluding 2000 the same way it started the year. The majority of sight-unseen trades occurring are for Morgan Dollars, Peace Dollars, Mint State Type, Proof Type, Mint State Gold Type, Classic Silver Commemoratives, and Buffalo Nickels. These coins continue to be traded sight-unseen on a daily basis.

Most of the sight-unseen transactions take place for coins Bid in the $25-$2,000 range. However, we have witnessed sight-unseen transactions in the six figure area.

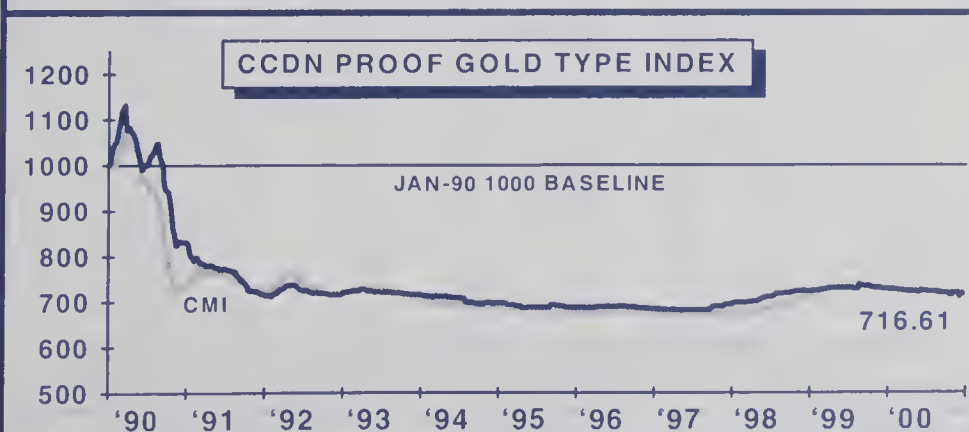

Buffalo Nickels have been rather impressive over the last several months. Sight-unseen Bids are inching higher with nearly every issue recently. Dealers are looking to buy several dates for inventory and to meet customer demands. This week we see that MS65 is the grade of choice as dealer's post increased Bids for the early and middle dates of this extremely popular series. Mint State 65 and higher graded Buffaloes are tough to find. Interestingly for the most part, demand is targeting coins that Bid from $500 on up to $12,000 plus. It may be evident that a high-grade set is in the works by a well-heeled collector and/or investor. Some of the key and semi-key dates needed in MS65 or better include 1919-D, 1919-S, 1920-D, 1920-S, 1921, 1921-S, 1924, 1924-D, 1924-S, 1925-S, 1926-D and 1927-D. Dealers are aware of the difficulty in locating these tough dates in gem condition. Obviously, they hope that these increases may stir the pot enough to be able to scoop out some of those keys.

Walking Liberty Half Dollars has displaying increased activity and Bids as well. With the Walkers it is the middle dates of the series that are attracting the bulk of higher Bids. Interest is strongest for dates from 1934 thru 1940. Dealers are looking to buy MS63 thru MS66 quality for select dates in this category. As our chart indicates, a large number of plus signs are appearing in the MS63 and MS66 grade columns. In the case of Walking Liberty Half Dollars, demand is strongest for coins Bid below $1,000. There are a few minus signs as well but they are definitely overshadowed by the larger number of plus signs.

Many dealers will be traveling to Orlando to attend the Florida United Numismatists Convention and Show January 4-7, 2001. Dealers will be setting up on January 3rd.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near, or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, well as retail and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
